WASHINGTON, Aug. 14.—Within a short time Secretary of the Treasury Morgenthau plans to begin informal conversations with representatives of the principal foreign governments looking to an international monetary agreement on silver.

The initial discussions are expected to take place between Morgenthau and ambassadors or financial attaches to the principal foreign nations. Great Britain, France, Germany, Belgium, Italy, Russia, Japan and China as well as some of the Latin American countries will be sought by the United States to enter into an international money pact in an effort to develop a real world monetary system of stability.

Bring Stabilization

Officials claim such a program would bring about a stabilization of international trade, regarded as the most important essential in the resumption of commercial relations between the nations of the world.

The domestic silver program has been designed essentially to increase commodity prices. Officials took the view that, could the world silver price be placed on a comparatively even level at fifty cents an ounce or upward there would be a pronounced reaction in the prices of other leading commodities. The gold program was fashioned to produce a similar result. But its effect, however, has been negligible.

Need Agreement

Officials felt that in order to gain a full effect of the silver program an international agreement should be

Ready To Start Probe At Butler County Home

(International News Service)

BUTLER, Pa., Aug. 14.— Mrs. Isabel Pelley, appointed by the State Welfare Department to investigate charges of alleged brutality at the Butler County Poor Farm, was here today preparing to launch her inquiry.

As a result of the charges and demands for a sweeping investigation, Fred C. Herold was dismissed as superintendent of the home. After removing Herold by a unanimous vote, the county commissioners appointed J. C. Barr.

Mrs. Pelley's report will be submitted directly to Mrs. Alice F. Liveright, state secretary of welfare.

After threatening a grand jury investigation of alleged brutalities, District Attorney Edgar H. Negley said the jury probe may not be necessary since Herold's removal.

The former superintendent is at liberty under $1,000 bond pending action of the grand jury on two criminal charges. A. W. Bortmas, 84, and Peter Z. Ross, 63, inmates at the home, accused Herold of brutal treatment.

Fifty Four Stores Offer Dollar Day Bargains Here

This really should be an apology to the men folks of the city. An apology because there were a lot of dinners late Monday evening and all because of the advertisements in The News. That section of Dollar Day specials was the cause of it all and many the housewife got so interested in reading the Dollar Day specials for Wednesday that the soup burned and the three minute eggs went to ten or fifteen.

If it's an apology that is needed this is it, doubled and redoubled in spades. But actually it isn't needed for that inconvenience caused while the madam read the adds is going to save a lot of money for the man of the house. No wonder it took time for time means money and money is something else again.

Fire Destroys 12-Room Home

Dwelling Near Leesburg Is Razed To Ground; Two Families Suffer

(Special To The News)

LEESBURG, Aug. 14.—Fire which originated mysteriously in an upstairs bedroom destroyed the 12-room home occupied jointly by Mr. and Mrs. Barkley Mathieson and family and Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Mathieson and family along the road between Leesburg and No. 2 Mine on Monday afternoon. The fire, discovered at 1:40 p. m., razed the dwelling quickly.

The fire brought almost a total loss to the families. There is no insurance.

Only some of the furniture of Mr. and Mrs. Barkley Mathieson, who lived upstairs, were saved. Newly purchased furniture of the downstairs family was destroyed.

The home is owned by the Sharon Coal and Limestone company.

So rapidly did the fire gain headway that no calls were to the Mercer fire department, the nearest to the home.

There's days when words refuse to come, when one feels dull and very dumb, when mental motors only hum, and need some grease and oil, and then there's days when phrases form, without much effort, sharp and warm, the motors feel the mental storm and radiators boil. Then verses such as this should be, come tripping from the metal key, without much thought of help from me, and others follow through, nor can I tell you what it takes, to give a chap these needed shakes, perhaps its just poetic breaks, the weathers ninety two. Which hardly fits this rhyming scheme, but one must follow out the theme and add a little to the ream of copy he must meet, so readers here's another one, for this effusion's nearly done, and days like these its not much fun, but poets have to eat.

World Silver Agreement Is Desire Of U. S.

Correspondence Made Public Indicates U. S. Ban On Silver Inflation

By ROBERT S. THORNBURGH

WASHINGTON, Aug. 14.—Within a short time Secretary of the Treasury Morgenthau plans to begin informal conversations with representatives of the principal foreign governments looking to an international monetary agreement on silver.

The initial discussions are expected to take place between Morgenthau and ambassadors or financial attaches to the principal foreign nations. Great Britain, France, Germany, Belgium, Italy, Russia, Japan and China as well as some of the Latin American countries will be sought by the United States to enter into an international money pact in an effort to develop a real world monetary system of stability.

Bring Stabilization

Officials claim such a program would bring about a stabilization of international trade, regarded as the most important essential in the resumption of commercial relations between the nations of the world.

The domestic silver program has been designed essentially to increase commodity prices. Officials took the view that could the world silver price be placed on a comparatively even level at fifty cents an ounce or upward there would be a pronounced reaction in the prices of other leading commodities. The gold program was fashioned to produce a similar result. But its effect, however, has been negligible.

Need Agreement

Officials felt that in order to gain a full effect of the silver program an international agreement should be

PA NEWC OBSERVES

The western section of Pennsylvania is rapidly moving out of the red, according to the Detour Bulletin of the Pennsylvania State Highway department, for the week ending August 16. The western half of the state shows few red detour marks, while the eastern section seems to be showing a big increase in them. The road from Polk to the Mercer county line will be oiled this week, while oiling operations will also take place between Darlington and the Ohio state line. Oiling will be done in Wheatland and West Middlesex boroughs, it is stated.

Ready To Start Probe At Butler County Home

(International News Service)

BUTLER, Pa., Aug. 14.— Mrs. Isabel Pelley, appointed by the State Welfare Department to investigate charges of alleged brutality at the Butler County Poor Farm, was here today preparing to launch her inquiry.

As a result of the charges and demands for a sweeping investigation, Fred C. Herold was dismissed as superintendent of the home. After removing Herold by a unanimous vote, the county commissioners appointed J. C. Barr.

Mrs. Pelley's report will be submitted directly to Mrs. Alice F. Liveright, state secretary of welfare.

After threatening a grand jury investigation of alleged brutalities, District Attorney Edgar H. Negley said the jury probe may not be necessary since Herold's removal.

The former superintendent is at liberty under $1,000 bond pending action of the grand jury on two criminal charges. A. W. Bortmas, 84, and Peter Z. Ross, 63, inmates at the home, accused Herold of brutal treatment.

Fifty Four Stores Offer Dollar Day Bargains Here

This really should be an apology to the men folks of the city. An apology because there were a lot of dinners late Monday evening and all because of the advertisements in The News. That section of Dollar Day specials was the cause of it all and many the housewife got so interested in reading the Dollar Day specials for Wednesday that the soup burned and the three minute eggs went to ten or fifteen.

If it's an apology that is needed this is it, doubled and redoubled in spades. But actually it isn't needed for that inconvenience caused while the madam read the adds is going to save a lot of money for the man of the house. No wonder it took time for time means money and money is something else again.

President Will Direct Plan For Drought Relief

Roosevelt Assumes Personal Charge Of Program To Meet Situation

PROFITEERING WILL NOT BE ALLOWED

Effort Also To Be Made To Prevent Food Prices Jumping Too High

By EDWARD B. LOCKETT
International News Service Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Aug. 14—Armed with every available fact and estimate of the drought, President Roosevelt took personal command of relief forces today.

Under his directions, a comprehensive plan coordinating all relief work and designed to lessen, as much as possible, the economic shock of the disaster, was begun. This program will be completed within a few days and then Mr. Roosevelt will outline its objectives.

Conferences this far held pointed the way to these broad objectives:

Aims Of Progress

1—Adequate relief for every victim of the drought.

2—Provision for a crop next year that will make up in surplus for the heavy shrinkage in production resulting from the disaster this year.

3—Provision to prevent food prices from sailing too far skyward.

4. Prevention of food profiteering Secretary of Agriculture Wallace conceded there would be a rise in food prices this winter, but believes the prices will not be beyond reason. He said the government has all the necessary weapons to deal with the profiteer and that it will not hesitate to use them.

To Speed Up Plans

The executive has postponed half a dozen or more conferences and swept aside all less important matters to give his full time to the drought problem. The physical relief machinery is now being oiled for higher speed and greater efficiency. The president is anxious to have the relief administration and the agriculture department get together in their work. He prompted a long meeting yesterday between

EXECUTE FOUR MORE PLOTTERS IN AUSTRIA

Fifteen More To Go On Trial

MANY OTHERS SENT TO PRISON

By ALFRED TYRNAUER
International News Service Staff Correspondent

VIENNA, Aug. 14.—Fifteen Austrian Nazis who captured the government radio station and broadcast to all Austria that Dollfuss had resigned during the fatal putsch of July 25 will be tried today by the same court which yesterday condemned four policemen involved in the raid on the chancellory of that date to death.

The executions of the four were carried out directly on a gallows pelted with rain, under the direction of an executioner dressed with Austrian formality in full evening dress and a tall silk hat.

Seven Executed

Their deaths brought the total of lives which have been exacted for the putsch and the death of Chancellor Dollfuss in Vienna to seven. Others have been executed in the provinces.

Many others have been sentenced to long prison terms, but about 100 are still awaiting trial. In addition to these, 250 of the Viennese police are now in prison as Nazi sympathizers.

However, it is thought there will not be many more death sentences with the possible exception of some of the 15 to go on trial today for their part in the radio station attack, which was overcome only with fatalities among the government forces.

The defense counsel for one of the four policemen executed yesterday sounded a warning. He said that public opinion would stand for no more executions when one of the ringleaders, Lieutenant Hudl, had been left off with only life imprisonment.

It is understood that Hudl escaped the gallows through the intercession of the Archduke Eugen, whose aide in war days had been Hudl's father.

DROUGHT NEAR END, IS BELIEF OF U. S. EXPERTS

West started to break up with unusually heavy rains in August. In fact the rainfall during that year started in the southwestern drought area August 19 and continued intermittently into the fall.

While crops in many great plains and southwestern states are almost beyond hope, heavy rainfall would restore pasturage and put land in condition for winter wheat planting. The big hope of the weather experts is that abnormal rains will help repair the damage and minimize the effect of the drought on next year's crops.

Drought Situation

As the result of the recent scattered rains, the drought area was pictured today by weather bureau officials as follows:

1. Most of Ohio valley is safe from drought. Heavy rains in the past week in Ohio, Kentucky and parts of Indiana. Western Illinois, hardest hit of Ohio valley, which, on the whole, is in good condition.

2. Hardest hit area is southern Iowa, extreme western Illinois, Missouri, northern and western Arkansas, Oklahoma. Bad also in northern plains states and parts of Texas.

3. Southern Wisconsin, parts of Minnesota and northern Iowa have best crops in western corn belt. Some rains in past week.

Cool Areas

Cool areas which usually dip down into interior United States continue to sweep across northern United States and Canada. Dr. J. B. Kincer, chief of the weather bureau division of meterology, said this is held to be the real cause of the drought.

Temperatures in the drought area have been even more phenomenal than the scarcity of rain to the weather scientists. Dr. Kincer said the last 55 days in Fort Smith, Ark., have brought temperatures of 100 degrees or over.

Since June 30 Kansas City has had 39 days of 100 degrees or over; Dodge City, Kan., 39; Oklahoma City, 38; St. Louis, 23; Des Moines, 19, and Wichita, 36. The weather bureau records fail to show anything like such temperatures in these cities before.

Chicago, Aug. 14.—Little hope for saving crops in the drouth-stricken Kansas and Missouri area was held out by weather forecasters today while the backbone of the worst dry period in the history of the middle-west was definitely broken in the lake regions.

C. A. Donnel, government weather forecaster in the Chicago bureau painted a gloomy word picture of scorched fields in Kansas and Missouri.

"I see little or no hope for the crops in Kansas and Missouri," he said. "In some cases there have been scattered showers during the past 24 hours, but in no case enough rain to make any appreciable progress toward saving the already parched grains.

obtained. President Roosevelt emphasized this point in his message to congress when the silver purchase act was recommended.

Correspondence was made public today which clarified the relationship of the White House and the treasury in connection with the silver program. The initial letter was dated June 14 and directed the issuance of silver certificates in the denominations of $1, $5, $10, $20 and $100 against "all silver bullion or standard silver dollars now in the treasury not held for redemption of any outstanding silver certificates."

Under an order of December 21, 1933 the treasury so far has purchased 10,671,000 fine ounces of silver. Purchases under the silver purchose act started yesterday but so far no report has been made as to the amount acquired.

EXECUTE FOUR MORE PLOTTERS IN AUSTRIA

Fifteen More To Go On Trial

MANY OTHERS SENT TO PRISON

By ALFRED TYRNAUER
International News Service Staff Correspondent

VIENNA, Aug. 14.—Fifteen Austrian Nazis who captured the government radio station and broadcast to all Austria that Dollfuss had resigned during the fatal putsch of July 25 will be tried today by the same court which yesterday condemned four policemen involved in the raid on the chancellory of that date to death.

The executions of the four were carried out directly on a gallows pelted with rain, under the direction of an executioner dressed with Austrian formality in full evening dress and a tall silk hat.

Seven Executed

Their deaths brought the total of lives which have been exacted for the putsch and the death of Chancellor Dollfuss in Vienna to seven. Others have been executed in the provinces.

Many others have been sentenced to long prison terms, but about 100 are still awaiting trial. In addition to these, 250 of the Viennese police are now in prison as Nazi sympathizers.

However, it is thought there will not be many more death sentences with the possible exception of some of the 15 to go on trial today for their part in the radio station attack, which was overcome only with fatalities among the government forces.

The defense counsel for one of the four policemen executed yesterday sounded a warning. He said that public opinion would stand for no more executions when one of the ringleaders, Lieutenant Hudl, had been left off with only life imprisonment.

It is understood that Hudl escaped the gallows through the intercession of the Archduke Eugen, whose aide in war days had been Hudl's father.

WOULD DISINTER BODY OF WOMAN

to decide finally the feasibility of asking for an opportunity to obtain their own medical report of how Freda died while swimming in Harvey's lake on July 30.

New Defense Plans

It has been reported ever since Edwards was jailed on a charge of murdering Freda that the defense would attempt to show that Bobby's neighborhood sweetheart was already dead when Edwards struck her with a filched blackjack in order to clear the way for prosecution of a newer love for Margaret Crain, East Aurora, N. Y., music teacher.

Defense attorneys Leonard Morgan and John C. Phillips, however, have refused to discuss the possibility of disinterring Freda's body in an effort to obtain a contradictory report to the official autopsy that Freda died because of a blow on the head.

West started to break up with unusually heavy rains in August. In fact the rainfall during that year started in the southwestern drought area August 19 and contitnued intermittently into the fall.

While crops in many great plains and southwestern states are almost beyond hope, heavy rainfall would restore pasturage and put land in condition for winter wheat planting. The big hope of the weather experts is that abnormal rains will help repair the damage and minimize the effect of the drought on next year's crops.

Drought Situation

As the result of the recent scattered rains, the drought area was pictured today by weather bureau officials as follows:

1. Most of Ohio valley is safe from drought. Heavy rains in the past week in Ohio, Kentucky and parts of Indiana. Western Illinois, hardest hit of Ohio valley, which, on the whole, is in good condition.

2. Hardest hit area is southern Iowa, extreme western Illinois, Missouri, northern and western Arkansas, Oklahoma. Bad also in northern plains states and parts of Texas.

3. Southern Wisconsin, parts of Minnesota and northern Iowa have best crops in western corn belt. Some rains in past week.

Cool Areas

Cool areas which usually dip down into interior United States continue to sweep across northern United States and Canada. Dr. J. B. Kincer, chief of the weather bureau division of meterology, said this is held to be the real cause of the drought.

Temperatures in the drought area have been even more phenomenal than the scarcity of rain to the weather scientists. Dr. Kincer said the last 55 days in Fort Smith, Ark., have brought temperatures of 100 degrees or over.

Since June 30 Kansas City has had 39 days of 100 degrees or over; Dodge City, Kan., 39; Oklahoma City, 38; St. Louis, 23; Des Moines, 19, and Wichita, 36. The weather bureau records fail to show anything like such temperatures in these cities before.

Chicago, Aug. 14.—Little hope for saving crops in the drouth-stricken Kansas and Missouri area was held out by weather forecasters today while the backbone of the worst dry period in the history of the middle-west was definitely broken in the lake regions.

C. A. Donnel, government weather forecaster in the Chicago bureau painted a gloomy word picture of scorched fields in Kansas and Missouri.

"I see little or no hope for the crops in Kansas and Missouri," he said. "In some cases there have been scattered showers during the past 24 hours, but in no case enough rain to make any appreciable progress toward saving the already parched grains.

obtained. President Roosevelt emphasized this point in his message to congress when the silver purchase act was recommended.

Correspondence was made public today which clarified the relationship of the White House and the treasury in connection with the silver program. The initial letter was dated June 14 and directed the issuance of silver certificates in the denominations of $1, $5, $10, $20 and $100 against "all silver bullion or standard silver dollars now in the treasury not held for redemption of any outstanding silver certificates."

Under an order of December 21, 1933 the treasury so far has purchased 10,671,000 fine ounces of silver. Purchases under the silver purchose act started yesterday but so far no report has been made as to the amount acquired.

ing last night. The advertising pages came first and what a lot of reading they offered. Pages of bargains that are offered on Wednesday, August 15, on Dollar Day. Fifty four merchants have joined to make a dollar worth two, and it didn't need the president's edict on silver to cause the expansion of the buying power of the dollar.

Getting down to cases, tomorrow, Wednesday, August 15, is the day for bargains. In Fifty four stores in New Castle, bearing the orange and black label, there will be Dollar Day bargains. It is a chance to give you quality merchandise at unusual prices and the merchants are taking full advantage of it.

Skip the ordinary household duties tomorrow. Pile the breakfast dishes in the sink, lock the dog in the cellar and come on down town. Thar's gold in them stores podner, gold represented by bargains in merchandise like you never saw before.

Dollar Day and its all for you. If you miss your share of the bargains, pick out somebody else's shoulder to weep on. We've done our duty in telling you.

"NEW DEAL" FACTOR IN DAY'S ELECTIONS

form. White has also professed admiration for the new deal. Donahey has been less enthusiastic about it, stating that he would support President Roosevelt when he thought he was "right."

In Nebraska, the administration has tacitly supported Congressman E. R. Burke against Gov. Charles (Brother Charley) Bryan, brother of the late commoner. Burke is considered a thorough-going "new dealer," while Bryan has at times been a severe critic of Roosevelt policies.

In greater or less degree, the new deal figures in many of today's contests, particularly the congressional races.

MANY PASTORS ARE ARRESTED

Among them is Father Stiller, jesuit lecturer at Friedburg University and a wevy known writer. Father Stiller is accused of having sent letters to the vatican, among them being one from former vice Chancellor Von Papen, himself a leader among Catholic laymen, who has just been appointed German minister to Austria.

Seven hundred of the arrested Protestant clergymen are said to have been detained for investigation because they are members of Masonic lodges.

Among the prominent Protestant pastors arrested were the Rev. Karl Habright, the Rev. Dietrich Graue, the Rev. Franz Behrend, the chaplain of the Moabit prison in Berlin and several former pastors of the imperial court.

Rumor Bishops Taken

There are rumors that several bishops also have been taken into custody but it is impossible to confirm these reports.

The government amnesty decree announced last week, has become effective and 3,000 prisoners. Political and minor criminal offenders have been released from prison and concentration camps. No prominent personages. So far as can be determined, have benefitted by the amnesty decree.

PRESIDENT WILL DIRECT PLAN FOR DROUGHT RELIEF

Secretary Wallace and acting relief administrator Aubrey Williams after they had called at the White House.

Williams is concerned primarily with the emergency while Wallace is mindful of the effects that will be felt long after the drought has ended. Already the AAA is looking ahead into next year and is prepared to relax acreage control regulations, if it becomes necessary, to provide a sufficient quantity of food stuffs for the nation.

Wallace explained such a policy would not be a change in the administration's policy of crop control since the job of the AAA is one of "adjustment," either up or down.

special bills are passed which will assure his victory.

Among the measures under consideration, it was learned, is one calling for establishment of a state police force, with power to make arrests in all cities, towns, and parishes of the state. Another proposed bill would prevent the city of New Orleans from levying an amusement tax.

The special session is expected to convene at 8 p. m. tonight.

The special session is the latest move in a fight between Long's forces and the old regular Democrats of New Orleans which has lasted for more than two weeks.

Drought Situation

As the result of the recent scattered rains, the drought area was pictured today by weather bureau officials as follows:

1. Most of Ohio valley is safe from drought. Heavy rains in the past week in Ohio, Kentucky and parts of Indiana. Western Illinois, hardest hit of Ohio valley, which, on the whole, is in good condition.

2. Hardest hit area is southern Iowa, extreme western Illinois, Missouri, northern and western Arkansas, Oklahoma. Bad also in northern plains states and parts of Texas.

3. Southern Wisconsin, parts of Minnesota and northern Iowa have best crops in western corn belt. Some rains in past week.

Cool Areas

Cool areas which usually dip down into interior United States continue to sweep across northern United States and Canada. Dr. J. B. Kincer, chief of the weather bureau division of meterology, said this is held to be the real cause of the drought.

Temperatures in the drought area have been even more phenomenal than the scarcity of rain to the weather scientists. Dr. Kincer said the last 55 days in Fort Smith, Ark., have brought temperatures of 100 degrees or over.

Since June 30 Kansas City has had 39 days of 100 degrees or over; Dodge City, Kan., 39; Oklahoma City, 38; St. Louis, 23; Des Moines, 19, and Wichita, 36. The weather bureau records fail to show anything like such temperatures in these cities before.

Chicago, Aug. 14.—Little hope for saving crops in the drouth-stricken Kansas and Missouri area was held out by weather forecasters today while the backbone of the worst dry period in the history of the middle-west was definitely broken in the lake regions.

C. A. Donnel, government weather forecaster in the Chicago bureau painted a gloomy word picture of scorched fields in Kansas and Missouri.

"I see little or no hope for the crops in Kansas and Missouri," he said. "In some cases there have been scattered showers during the past 24 hours, but in no case enough rain to make any appreciable progress toward saving the already parched grains.

obtained. President Roosevelt emphasized this point in his message to congress when the silver purchase act was recommended.

Correspondence was made public today which clarified the relationship of the White House and the treasury in connection with the silver program. The initial letter was dated June 14 and directed the issuance of silver certificates in the denominations of $1, $5, $10, $20 and $100 against "all silver bullion or standard silver dollars now in the treasury not held for redemption of any outstanding silver certificates."

Under an order of December 21, 1933 the treasury so far has purchased 10,671,000 fine ounces of silver. Purchases under the silver purchose act started yesterday but so far no report has been made as to the amount acquired.

ing last night. The advertising pages came first and what a lot of reading they offered. Pages of bargains that are offered on Wednesday, August 15, on Dollar Day. Fifty four merchants have joined to make a dollar worth two, and it didn't need the president's edict on silver to cause the expansion of the buying power of the dollar.

Getting down to cases, tomorrow, Wednesday, August 15, is the day for bargains. In Fifty four stores in New Castle, bearing the orange and black label, there will be Dollar Day bargains. It is a chance to give you quality merchandise at unusual prices and the merchants are taking full advantage of it.

Skip the ordinary household duties tomorrow. Pile the breakfast dishes in the sink, lock the dog in the cellar and come on down town. Thar's gold in them stores podner, gold represented by bargains in merchandise like you never saw before.

Dollar Day and its all for you. If you miss your share of the bargains, pick out somebody else's shoulder to weep on. We've done our duty in telling you.

"NEW DEAL" FACTOR IN DAY'S ELECTIONS

form. White has also professed admiration for the new deal. Donahey has been less enthusiastic about it, stating that he would support President Roosevelt when he thought he was "right."

In Nebraska, the administration has tacitly supported Congressman E. R. Burke against Gov. Charles (Brother Charley) Bryan, brother of the late commoner. Burke is considered a thorough-going "new dealer," while Bryan has at times been a severe critic of Roosevelt policies.

In greater or less degree, the new deal figures in many of today's contests, particularly the congressional races.

MANY PASTORS ARE ARRESTED

Among them is Father Stiller, jesuit lecturer at Friedburg University and a weyy known writer. Father Stiller is accused of having sent letters to the vatican, among them being one from former vice Chancellor Von Papen, himself a leader among Catholic laymen, who has just been appointed German minister to Austria.

Rumor Bishops Taken

There are rumors that several bishops also have been taken into custody but it is impossible to confirm these reports.

The government amnesty decree announced last week, has become effective and 3,000 prisoners. Political and minor criminal offenders have been released from prison and concentration camps. No prominent personages. So far as can be determined, have benefitted by the amnesty decree.

PRESIDENT WILL DIRECT PLAN FOR DROUGHT RELIEF

Secretary Wallace and acting relief administrator Aubrey Williams after they had called at the White House.

Williams is concerned primarily with the emergency while Wallace is mindful of the effects that will be felt long after the drought has ended. Already the AAA is looking ahead into next year and is prepared to relax acreage control regulations, if it becomes necessary, to provide a sufficient quantity of food stuffs for the nation.

Wallace explained such a policy would not be a change in the administration's policy of crop control since the job of the AAA is one of "adjustment," either up or down.

waters; Attorney General William A. Schnader. Many of these people will be here for the dedication of the Pymatuning Dam on Friday and will return to New Castle to spend the night.

In addition, the two county judges, R. L. Hildebrand and James A. Chambers, the commissioners, P. O. Elder, Elmer Conner and Frank Wood; Judge Wilson and the commissioners of Butler county, and Highway Superintendent H. W. Lightner have also been invited to attend.

The dedication of the bridge will recall to mind the former importance occupied by Rose Point in the early industrial development of the district, when the community was the center of the iron mining and smelting industry. This activity ended almost fifty years ago, residents of the district recall, and since that time, Rose Point has become more the center of the limestone industry in recent years, but lacked the importance it held in earlier days.

The Prospect band has been engaged to furnish music for the occasion, and the entire program is expected to be one of a pleasing character.

FORMER RESIDENT IS RENEWING FRIENDSHIPS

Many social events of an informal nature are being given for Prof. and Mrs. J. H. Stoner and two sons Edgar and Ardis of Los Angeles, Cal., who will conclude a delightful month's visit in this vicinity next week. They have been spending a greater part of the time at the home of Mr. Stoner's sister Mrs. Walter McClelland, at Harlansburg.

Last evening the out of town folks with Mrs. McClelland were dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. John Fisher (Elizabeth Shaw) at Grove City and other evenings this week they will be entertained by other members of the family.

Last Thursday evening, the Stoners were given the opportunity of renewing former friendships with some forty people when a picnic supper was held at the old homestead. Mr. Stoner was born and raised at Hermon about two miles beyond Harlansburg and his family is prominent in this section of the country.

He is a professor in one of the high schools at Los Angeles, Cal. and the family is planning an early return before school opens there.

CROP DISTRIBUTION

EVEN before the depression with its low state of world trade and the accompanying problem of agriculture surpluses, there was a hitch somewhere in the machinery of distribution. One heard, here and there, of farmers who let crops lie on the ground or turned pigs into their orchards simply because they couldn't afford to market their stuff. The unmarketable produce was wanted in many places. Lack of co-operation and various inefficiencies were the root of the trouble.

The artificial crop limitation measures, the pig-killing, has never met widespread public approval. They have seemed wicked and wasteful when it was clear that hungry people could use more food than they were getting. Yet the same problem was there years before, and so was terrific wastage of unlimited crops.

The drouth now has joined forces with the crop restriction measures to cut foodstuffs down close to the necessary amounts. The carry-over in various lines is going to make the total about normal. This would seem to be a good time, therefore, to tackle the basic problem of efficient and profitable distribution of crops, to work toward getting back into the world market with future surpluses and to solve the old problem of waste.

We apparently have the opportunity to start from the bottom, so to speak, and to work up to a better co-ordination between production and consumption.

IS CRITICISM PROPER?

This is still a country of expressed opinion and will continue to be. There will be criticism of administrative policies no matter what party is in power and it is right that there should be. Calling those who do the criticising narrow, selfish, wicked or immoral will not stop the criticism. It will only tend to make it more severe.

It would seem that during the past weeks there has been a special vocal effort on the part of some of those who are supporting the New Deal to condemn those who do not agree with them and have the courage to say so, in spite of the general regimentation that is going on.

But it is to be remembered that criticism is always a healthful sign in a government like ours. It is an indication that democracy is not dead. The only places where criticism is now silenced are countries like Russia, Germany and Italy which have forsaken the paths of democracy and gone in for complete regimentation which means nothing less than autocratic dictatorship.

Certainly no plan, governmental or otherwise, if it is safe and sound, will suffer any by having the full light of public opinion thrown on it. If such plan or policy has any weaknesses, its public discussion will tend to bring out the defects and give opportunity for revision and improvement. Nobody is infallible, not even a college professor, and the man who seeks to answer criticism by invective and questioning of motive, shows that he either lacks temperament or a good case of perhaps both.

Nor is it a complete answer to demand that the critic immediately present a substitute plan which is better than the one attacked. Perhaps what is required may be not a substitute plan but a paring down of the plan already produced or the elimination of some of its features. As the Saturday Evening Post well said recently, "If a man is about to jump out of a window, it is not necessary to find something else for him to do; to stop him is sufficient."

Certainly criticism is as legal and fair now as it was in the years from 1929 to 1933. The present leadership which was then in the minority showed no hesitation in criticising the administration then in power. The smearing started in early and kept up until March, 1933. It is true that we are now in the midst of a serious crisis, but the same was true back in the hectic years which preceded 1933. Certainly constructive criticism now is as necessary and in as good taste as it was then.

IT WOULD BE A NOVELTY

London too is launching a campaign against the jay-walker, but she is pursuing a method quite different from that commonly resorted to in countries having more dictatorial police than the proverbially courteous London "bobbies."

Posters and warning signs employed in the London campaign are couched in the words "Please cross here." The reasons for this designation are several. In the first place, England never succumbed as much as did this country to the arbitrary German system of "Verbotens." American laws, ordinances and regulations contain countless prohibitions, so it is natural for such campaigns as those against jaywalking to be waged with "Dont's" from red signs and redder policemen.

In England they order this otherwise. Their instructions are more in the affirmative and those whose duty it is to enforce those instructions are invariably courteous, to the point that they leave the impression of having conferred a privilege instead of denying a right.

Should the London campaign prove more successful than have similar traffic drives in American cities, it can not be adduced as an argument for the adoption here of British methods. Though a nation so accustomed to being "bawled out" by traffic cops and to "Shalt-nots" might, because of the novelty of the thing, observe to the very letter a campaign conducted on the affirmative plan of the Londoners.

C. C. C. MEMBERSHIP

The ranks of the Civilian Conservation Corps are at their highest membership. During the week of August 6, enrollment reached 360,000. From there young workers, weekly remittances of $22 to $25 are going home to 315,000 families, lightening the relief load of many local agencies.

Along with the news of increased enrollment in the CCC goes the good news that more "graduates" of the camps are finding places in industry. In May, 10,100 returned to private jobs. In June, 11,650 were placed. July figures are not yet available, but indications are they will show a steady gain. Since last October near 88,000 have thus obtained outside employment.

The work being done by the young men in the CCC camps is valuable. The full story has not yet been told, but serial chapters have been interesting and reassuring. Healthy activity, physical and mental; outdoor life; useful work, and earned money are great antidotes to the evils of idleness and worry which confronted most of these young fellows.

A wife is a person who thinks it is all right to bawl out her husband before company if she adds the word "honey."

We used to say that "one-half the world didn't know how the other half lived." But now we do—off the federal government.

BE JUST IN YOUR CRITICISMS

If you are a fault-finder, you should expect the same treatment.

Usually those who detect deficiencies in others have as great a number of weaknesses themselves.

This may be the reason why they are critically caustic in their comments about others.

They realize their own mistakes and would like to make others appear as faulty as themselves.

By alluding to the weak spots in others they may divert attention from themselves.

Chronic fault-finders have this despicable habit, and seldom look for anything praiseworthy.

There seems to be an ambition to register complaints.

Some bosses are of this sort.

To uphold their position of supposed superiority they often deprecate what is worthy in others.

They feel that they must assume the role of critic, or those under them will become too satisfied.

When it is your job to be a critic, be just.

Just Folks

By EDGAR A. GUEST

TRUE GREATNESS

Somewhere he got the notion he
Was masterful designed to be.
He thought commands would be obeyed
More readily if surly made;
That servants, meanly used, would run
With joy to get his bidding done.
He thought to be important meant
That he must strut where'er he went;
That courtesy and thoughtfulness
Were hindrances to man's success,
And so he shouted, snarled and raved
And badly everywhere behaved.
Mistaking arrogance for power,
He never let good nature flower.
He wondered oft why others drew
Attentions which he never knew;
But never once it crossed his mind
That much is gained by being kind,
That like by like is always earned.
A snarl by snarling is returned;
That whereso'er a mortal goes
He only gets as he bestows.

Moral:

No man is great who feels that he
Has grown too big for courtesy.

The World AND THE Mud Puddles

TRAGEDY

There is a great tragedy being enacted in North America today. The tragedy of drought, the tragedy of the rains.

This is not without precedent in the history of California. Seventy years ago there was a season without rain. The drought ruined every old Spanish family in California. The De la Guerras of Santa Barbara saw their herds shrink from 100,000 to 5,000 head. Great herds of famished horses were driven over the cliffs of what is now Palos Verdes, between Redondo Beach and San Pedro.

Today thousands of head of cattle are dying of thirst and hunger all over the great plains, between the River and the Mountains.

Weekly Health Talks

"A good complexion is much to be desired. Men worry along with the one that nature plus their bad habits provides. Women have resort to artificial beautification. And while there is no desire to minimize the value of cosmetics as an adjunct to feminine beauty, it must be admitted that a naturally good complexion is after all the finest kind of an appearance and social asset, whether the subject be a man or woman," states Dr. Theodore B. Appel, state secretary of health.

"The fundamental requirement for a fine complexion is good health. Any disturbance of the bodily organs may be reflected in the skin. Notably among these are sluggish bowels, digestive conditions, infected teeth or tonsils or some definite dietary habit that asserts itself in a skin eruption.

"While foods and drink naturally affect persons differently, it is definitely established that an overconsumption of meat and stimulating beverages, including alcohol, frequently react on the skin and complexion. To many persons, including children, a too generous use of fried foods, chocolate, candy, cheese, pastry and nuts, will act as a complexion destroyer. Again, an habitually insufficient daily water intake may cause a dry skin.

"Generally speaking, where skin trouble exists which cannot be traced to an infection or parasite, the need to revise one's living habits definitely arises. These will include diet, work, and sleep. In some cases one's living regimen will even need to be drastically rearranged.

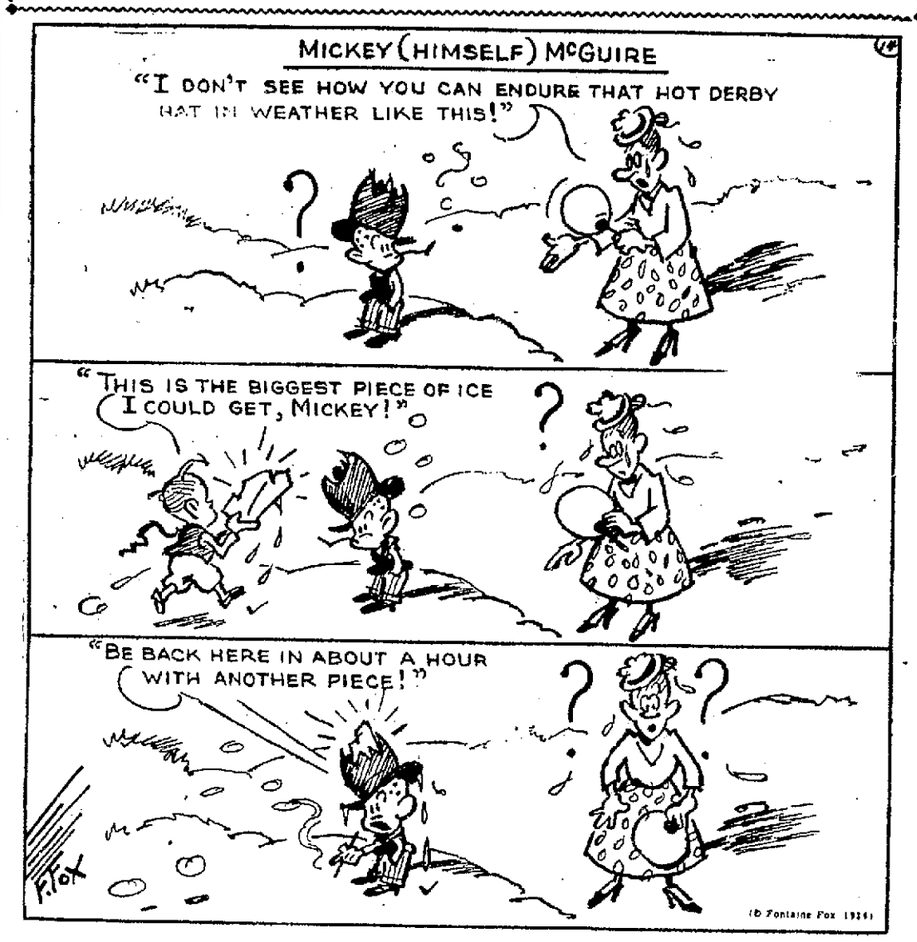

"While the moderate use of skin lotions will not interfere with natural processes, one is entirely too optimistic if she relies upon compounds and liquids to give her the "school girl complexion" which actually is only based upon constitutional vitality.

"Thus, to inhale tobacco smoke excessively, to consume alcoholic beverages in excesses, habitually to rob the body of the fresh air, rest and exercise it requires, is to run risks of acquiring a bad complexion. Ointments and so-called skin-foods can not be substituted for broken living habits.

"It goes without saying that in the external care of the skin the primary requisite is cleanliness. Pure soap and warm water are es-

A Small Businessman's View How He Would Create Assurance Through Economic Policy Change

By LESLIE EICHEL
Central Press Staff Writer

NEW YORK, Aug. 14.—Small business men—men who are not opposed to President Roosevelt—are complaining in increasing numbers that they are bewildered.

They are not opposed to social reforms, they desire the corporations and speculators bridled, but where are they themselves heading?

One man, who operates a small business, has this to say:

"The sense of insecurity that hangs over all of us—business man as well as worker—halts new development, stifles creative talent. We have government to give us security.

"To that end, of course, the Roosevelt administration has wisely reached out and evidently will continue to reach out to aid those unable to help themselves.

"But there can be no government at all if those capable of self-security do not develop it. A country made up entirely of dependents would fall of its own weight.

"Thus, the men who produce the profits must have some chart, some settled course to follow. And even if private individuals are to be deprived of this profit motive, then the government itself must earn the profits, for without profits there would be nothing to distribute. And the government itself would require a charted course, or it would run up the rocks."

HOPE OF BUSINESS

"Now," continued this small business man, "taking for granted that social injustices and profit injustices are curbed, it is essential that a government state its course.

"We business men do not desire any word of mouth assurance from the president. That might please speculators, but hardly us.

"Our hope lies in a statement of policies.

"For example, if inflationary measures continue, the sooner I close shop the better. My materials are costing me beyond fair value. Wages have gone up—perhaps even not enough — for the cost of living has leaped skyward. What am I compelled to do? I pass the increased costs on to the consumer. There comes a time, however, when the consumer can no longer buy—and that is the end of the circle.

"I shall repeat, I am wholeheartedly for the Roosevelt social measures, for the honesty of his purpose, and for his daring to experiment. But I am opposed to an economic policy that creates an illusion of wealth by pyramiding debts. It succeeds only in driving real wealth into hiding. And the final cost may bear down heavier on the people than many of the social injustices that it seeks to cure."

WHAT COURSE?

The small business man went on:

"The president said he asked two of his critics: 'What would you like to have me say?'

"I shall respond.

"I should not say anything 'to restore confidence.'

"I should follow the admirable Roosevelt policy of action.

"I should not depart from my social objectives. I should sacrifice none of my high moral purposes.

"I should not even go back to 'sound money'—which wasn't very sound when none of us had any of it.

"I should simplify this vast governmental superstructure that has been built. Even a fully co-operative state could not stand up under it.

"I should try not to create more money by reducing the value of the present money. It cannot be done.

"I should not even borrow much more money for governmental purposes. That perhaps sounds absurd when billions are needed for relief.

"But it has been my experience that an immediate charge—a direct tax—is the easiest method of reducing both charges and costs.

"With government credit becoming sounder and sounder, business itself would arouse itself to action. That is an economic truth.

"Of course, as many economists point out, our present monetary course is made necessary by our attempts to stand alone. I probably am in a minority on this, but I do not believe we can stand alone. The greatest single piece of assurance that could come to me, I believe, would be a world settlement of economic warfare. I am for free exchange of trade and exchange, for the abolition of economic weapons.

"I am, in short, for economic peace.

"Such a course, which seems intangible to the average citizen, may nevertheless provide the most tangible results. Whether a man be a business man, a worker or a farmer he is affected similarly by the problems that oppress me, and he would be set free by the same action that would free me from my own insecurity, the greatest mass oppressor of peoples."

The World War Day-By-Day—August 14, 1914—Forty-four transports across the English channel with more of Kitchener's First Hundred Thousand. The plans drawn up years before for moving a British expeditionary force to fight alongside the French, are operating like clockwork. Southampton to Havre is the principal route for troops, Newhaven to Boulogne for stores.

In the Narrows between Holland and Harwich, 18 destroyers patrol a 30-mile front. In the Straits are five destroyers (10 at night) assisted by three light cruisers, and supported by 10 submarines. A force of 14 French cruisers and a flotilla of submarines guard the channel to the west. The British grand fleet is hovering at the Orkneys, ready to pounce upon any German force that may attempt to disturb the flow of British troops to the aid of the sorely pressed Belgians and French.

By the 23rd, 100,000 fighting men will have crossed in 240 transports without the loss of one by enemy attack. The British fleet is doing its job well, as usual.

Simultaneously, on the 14th, Russia's sluggish army is completing concentration of two armies on the East Prussian frontier for offensives designed to compel Germany to hold back forces scheduled to go to the western front. There are numerous local clashes between small forces, and such towns as Przusznysz and Marggrabova begin appearing in the news, to the distress of American readers. Russian generals Rennenkampf and Samsanov have Gen. Oberst von Prittwitz und Gaffron to sharpen their wits upon.

Great Days—August 14, 1457—First book published with a date, a Psalter, was issued at Mainz, Germany, by John Fust and Peter Schoffer, 17 years before the probable introduction of printing from movable types by Lourens Janszoon, called Coster, of Haarlem, Netherlands.

Schoffer was a longtime financial backer and partner of Johannes Gutenberg, who often is credited with the invention of printing. Printing was 15 centuries old when Gutenberg was born!

Gutenberg's right to fame rests upon his priority in putting the Bible into type. Earliest user of type for any book apparently was the aforesaid Coster, who utilized it first in Speculum Humane Salvationis, a volume of images and letters issued in 1440.

Drouth Continues To Place Secretary Wallace On Defensive In Crop Reduction Program

By CHARLES P. STEWART
Central Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, Aug. 14.—Secretary of Agriculture Henry A. Wallace decidedly is on the defensive, in connection with his crop reduction program, which the widespread drouth certainly is beginning to make look mighty ridiculous, as to the wheat yield, anyway.

It is no secret that permanent officials in the agriculture department never did think well of the plan.

While not in a position to be too critical of administration policies, and hold their jobs, they also are, confidentially, exceedingly skeptical of the proposition that much of the so-called wheat belt really is submarginal land, for crop-producing purposes, and ought to be surrendered back to cattle-raising.

As departmental wheat specialists, under pledge of strict annoymity, analyze the situation:

Most of the American wheat country always has been a region in which not more than one big harvest in three or four seasons could be depended on, but when a season has been really super-satisfactory, the harvest has been sufficient to make up for the scanty ones, maintaining a good general average.

To adapt himself to soil and climatic conditions of this character, however, the wheat belt farmer must plant his acres, regularly, up to the limit; otherwise, when he does have a bumper-crop year, he won't get the benefit of it.

In other words, he imperatively needs a surplus, whenever nature permits him to accumulate one. If a system of restrictions upon his plantings prevails, he will not harvest much in poor years, and when he has a good year, he will not harvest much either, because his planting will have been restricted.

In short, he can prosper by reducing irregularity to an average, which artificial regulation upsets, and ruins him.

Agriculture's friends do agree that the farmer is in great need of governmental aid to save him from the necessity of sacrificing a big crop when he harvests one.

Assume that he has a productive year.

Prices consequently are low, but the farmer is hard up and must sell for what he can get, to meet pressing obligations.

The ensuing two or three years are poor years, maybe, and the carry-over from the good year becomes extremely valuable, but the specu-

CROP DISTRIBUTION

EVEN before the depression with its low state of world trade and the accompanying problem of agriculture surpluses, there was a hitch somewhere in the machinery of distribution. One heard, here and there, of farmers who let crops lie on the ground or turned pigs into their orchards simply because they couldn't afford to market their stuff. The unmarketable produce was wanted in many places. Lack of co-operation and various inefficiencies were the root of the trouble.

The artificial crop limitation measures, the pig-killing, has never met widespread public approval. They have seemed wicked and wasteful when it was clear that hungry people could use more food than they were getting. Yet the same problem was there years before, and so was terrific wastage of unlimited crops.

The drouth now has joined forces with the crop restriction measures to cut foodstuffs down close to the necessary amounts. The carry-over in various lines is going to make the total about normal. This would seem to be a good time, therefore, to tackle the basic problem of efficient and profitable distribution of crops, to work toward getting back into the world market with future surpluses and to solve the old problem of waste.

We apparently have the opportunity to start from the bottom, so to speak, and to work up to a better co-ordination between production and consumption.

IS CRITICISM PROPER?

This is still a country of expressed opinion and will continue to be. There will be criticism of administrative policies no matter what party is in power and it is right that there should be. Calling those who do the criticising narrow, selfish, wicked or immoral will not stop the criticism. It will only tend to make it more severe.

It would seem that during the past weeks there has been a special vocal effort on the part of some of those who are supporting the New Deal to condemn those who do not agree with them and have the courage to say so, in spite of the general regimentation that is going on.

But it is to be remembered that criticism is always a healthful sign in a government like ours. It is an indication that democracy is not dead. The only places where criticism is now silenced are countries like Russia, Germany and Italy which have forsaken the paths of democracy and gone in for complete regimentation which means nothing less than autocratic dictatorship.

Certainly no plan, governmental or otherwise, if it is safe and sound, will suffer any by having the full light of public opinion thrown on it. If such plan or policy has any weaknesses, its public discussion will tend to bring out the defects and give opportunity for revision and improvement. Nobody is infallible, not even a college professor, and the man who seeks to answer criticism by invective and questioning of motive, shows that he either lacks temperament or a good case of perhaps both.

Nor is it a complete answer to demand that the critic immediately present a substitute plan which is better than the one attacked. Perhaps what is required may be not a substitute plan but a paring down of the plan already produced or the elimination of some of its features. As the Saturday Evening Post well said recently, "If a man is about to jump out of a window, it is not necessary to find something else for him to do; to stop him is sufficient."

Certainly criticism is as legal and fair now as it was in the years from 1929 to 1933. The present leadership which was then in the minority showed no hesitation in criticising the administration then in power. The smearing started in early and kept up until March, 1933. It is true that we are now in the midst of a serious crisis, but the same was true back in the hectic years which preceded 1933. Certainly constructive criticism now is as necessary and in as good taste as it was then.

IT WOULD BE A NOVELTY

London too is launching a campaign against the jay-walker, but she is pursuing a method quite different from that commonly resorted to in countries having more dictatorial police than the proverbially courteous London "bobbies."

Posters and warning signs employed in the London campaign are couched in the words "Please cross here." The reasons for this designation are several. In the first place, England never succumbed as much as did this country to the arbitrary German system of "Verbotens." American laws, ordinances and regulations contain countless prohibitions, so it is natural for such campaigns as those against jaywalking to be waged with "Dont's" from red signs and redder policemen.

In England they order this otherwise. Their instructions are more in the affirmative and those whose duty it is to enforce those instructions are invariably courteous, to the point that they leave the impression of having conferred a privilege instead of denying a right.

Should the London campaign prove more successful than have similar traffic drives in American cities, it can not be adduced as an argument for the adoption here of British methods. Though a nation so accustomed to being "bawled out" by traffic cops and to "Shalt-nots" might, because of the novelty of the thing, observe to the very letter a campaign conducted on the affirmative plan of the Londoners.

C. C. C. MEMBERSHIP

The ranks of the Civilian Conservation Corps are at their highest membership. During the week of August 6, enrollment reached 360,000. From there young workers weekly remittances of $22 to $25 are going home to 315,000 families, lightening the relief load of many local agencies.

Along with the news of increased enrollment in the CCC goes the good news that more "graduates" of the camps are finding places in industry. In May, 10,100 returned to private jobs. In June, 11,650 were placed. July figures are not yet available, but indications are they will show a steady gain. Since last October near 88,000 have thus obtained outside employment.

The work being done by the young men in the CCC camps is valuable. The full story has not yet been told, but serial chapters have been interesting and reassuring. Healthy activity, physicial and mental; outdoor life; useful work, and earned money are great antidotes to the evils of idleness and worry which confronted most of these young fellows.

A wife is a person who thinks it is all right to bawl out her husband before company if she adds the word "honey."

BE JUST IN YOUR CRITICISMS

If you are a fault-finder, you should expect the same treatment.

Usually those who detect deficiencies in others have as great a number of weaknesses themselves.

This may be the reason why they are critically caustic in their comments about others.

They realize their own mistakes and would like to make others appear as faulty as themselves.

By alluding to the weak spots in others they may divert attention from themselves.

Chronic fault-finders have this despicable habit, and seldom look for anything praiseworthy.

There seems to be an ambition to register complaints.

Some bosses are of this sort.

To uphold their position of supposed superiority they often deprecate what is worthy in others.

They feel that they must assume the role of critic, or those under them will become too satisfied.

When it is your job to be a critic, be just.

TRUE GREATNESS

Somewhere he got the notion he
Was masterful designed to be.
He thought commands would be obeyed
More readily if surly made;
That servants, meanly used, would run
With joy to get his bidding done.
He thought to be important meant
That he must strut where'er he went;
That courtesy and thoughtfulness
Were hindrances to man's success,
And so he shouted, snarled and raved
And badly everywhere behaved.
Mistaking arrogance for power,
He never let good nature flower.
He wondered oft why others drew
Attentions which he never knew;
But never once it crossed his mind
That much is gained by being kind,
That like by like is always earned.
A snarl by snarling is returned;
That whereso'er a mortal goes
He only gets as he bestows.

Moral:

No man is great who feels that he
Has grown too big for courtesy.

TRAGEDY

There is a great tragedy being enacted in North America today. The tragedy of drought, the tragedy of the rains.

This is not without precedent in the history of California. Seventy years ago there was a season without rain. The drought ruined every old Spanish family in California. The De la Guerras of Santa Barbara saw their herds shrink from 100,000 to 5,000 head. Great herds of famished horses were driven over the cliffs of what is now Palos Verdes, between Redondo Beach and San Pedro.

Today thousands of head of cattle are dying of thirst and hunger all over the great plains, between the River and the Mountains.

Weekly Health Talks

"A good complexion is much to be desired. Men worry along with the one that nature plus their bad habits provides. Women have resort to artificial bautification. And while there is no desire to minimize the value of cosmetics as an adjunct to feminine beauty, it must be admitted that a naturally good complexion is after all the finest kind of an appearance and social asset, whether the subject be a man or woman," states Dr. Theodore B. Appel, state secretary of health.

"The fundamental requirement for a fine complexion is good health. Any disturbance of the bodily organs may be reflected in the skin. Notably among these are sluggish bowels, digestive conditions, infected teeth or tonsils or some definite dietary habit that asserts itself in a skin eruption.

"While foods and drink naturally affect persons differently, it is definitely established that an overconsumption of meat and stimulating beverages, including alcohol, frequently react on the skin and complexion. To many persons, including children, a too generous use of fried foods, chocolate, candy, cheese, pastry and nuts, will act as a complexion destroyer. Again, an habitually insufficient daily water intake may cause a dry skin.

"Generally speaking, where skin trouble exists which cannot be traced to an infection or parasite, the need to revise one's living habits definitely arises. These will include diet, work, and sleep. In some cases one's living regimen will even need to be drastically rearranged.

"While the moderate use of skin lotions will not interfere with natural processes, one is entirely too optimistic if she relies upon compounds and liquids to give her the "school girl complexion" which actually is only based upon constitutional vitality.

"Thus, to inhale tobacco smoke excessively, to consume alcoholic beverages in excesses, habitually to rob the body of the fresh air, rest and exercise it requires, is to run risks of acquiring a bad complexion. Ointments and so-called skin-foods can not be substituted for broken living habits.

"It goes without saying that in the external care of the skin the primary requisite is cleanliness. Pure soap and warm water are es-

A Small Businessman's View How He Would Create Assurance Through Economic Policy Change

By LESLIE EICHEL
Central Press Staff Writer

NEW YORK, Aug. 14.—Small business men—men who are not opposed to President Roosevelt—are complaining in increasing numbers that they are bewildered.

They are not opposed to social reforms, they desire the corporations and speculators bridled, but where are they themselves heading?

One man, who operates a small business, has this to say:

"The sense of insecurity that hangs over all of us—business man as well as worker—halts new development, stifles creative talent. We have government to give us security.

"To that end, of course, the Roosevelt administration has wisely reached out and evidently will continue to reach out to aid those unable to help themselves.

"But there can be no government at all if those capable of self-security do not develop it. A country made up entirely of dependents would fall of its own weight.

"Thus, the men who produce the profits must have some chart, some settled course to follow. And even if private individuals are to be deprived of this profit motive, then the government itself must earn the profits, for without profits there would be nothing to distribute. And the government itself would require a charted course, or it would run up the rocks."

HOPE OF BUSINESS

"Now," continued this small business man, "taking for granted that social injustices and profit injustices are curbed, it is essential that a government state its course.

"We business men do not desire any word of mouth assurance from the president. That might please speculators, but hardly us.

"Our hope lies in a statement of policies.

"For example, if inflationary measures continue, the sooner I close shop the better. My materials are costing me beyond fair value. Wages have gone up—perhaps even not enough — for the cost of living has leaped skyward. What am I compelled to do? I pass the increased costs on to the consumer. There comes a time, however, when the consumer can no longer buy—and that is the end of the circle.

"I shall repeat, I am wholeheartedly for the Roosevelt social measures, for the honesty of his purpose, and for his daring to experiment. But I am opposed to an economic policy that creates an illusion of wealth by pyramiding debts. It succeeds only in driving real wealth irto hiding. And the final cost may bear down heavier on the people than many of the social injustices that it seeks to cure."

WHAT COURSE?

The small business man went on:

"The president said he asked two of his critics: 'What would you like to have me say?'

"I shall respond.

"I should not say anything 'to restore confidence.'

"I should follow the admirable Roosevelt policy of action.

"I should not depart from my social objectives. I should sacrifice none of my high moral purposes.

"I should not even go back to 'sound money'—which wasn't very sound when none of us had any of it.

"I should simplify this vast governmental superstructure that has been built. Even a fully co-operative state could not stand up under it.

"I should try not to create more money by reducing the value of the present money. It cannot be done.

"I should not even borrow much more money for governmental purposes. That perhaps sounds absurd when billions are needed for relief.

"But it has been my experience that an immediate charge—a direct tax—is the easiest method of reducing both charges and costs.

"With government credit becoming sounder and sounder, business itself would arouse itself to action. That is an economic truth.

"Of course, as many economists point out, our present monetary course is made necessary by our attempts to stand alone. I probably am in a minority on this, but I do not believe we can stand alone. The greatest single piece of assurance that could come to me, I believe, would be a world settlement of economic warfare. I am for free exchange of trade and exchange, for the abolition of economic weapons.

"I am, in short, for economic peace.

"Such a course, which seems intangible to the average citizen, may nevertheless provide the most tangible results. Whether a man be a business man, a worker or a farmer he is affected similarly by the problems that oppress me, and he would be set free by the same action that would free me from my own insecurity, the greatest mass oppressor of peoples."

The World War Day-By-Day—August 14, 1914—Forty-four transports across the English channel with more of Kitchener's First Hundred Thousand. The plans drawn up years before for moving a British expeditionary force to fight alongside the French, are operating like clockwork. Southampton to Havre is the principal route for troops, Newhaven to Boulogne for stores.

In the Narrows between Holland and Harwich, 18 destroyers patrol a 30-mile front. In the Straits are five destroyers (10 at night) assisted by three light cruisers, and supported by 10 submarines. A force of 14 French cruisers and a flotilla of submarines guard the channel to the west. The British grand fleet is hovering at the Orkneys, ready to pounce upon any German force that may attempt to disturb the flow of British troops to the aid of the sorely pressed Belgians and French.

By the 23rd, 100,000 fighting men will have crossed in 240 transports without the loss of one by enemy attack. The British fleet is doing its job well, as usual.

Simultaneously, on the 14th, Russia's sluggish army is completing concentration of two armies on the East Prussian frontier for offensives designed to compel Germany to hold back forces scheduled to go to the western front. There are numerous local clashes between small forces, and such towns as Przusznysz and Marggrabova begin appearing in the news, to the distress of American readers. Russian generals Rennenkampf and Samsanov have Gen. Oberst von Prittwitz und Gaffron to sharpen their wits upon.

Great Days—August 14, 1437—First book published with a date, a Psalter, was issued at Mainz, Germany, by John Fust and Peter Schoffer, 17 years before the probable introduction of printing from movable types by Lourens Janszoon, called Coster, of Haarlem, Netherlands.

Schoffer was a longtime financial backer and partner of Johannes Gutenberg, who often is credited with the invention of printing. Printing was 15 centuries old when Gutenberg was born!

Gutenberg's right to fame rests upon his priority in putting the Bible into type. Earliest user of type for any book apparently was the aforesaid Coster, who utilized it first in Speculum Humane Salvationis, a volume of images and letters issued in 1440.

Drouth Continues To Place Secretary Wallace On Defensive In Crop Reduction Program

By CHARLES P. STEWART
Central Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, Aug. 14.—Secretary of Agriculture Henry A. Wallace decidedly is on the defensive, in connection with his crop reduction program, which the widespread drouth certainly is beginning to make look mighty ridiculous, as to the wheat yield, anyway.

It is no secret that permanent officials in the agriculture department never did think well of the plan.

While not in a position to be too critical of administration policies, and hold their jobs, they also are, confidentially, exceedingly skeptical of the proposition that much of the so-called wheat belt really is submarginal land, for crop-producing purposes, and ought to be surrendered back to cattle-raising.

As departmental wheat specialists, under pledge of strict annoymity, analyze the situation:

Most of the American wheat country always has been a region in which not more than one big harvest in three or four seasons could be depended on, but when a season has been really super-satisfactory, the harvest has been sufficient to make up for the scanty ones, maintaining a good general average.

To adapt himself to soil and climatic conditions of this character, however, the wheat belt farmer must plant his acres, regularly, up to the limit; otherwise, when he does have a bumper-crop year, he won't get the benefit of it.

In other words, he imperatively needs a surplus, whenever nature permits him to accumulate one. If a system of restrictions upon his plantings prevails, he will not harvest much in poor years, and when he has a good year, he will not harvest much either, because his planting will have been restricted.

In short, he can prosper by reducing irregularity to an average, which artificial regulation upsets, and ruins him.

Agriculture's friends do agree that the farmer is in great need of governmental aid to save him from the necessity of sacrificing a big crop when he harvests one.

Assume that he has a productive year.

Prices consequently are low, but the farmer is hard up and must sell for what he can get, to meet pressing obligations.

The ensuing two or three years are poor years, maybe, and the carry-over from the good year becomes extremely valuable, but the specu-

CROP DISTRIBUTION

EVEN before the depression with its low state of world trade and the accompanying problem of agriculture surpluses, there was a hitch somewhere in the machinery of distribution. One heard, here and there, of farmers who let crops lie on the ground or turned pigs into their orchards simply because they couldn't afford to market their stuff. The unmarketable produce was wanted in many places. Lack of co-operation and various inefficiencies were the root of the trouble.

The artificial crop limitation measures, the pig-killing, has never met widespread public approval. They have seemed wicked and wasteful when it was clear that hungry people could use more food than they were getting. Yet the same problem was there years before, and so was terrific wastage of unlimited crops.

The drouth now has joined forces with the crop restriction measures to cut foodstuffs down close to the necessary amounts. The carry-over in various lines is going to make the total about normal. This would seem to be a good time, therefore, to tackle the basic problem of efficient and profitable distribution of crops, to work toward getting back into the world market with future surpluses and to solve the old problem of waste.

We apparently have the opportunity to start from the bottom, so to speak, and to work up to a better co-ordination between production and consumption.

IS CRITICISM PROPER?

This is still a country of expressed opinion and will continue to be. There will be criticism of administrative policies no matter what party is in power, and it is right that there should be. Calling those who do the criticising narrow, selfish, wicked or immoral will not stop the criticism. It will only tend to make it more severe.

It would seem that during the past weeks there has been a special vocal effort on the part of some of those who are supporting the New Deal to condemn those who do not agree with them and have the courage to say so, in spite of the general regimentation that is going on.

But it is to be remembered that criticism is always a healthful sign in a government like ours. It is an indication that democracy is not dead. The only places where criticism is now silenced are countries like Russia, Germany and Italy which have forsaken the paths of democracy and gone in for complete regimentation which means nothing less than autocratic dictatorship.

Certainly no plan, governmental or otherwise, if it is safe and sound, will suffer any by having the full light of public opinion thrown on it. If such plan or policy has any weaknesses, its public discussion will tend to bring out the defects and give opportunity for revision and improvement. Nobody is infallible, not even a college professor, and the man who seeks to answer criticism by invective and questioning of motive, shows that he either lacks temperament or a good case of perhaps both.

Nor is it a complete answer to demand that the critic immediately present a substitute plan which is better than the one attacked. Perhaps what is required may be not a substitute plan but a paring down of the plan already produced or the elimination of some of its features. As the Saturday Evening Post well said recently, "If a man is about to jump out of a window, it is not necessary to find something else for him to do; to stop him is sufficient."

Certainly criticism is as legal and fair now as it was in the years from 1929 to 1933. The present leadership which was then in the minority showed no hesitation in criticising the administration then in power. The smearing started in early and kept up until March, 1933. It is true that we are now in the midst of a serious crisis, but the same was true back in the hectic years which preceded 1933. Certainly constructive criticism now is as necessary and in as good taste as it was then.

IT WOULD BE A NOVELTY

London too is launching a campaign against the jay-walker, but she is pursuing a method quite different from that commonly resorted to in countries having more dictatorial police than the proverbially courteous London "bobbies."

Posters and warning signs employed in the London campaign are couched in the words "Please cross here." The reasons for this designation are several. In the first place, England never succumbed as much as did this country to the arbitrary German system of "Verbotens." American laws, ordinances and regulations contain countless prohibitions, so it is natural for such campaigns as those against jaywalking to be waged with "Dont's" from red signs and redder policemen.

In England they order this otherwise. Their instructions are more in the affirmative and those whose duty it is to enforce those instructions are invariably courteous, to the point that they leave the impression of having conferred a privilege instead of denying a right.

Should the London campaign prove more successful than have similar traffic drives in American cities, it can not be adduced as an argument for the adoption here of British methods. Though a nation so accustomed to being "bawled out" by traffic cops and to "Shalt-nots" might, because of the novelty of the thing, observe to the very letter a campaign conducted on the affirmative plan of the Londoners.

C. C. C. MEMBERSHIP

The ranks of the Civilian Conservation Corps are at their highest membership. During the week of August 6, enrollment reached 360,000. From there young workers weekly remittances of $22 to $25 are going home to 315,000 families, lightening the relief load of many local agencies.

Along with the news of increased enrollment in the CCC goes the good news that more "graduates" of the camps are finding places in industry. In May, 10,100 returned to private jobs. In June, 11,650 were placed. July figures are not yet available, but indications are they will show a steady gain. Since last October near 88,000 have thus obtained outside employment.

The work being done by the young men in the CCC camps is valuable. The full story has not yet been told, but serial chapters have been interesting and reassuring. Healthy activity, physical and mental; outdoor life; useful work, and earned money are great antidotes to the evils of idleness and worry which confronted most of these young fellows.

A wife is a person who thinks it is all right to bawl out her husband before company if she adds the word "honey."

BE JUST IN YOUR CRITICISMS

If you are a fault-finder, you should expect the same treatment.

Usually those who detect deficiencies in others have as great a number of weaknesses themselves.

This may be the reason why they are critically caustic in their comments about others.

They realize their own mistakes and would like to make others appear as faulty as themselves.

By alluding to the weak spots in others they may divert attention from themselves.

Chronic fault-finders have this despicable habit, and seldom look for anything praiseworthy.

There seems to be an ambition to register complaints.

Some bosses are of this sort.

To uphold their position of supposed superiority they often deprecate what is worthy in others.

They feel that they must assume the role of critic, or those under them will become too satisfied.

When it is your job to be a critic, be just.

TRUE GREATNESS

Somewhere he got the notion he
Was masterful designed to be.
He thought commands would be obeyed
More readily if surly made;
That servants, meanly used, would run
With joy to get his bidding done.
He thought to be important meant
That he must strut where'er he went;
That courtesy and thoughtfulness
Were hindrances to man's success,
And so he shouted, snarled and raved
And badly everywhere behaved.
Mistaking arrogance for power,
He never let good nature flower.
He wondered oft why others drew
Attentions which he never knew;
But never once it crossed his mind
That much is gained by being kind,
That like by like is always earned,
A snarl by snarling is returned;
That whereso'er a mortal goes
He only gets as he bestows.

Moral:

No man is great who feels that he
Has grown too big for courtesy.

TRAGEDY

There is a great tragedy being enacted in North America today. The tragedy of drought, the tragedy of the rains.

This is not without precedent in the history of California. Seventy years ago there was a season without rain. The drought ruined every old Spanish family in California. The De la Guerras of Santa Barbara saw their herds shrink from 100,000 to 5,000 head. Great herds of famished horses were driven over the cliffs of what is now Palos Verdes, between Redondo Beach and San Pedro.

Today thousands of head of cattle are dying of thirst and hunger all over the great plains, between the River and the Mountains.

Weekly Health Talks

"A good complexion is much to be desired. Men worry along with the one that nature plus their bad habits provides. Women have resort to artificial bautification. And while there is no desire to minimize the value of cosmetics as an adjunct to feminine beauty, it must be admitted that a naturally good complexion is after all the finest kind of an appearance and social asset, whether the subject be a man or woman," states Dr. Theodore B. Appel, state secretary of health.

"The fundamental requirement for a fine complexion is good health. Any disturbance of the bodily organs may be reflected in the skin. Notably among these are sluggish bowels, digestive conditions, infected teeth or tonsils or some definite dietary habit that asserts itself in a skin eruption.

"While foods and drink naturally affect persons differently, it is definitely established that an overconsumption of meat and stimulating beverages, including alcohol, frequently react on the skin and complexion. To many persons, including children, a too generous use of fried foods, chocolate, candy, cheese, pastry and nuts, will act as a complexion destroyer. Again, an habitually insufficient daily water intake may cause a dry skin.

"Generally speaking, where skin trouble exists which cannot be traced to an infection or parasite, the need to revise one's living habits definitely arises. These will include diet, work, and sleep. In some cases one's living regimen will even need to be drastically rearranged.

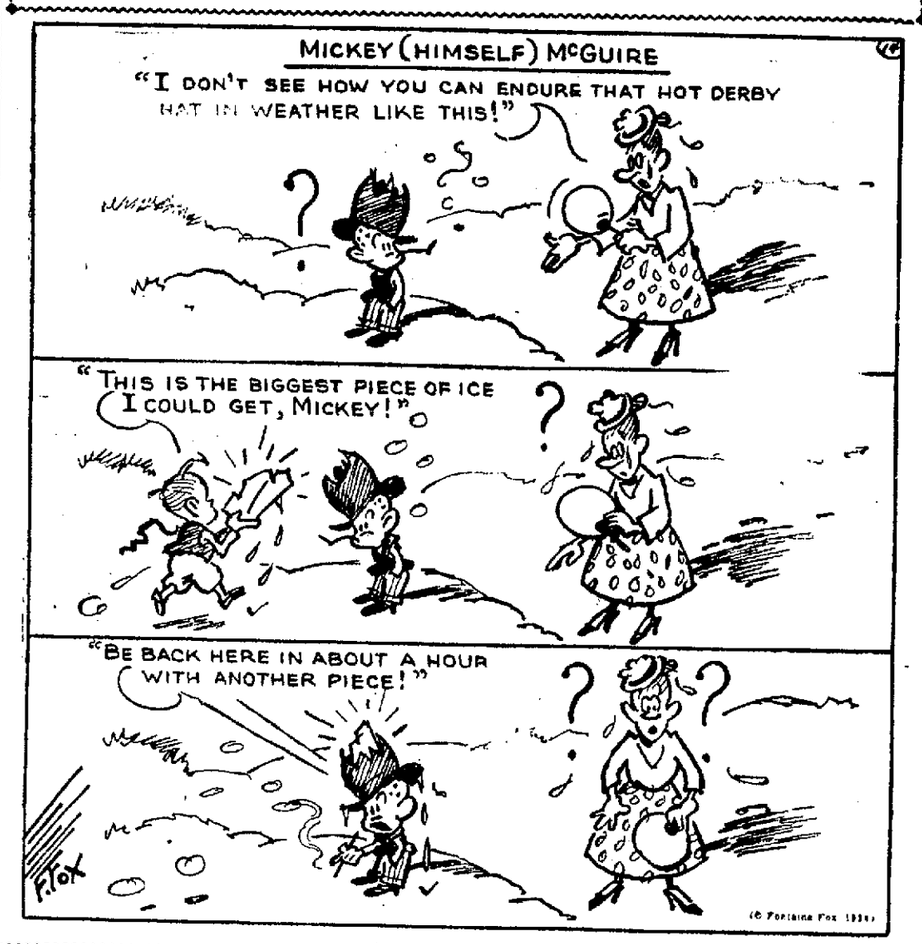

"While the moderate use of skin lotions will not interfere with natural processes, one is entirely too optimistic if she relies upon compounds and liquids to give her the "school girl complexion" which actually is only based upon constitutional vitality.

"Thus, to inhale tobacco smoke excessively, to consume alcoholic beverages in excesses, habitually to rob the body of the fresh air, rest and exercise it requires, is to run risks of acquiring a bad complexion. Ointments and so-called skin-foods can not be substituted for broken living habits.

"It goes without saying that in the external care of the skin the primary requisite is cleanliness. Pure soap and warm water are es-

A Small Businessman's View
How He Would Create Assurance

NEW YORK, Aug. 14.—Small business men—men who are not opposed to President Roosevelt—are complaining in increasing numbers that they are bewildered.

They are not opposed to social reforms, they desire the corporations and speculators bridled, but where are they themselves heading?

One man, who operates a small business, has this to say:

"I should try not to create more money by reducing the value of the present money. It cannot be done.

"I should not even borrow much more money for governmental purposes. That perhaps sounds absurd when billions are needed for relief.

"But it has been my experience that an immediate charge—a direct tax—is the easiest method of reducing both charges and costs.

"With government credit becoming sounder and sounder, business itself would arouse itself to action. That is an economic truth.

"Of course, as many economists point out, our present monetary course is made necessary by our attempts to stand alone. I probably am in a minority on this, but I do not believe we can stand alone. The greatest single piece of assurance that could come to me, I believe, would be a world settlement of economic warfare. I am for free exchange of trade and exchange, for the abolition of economic weapons.

"I am, in short, for economic peace.

"Such a course, which seems intangible to the average citizen, may nevertheless provide the most tangible results. Whether a man be a business man, a worker or a farmer he is affected similarly by the problems that oppress me, and he would be set free by the same action that would free me from my own insecurity, the greatest mass oppressor of peoples."

TODAY Is The Day

By CLARK KINNAIRD Copyright 1934 Central Press

TUESDAY, AUGUST 14

The World War Day-By-Day—August 14, 1914—Forty-four transports across the English channel with more of Kitchener's First Hundred Thousand. The plans drawn up years before for moving a British expeditionary force to fight alongside the French, are operating like clockwork. Southampton to Havre is the principal route for troops, Newhaven to Boulogne for stores.

In the Narrows between Holland and Harwich, 18 destroyers patrol a 30-mile front. In the Straits are five destroyers (10 at night) assisted by three light cruisers, and supported by 10 submarines. A force of 14 French cruisers and a flotilla of submarines guard the channel to the west. The British grand fleet is hovering at the Orkneys, ready to pounce upon any German force that may attempt to disturb the flow of British troops to the aid of the sorely pressed Belgians and French.

By the 23rd, 100,000 fighting men will have crossed in 240 transports without the loss of one by enemy attack. The British fleet is doing its job well, as usual.

Simultaneously, on the 14th, Russia's sluggish army is completing concentration of two armies on the East Prussian frontier for offensives designed to compel Germany to hold back forces scheduled to go to the western front. There are numerous local clashes between small forces, and such towns as Przusznysz and Marggrabova begin appearing in the news, to the distress of American readers. Russian generals Rennenkampf and Samsanov have Gen. Oberst von Prittwitz und Gaffron to sharpen their wits upon.

Great Days—August 14, 1437—First book published with a date, a Psalter, was issued at Mainz, Germany, by John Fust and Peter Schoffer, 17 years before the probable introduction of printing from movable types by Lourens Janszoon, called Coster, of Haarlem, Netherlands.

Schoffer was a longtime financial backer and partner of Johannes Gutenberg, who often is credited with the invention of printing. Printing was 15 centuries old when Gutenberg was born!

Gutenberg's right to fame rests upon his priority in putting the Bible into type. Earliest user of type for any book apparently was the aforesaid Coster, who utilized it first in Speculum Humane Salvationis, a volume of images and letters issued in 1440.

August 14, 1670—William Penn, 26, was arrested for preaching a sermon! He exhorted a crowd in Gracechurch street, London, in defiance of a suppression of Quaker meetings by the government.

When he was tried, jurymen disregarded judicial instructions to find him guilty and were themselves fined and, in default of payment, imprisoned. Their eventual vindi-

Drouth Continues To Place Secretary Wallace On Defensive In Crop Reduction Program

By CHARLES P. STEWART
Central Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, Aug. 14.—Secretary of Agriculture Henry A. Wallace decidedly is on the defensive, in connection with his crop reduction program, which the widespread drouth certainly is beginning to make look mighty ridiculous, as to the wheat yield, anyway.

It is no secret that permanent officials in the agriculture department never did think well of the plan.

While not in a position to be too critical of administration policies, and hold their jobs, they also are, confidentially, exceedingly skeptical of the proposition that much of the so-called wheat belt really is submarginal land, for crop-producing purposes, and ought to be surrendered back to cattle-raising.

As departmental wheat specialists, under pledge of strict annoymity, analyze the situation:

Most of the American wheat country always has been a region in which not more than one big harvest in three or four seasons could be depended on, but when a season has been really super-satisfactory, the harvest has been sufficient to make up for the scanty ones, maintaining a good general average.

To adapt himself to soil and climatic conditions of this character, however, the wheat belt farmer must plant his acres, regularly, up to the limit; otherwise, when he does have a bumper-crop year, he won't get the benefit of it.

In other words, he imperatively needs a surplus, whenever nature permits him to accumulate one. If a system of restrictions upon his plantings prevails, he will not harvest much in poor years, and when he has a good year, he will not harvest much either, because his planting will have been restricted.

In short, he can prosper by reducing irregularity to an average, which artificial regulation upsets, and ruins him.

Agriculture's friends do agree that the farmer is in great need of governmental aid to save him from the necessity of sacrificing a big crop when he harvests one.

Assume that he has a productive year.

Prices consequently are low, but the farmer is hard up and must sell for what he can get, to meet pressing obligations.

The ensuing two or three years are poor years, maybe, and the carry-over from the good year becomes extremely valuable, but the speculator, who acquired the good year's yield, profits by the price advance; not the farmer.

Drouth Continues To Place Secretary Wallace On Defensive In Crop Reduction Program

The late President Alexander Legge of the International Harvester company, as chairman of the Federal Farm board, did his utmost to establish a set-up to meet this difficulty, but the time for it apparently was not ripe. Besides, as Legge told me, he was fought, at every turn, by speculaltive interests, which obviously would be cut off from a source of huge revenue, if such a plan were adopted.

George N. Peek, first AAA director, also was so bitterly opposed to acreage limitations and plowings under that he was slid out of his position and into the Commodity Credit corporation, where he is in less conspicuous conflict with the Wallace-Tugwell program.

Oh, there is plenty of expert dissent from the philosophy of boosting farm prices by artificial reduction of production.

Cotton plowings under haven't given desired results either; intensified cultivation of the cotton which wasn't plowed under has offset them.

Swine raisers likewise are discontented. They have been paid by the government for the young pigs they destroyed instead of marketing, but they have received rather more than correspondingly less for the grown animals that they did market.

And now tobacco growers are raising the point that lower cigaret prices, to encourage smoking, probably would serve their purpose better than higher prices, stimulated by a curtailment in the supply of tobacco.

Four kinds of farmers were to have been helped by production cuts:

Wheat growers, tobacco growers, cotton planters and hog raisers.

For awhile the outstanding miscalculation in connection with this quadruple experiment at counteracting the forces of nature seemed to be in the field of swine raising.

But this was before the drouth had blighted the wheat crop.

The cotton crop fooled the calculators in a way they hadn't expected; it isn't cut down as they had anticipated.

Taxation is a factor in the tobacco growers' problem. The impost on the weed is so high that they reckon its consumption is being held at a minimum.

A hick town is a place where a man won't talk business on Sunday unless he has had too much liquor.

It isn't the hot climate that makes people naughty. The climate makes them loaf, and loafing does the rest.

If you feel low-

don't be discouraged—remember, loss of strength... sleeplessness... nervousness... paleness... lack of appetite... and general run-down condition quite often may be traced directly to low blood strength—that is, the red corpuscles and vital oxygen-carrying hemo-glo-bin of the blood are below normal.

S.S.S. is the great, scientifically-tested medicine for restoring this blood content. Its benefits are progressive... accumulative... and enduring. By all means try it for better health and more happiness. Unless your case is exceptional, you should soon enjoy again the satisfaction of appetizing food... sound sleep... and renewed strength.

lator, who acquired the good year's yield, profits by the price advance; not the farmer.

The late President Alexander Legge of the International Harvester company, as chairman of the Federal Farm board, did his utmost to establish a set-up to meet this difficulty, but the time for it apparently was not ripe. Besides, as Legge told me, he was fought, at every turn, by speculaltive interests, which obviously would be cut off from a source of huge revenue, if such a plan were adopted.

George N. Peek, first AAA director, also was so bitterly opposed to acreage limitations and plowings under that he was slid out of his position and into the Commodity Credit corporation, where he is in less conspicuous conflict with the Wallace-Tugwell program.

Oh, there is plenty of expert dissent from the philosophy of boosting farm prices by artificial reduction of production.

Cotton plowings under haven't given desired results either; intensified cultivation of the cotton which wasn't plowed under has offset them.

Swine raisers likewise are discontented. They have been paid by the government for the young pigs they destroyed instead of marketing, but they have received rather more than correspondingly less for the grown animals that they did market.

And now tobacco growers are raising the point that lower cigaret prices, to encourage smoking, probably would serve their purpose better than higher prices, stimulated by a curtailment in the supply of tobacco.

Four kinds of farmers were to have been helped by production cuts:

Wheat growers, tobacco growers, cotton planters and hog raisers.

For awhile the outstanding miscalculation in connection with this quadruple experiment at counteracting the forces of nature seemed to be in the field of swine raising.

But this was before the drouth had blighted the wheat crop.

The cotton crop fooled the calculators in a way they hadn't expected; it isn't cut down as they had anticipated.

Taxation is a factor in the tobacco growers' problem. The impost on the weed is so high that they reckon its consumption is being held at a minimum.

A hick town is a place where a man won't talk business on Sunday unless he has had too much liquor.

It isn't the hot climate that makes people naughty. The climate makes them loaf, and loafing does the rest.

lator, who acquired the good year's yield, profits by the price advance; not the farmer.

The late President Alexander Legge of the International Harvester company, as chairman of the Federal Farm board, did his utmost to establish a set-up to meet this difficulty, but the time for it apparently was not ripe. Besides, as Legge told me, he was fought, at every turn, by speculaltive interests, which obviously would be cut off from a source of huge revenue, if such a plan were adopted.

George N. Peek, first AAA director, also was so bitterly opposed to acreage limitations and plowings under that he was slid out of his position and into the Commodity Credit corporation, where he is in less conspicuous conflict with the Wallace-Tugwell program.

Oh, there is plenty of expert dissent from the philosophy of boosting farm prices by artificial reduction of production.

Cotton plowings under haven't given desired results either; intensified cultivation of the cotton which wasn't plowed under has offset them.

Swine raisers likewise are discontented. They have been paid by the government for the young pigs they destroyed instead of marketing, but they have received rather more than correspondingly less for the grown animals that they did market.

And now tobacco growers are raising the point that lower cigaret prices, to encourage smoking, probably would serve their purpose better than higher prices, stimulated by a curtailment in the supply of tobacco.

Four kinds of farmers were to have been helped by production cuts:

Wheat growers, tobacco growers, cotton planters and hog raisers.

For awhile the outstanding miscalculation in connection with this quadruple experiment at counteracting the forces of nature seemed to be in the field of swine raising.

But this was before the drouth had blighted the wheat crop.

The cotton crop fooled the calculators in a way they hadn't expected; it isn't cut down as they had anticipated.

Taxation is a factor in the tobacco growers' problem. The impost on the weed is so high that they reckon its consumption is being held at a minimum.

A hick town is a place where a man won't talk business on Sunday unless he has had too much liquor.

It isn't the hot climate that makes people naughty. The climate makes them loaf, and loafing does the rest.

If you feel low-

don't be discouraged—remember, loss of strength...sleeplessness...nervousness...paleness...lack of appetite...and general run-down condition quite often may be traced directly to low blood strength—that is, the red corpuscles and vital oxygen-carrying hemo-glo-bin of the blood are below normal.

"Moreover, the fear that shampooing leads to baldness apparently has no function in fact. The scalp is part of the skin. Ordinary personal sanitation dictates that the dirt collecting on the hair be removed. Excessive shampooing, however, is not a good practice.

Italian Day At Park Wednesday

Expect Large Crowd At Cascade Park For Annual Event

REV. FR. DE MITA GIVES PROGRAM

Some thousands of persons are expected to attend the second annual Itallan Day celebration at Cascade park Wednesday. The Rev. Fr. Nicholas DeMita, pastor of the St. Vitus church, general chairman in charge, has arranged an enjoyable program for the occasion.

Rev. DeMita was the originator of the Italian Day celebration in 1933. The event last year proved such a success that it was decided to make it an annual affair.

In conjunction with the feast, the Assumption of the Blessed Virgin Mary will be observed with four masses in the St. Vitus church. The masses will be said at 6:00 o'clock, 7:15 o'clock, 8:30 o'clock and 10:00 o'clock. Italian societies in the city will attend the last mass in a body.

To Parade

The organizations will parade in a body to church. Following the services, a parade will form in front of church and march to Washington street, to South Mill, down to East Long avenue. From Long avenue the parade will move to Moravia street to Home street and disband at Maitland street. Rev. DeMita has named Peter P. Capitola parade marshal. Assisting Mr. Capitola are: Anthony Quintilano, Raymond Peluso, John DeLorenzo, R. Lemer, Guiseppe Tomasello, Louis Bosco and Vitus Conti.

Starting at 1:00 o'clock, on Maitland and South Jefferson streets, hundreds of automobiles will transport the throng to Cascade park, where dinner, band concert, athletic program, dancing, swimming, bocce tournament and fireworks will be enjoyed.

From 2:00 to 4:00 o'clock, 6 to 8 and 10:00 to 11 o'clock, Anthony Basile and his South Side Board of Trade band will play. During the afternoon, an athletic program will be staged. One of the features of the day will be a bocce tournament in which the different Italian societies will participate. A fireworks display at 11:30 o'clock will bring to a close the event.

With ideal weather prevailing, the affair is expected to be a success from every standpoint. The committee in charge: The Rev. Fr. Nicholas DeMita, chairman; Charles DeCarbo, assistant chairman; Raymond Peluso, president Umberto Primo society; Anthony Quintiliano, president of Casa Savoia; R. Lemer, president of Duce of Abruzzi of Croton; Guiseppe Tomasello, president of Rinascenza Lodge No. 19; Vitus Conti, president of Knights of St. Vitus, and Louis Bosco, president of the Holy Name society.

Federal Aid For College Freshmen

Some Needy Students At Penn State To Benefit From Funds

(Special To The News)

STATE COLLEGE, Pa., Aug. 14—Thanks to the prospects of federal aid for the forthcoming year and the new FERA stipulation that half of the FERA moneys expended by colleges for student relief must go to students who were not in college during January, 1934, the lot of the Penn State freshmen is at last a happy one.

Or if not a happy one, at least a happier one.

About one in six among the expected freshmen enrollment will be eligible for a job on a supplementary College project to be paid for by the funds of Uncle Sam, providing he can attest to his need for such aid.

Under the regulations recently promulgated by the FERA student-aid administration, a total of 524 students, half of whom must not have been in College in January, 1934, will have an opportunity to earn an average of $15 per month toward their keep during the next college year.

A total appropriation of $78,600 is expected by the college authorities during the ten months from September to June to help in putting deserving students through college.

Eighty seven more students will be eligible to have their names on the federal payroll this year than last. This is due to the fact that the administration has increased the proportion of eligible students from 10 to 12 per cent of the enrollment as of October 14, 1933.

OLD BUTTER STILL GOOD

(International News Service)

ST. LOUIS—Workmen cleaning an old well on a farm near Valley Park, south of here, unearthed from 4 feet of sediment at the bottom a tin bucket containing about a pound and a half butter, believed to be 30 years old and sealed in firmly by the sediment and still well preserved. COAST TO COAST ON $33.06 WITH MOBILGAS AND MOBILOIL

A. A. A. CONTEST BOARD TEST RUN* AVERAGES 21 MILES PER GALLON

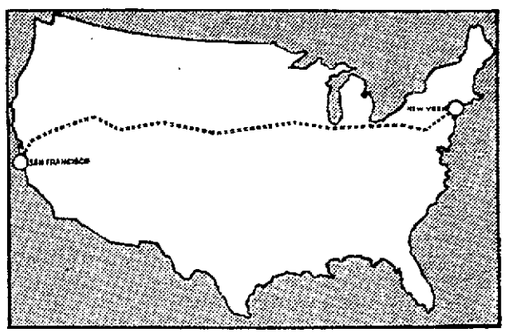

AT SAN FRANCISCO—total cost for gas and oil only $33.06! That's the remarkable new coast-to-coast record with Mobilgas and Mobiloil.

"My hat's off to Mobilgas and Mobiloil," Harry Hartz, who piloted the car, said. "They function perfectly under all conditions."

THROUGH ALL SORTS OF WEATHER, the Airflow spanned the continent, averaging 21.4 miles per gallon of Mobilgas. Mobilgas functioned perfectly through all weathers, in all altitudes up to 7,000 feet without carburetor adjustment.

HERE'S THE START of the record-breaking coast-to-coast run to prove how economical it is to cross America in a modern car using a modern motor fuel. All the way across the country the Airflow stopped only at Mobilgas stations. Mobilgas and Mobiloil were used exclusively.

The gas tank was kept under lock and key. Lee Oldfield, A.A.A. Contest Board representative, kept official check of every ounce of gas used on the trip. The picture shows Oldfield locking the gas tank, and the Airflow all ready to start on its thrilling cross-continent economy trip.

Here's the car's route over mountains and plains under ever-changing atmospheric conditions from New York to San Francisco. The trip was made under supervision of A.A.A. Contest Board.

Italian Day At Park Wednesday

REV. FR. DE MITA GIVES PROGRAM

Some thousands of persons are expected to attend the second annual Italian Day celebration at Cascade park Wednesday. The Rev. Fr. Nicholas DeMita, pastor of the St. Vitus church, general chairman in charge, has arranged an enjoyable program for the occasion.

Rev. DeMita was the originator of the Italian Day celebration in 1933. The event last year proved such a success that it was decided to make i. an annual affair.

In conjunction with the feast, the Assumption of the Blessed Virgin Mary will be observed with four masses in the St. Vitus church. The masses will be said at 6:00 o'clock, 7:15 o'clock, 8:30 o'clock and 10:00 o'clock. Italian societies in the city will attend the last mass in a body.

To Parade

The organizations will parade in a body to church. Following the services, a parade will form in front of church and march to Washington street, to South Mill, down to East Long avenue. From Long avenue the parade will move to Moravia street to Home street and disband at Maitland street. Rev. DeMita has named Peter P. Capitola parade marshal. Assisting Mr. Capitola are: Anthony Quintilano, Raymond Peluso, John DeLorenzo, R. Lemer, Guiseppe Tomasello, Louis Bosco and Vitus Conti.

Starting at 1:00 o'clock, on Maitland and South Jefferson streets, hundreds of automobiles will transport the throng to Cascade park, where dinner, band concert, athletic program, dancing, swimming, bocce tournament and fireworks will be enjoyed.

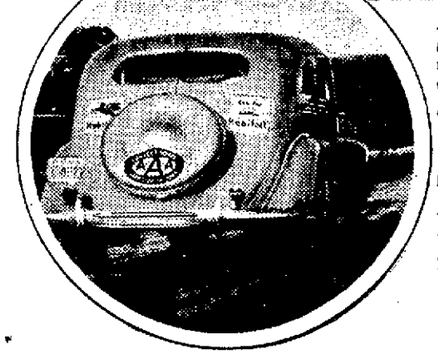

From 2:00 to 4:00 o'clock, 6 to 8 and 10:00 to 11 o'clock, Anthony Basile and his South Side Board of Trade band will play. During the afternoon, an athletic program will be staged. One of the features of the day will be a bocce tournament in which the different Italian societies will participate. A fireworks display at 11:30 o'clock will bring to a close the event.

With ideal weather prevailing, the affair is expected to be a success from every standpoint. The committee in charge: The Rev. Fr. Nicholas DeMita, chairman; Charles DeCarbo, assistant chairman; Raymond Peluso, president Umberto Primo society; Anthony Quintiliano, president of Casa Savola; R. Lemer, president of Duce of Abruzzi of Croton; Guiseppe Tomasello, president of Rinascenza Lodge No. 19; Vitus Conti, president of Knights of St. Vitus, and Louis Bosco, president of the Holy Name society.

COAST TO COAST ON $33.06 WITH MOBILGAS AND MOBILOIL

A. A. A. CONTEST BOARD TEST RUN AVERAGES 21 MILES PER GALLON*

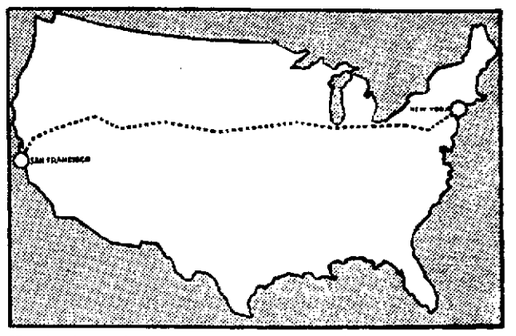

AT SAN FRANCISCO—total cost for gas and oil only $33.06! That's the remarkable new coast-to-coast record with Mobilgas and Mobiloil.

"My hat's off to Mobilgas and Mobiloil," Harry Hartz, who piloted the car, said. "They function perfectly under all conditions."

THROUGH ALL SORTS OF WEATHER, the Airflow spanned the continent, averaging 21.4 miles per gallon of Mobilgas. Mobilgas functioned perfectly through all weathers, in all altitudes up to 7,000 feet without carburetor adjustment.

HERE'S THE START of the record-breaking coast-to-coast run to prove how economical it is to cross America in a modern car using a modern motor fuel. All the way across the country the Airflow stopped only at Mobilgas stations. Mobilgas and Mobiloil were used exclusively.

The gas tank was kept under lock and key. Lee Oldfield, A.A.A. Contest Board representative, kept official check of every ounce of gas used on the trip. The picture shows Oldfield locking the gas tank, and the Airflow all ready to start on its thrilling cross-continent economy trip.

Here's the car's route over mountains and plains under ever-changing atmospheric conditions from New York to San Francisco. The trip was made under supervision of A.A.A. Contest Board.

All performance claims herewith made are based on Certificate of Performance issued by the Contest Board of the A.A.A., sanction number 3068.*

(Special To The News)

STATE COLLEGE, Pa., Aug. 14—Thanks to the prospects of federal aid for the forthcoming year and the new FERA stipulation that half of the FERA moneys expended by colleges for student relief must go to students who were not in college during January, 1934, the lot of the Penn State freshmen is at last a happy one.

Or if not a happy one, at least a happier one.

About one in six among the expected freshmen enrollment will be eligible for a job on a supplementary College project to be paid for by the funds of Uncle Sam, providing he can attest to his need for such aid.

Under the regulations recently promulgated by the FERA student-aid administration, a total of 524 students, half of whom must not have been in College in January, 1934, will have an opportunity to earn an average of $15 per month toward their keep during the next college year.

A total appropriation of $78,600 is expected by the college authorities during the ten months from September to June to help in putting deserving students through college.

Eighty seven more students will be eligible to have their names on the federal payroll this year than last. This is due to the fact that the administration has increased the proportion of eligible students from 10 to 12 per cent of the enrollment as of October 14, 1933.

Find Poisonous Spider Common In Northwest

Black Widow Spiders Are Said To Be Very Dangerous

(International News Service)

OGDEN, Utah — Black widow spiders are common in this part of the country. Serious bites are rare, however, Dr. Irvin D. Rasmussen of the intermountain forest and range experiment station here said in commenting on the case of a Boise, Idaho, physician who suffered serious consequences from a nip from a member of this species.

"It is a medium sized glossy black spider," he said, "with a red mark the shape of an hour glass on the ventor of the female's abdomen. Only the females are considered dangerous. They are fairly common and occur throughout the intermountain region, are most frequently observed at the lower elevations, as the foothills and valleys, are found under stones, logs, masses of vegetation, debris, boards, and occasionally around buildings.

"In common with most spiders it feeds on small living animals including for the most part insects that are ensnared in its web.

"It is exceedingly venomous and a bite from one of them may result in great pain and even death. Whereas, the very ferocious appearing tarantula is unable to inflict more than temporary pain and injury."

Little is known concerning treatment for the bites, Dr. Rassmussen said.

2,000,000 Pupils Likely To Enroll

Number About Same As Last Year Says Supt. Rule

(International News Service)

HARRISBURG, Aug. 14.—Although schools in a few rural sections already are open, the majority of them will begin the 101st year of free public schools on Tuesday, Sept. 4.

According to estimates made by Dr. James N. Rule, superintendent of public instruction, about 2,000,000 pupils will enroll, the same number as last year.

The cost of the public schools for the coming year was estimated at $180,000,000, maintaining a $23,000,000 saving effected last year.

Reports to the department indicate that school finances are in much better shape than last year, when more than $2,000,000 was outstanding in teacher salaries and about the same total was unpaid for high school tuition.

The department already has distributed all but $2,000,000 of a special $5,000,000 fund designed to aid financially embarrassed districts. About 600 districts got such aid.

School buildings and grounds will be in better shape than usual because of $10,000,000 spent in CWA and PWA projects. Few new buildings will be opened.

Preachers Will Play Laymen At Methodist Picnic

Strong Lineup Of Pastors Has Been Announced For District Event Next Week

In connection with the Grove City district Methodist picnic at Buhl park, Sharon, on Tuesday, August 21, the chairman of the sports committee has received the lineup of the pastor's team, which will battle a picked squad from the Men's Brotherhood of the district. This game will climax the big day and an exciting time is looked forward to.

Inasmuch as many of the pastors have been on their annual vacations, it is expected that they will be in perfect physical condition for the struggle.

The lineup will be as follows: Catcher, Galbraith, Epworth M. E.; pitcher, Bloomquist, Savannah M. E.; first base, White, First M. E. of New Castle; second base, Barr, of Franklin; third base, Homer Davis of Sharon; right field, M. Mook, Sandy Lake; left field, Frampton, Grove City; center field, Lyons, Greenville; right short, Farr, Grove City; left short, Cass, Grove City.

The substitutes will include: Winger, Jamestown; Allgood, Clarksville; Koonce, Polk; Galbreath, Sharon; Stevenson, Farrell; Doverspike, Wheatland; Melzer, East Brook; Joshua of New Castle, will be first aid and water boy; H. L. Johnson of New Castle, will be scorekeeper, and Dr. W. A. Womer of New Castle, umpire.

It will take considerable effort on the part of the brotherhood to put a team in the field, which will be able to cope with this formidable aggregation, it is believed. The preachers are anxiously awaiting the announcement of the laymen's lineup.

ENGLISH FIRM BUILDING LARGEST FLYING BOAT

LONDON—The world's largest flying boat, with the exception of the German DO-X, which was never placed into commercial service, is being built by the Blackburn Aeroplane company here.

Powered with six motors of 650 horsepower each, the new craft is designed to carry fifty passengers in addition to a pilot, two co-pilots, two stewards and two stewardesses.

Incorporating several new departures in design, the plane, a highwing monoplane, is destined for long over-water trips. Its speed and cruising radius as well as several features of its design are being kept a close secret.

AROUND CITY HALL

Police chronology for 24 hours ending at 3:30 p. m., August 13, six arrests on charges as follows: violation of traffic regulation 1, suspicion 3, drunkenness 1 and disorderly conduct 1.

Harry Hoskins, city engineer, has been ordered by council to make a survey of the city sanitary sewer system, its operating cost and through this the city will be able, it believes to determine how much Union township is to be charged for connecting with the city system. In an opinion in which he advised the foregoing City Solicitor White offered several other suggestions.

One suggestion was that the township or property owners will have to provide their own sewer connections to connect with the city system. He pointed out that the most difficult problem from the standpoint of people in the township would be how much the city would be paid for the use of the sewer, because many of them do not have the cost.

He recommended the city inaugurate a plan, whereby after the survey of the property is made and it is registered with the city and a sewer is actually constructed in front of the property, the owner may connect with the sewer under one of four plans, viz:

1—Paying to the city a fixed sum for the land to be served by the sewer.

2—Proyerty owner would enter into a contract to pay the connection charge and interest, over a five year period, all to be secured by a judgment note filed against the property at the cost of the owner and the city to be furnished with waivers of all liens existing on the property.

3—A paymnt similar to the foregoing amortized over a 20 year period so that the property owner could pay a certain amount per foot front each year.

4—A yearly rental charge of a certain amount for each foot front. This would give the tenant or owner no permanent right in the sewer system and if it could be properly arranged so as to collect the payments easily, this would be the best method for the city.

White said that if the suggestions were adopted there is nothing left to be done except for the city engineer to calculate what the present value of our system is, operating cost and decide a reasonable amount to charge the people in the township.

"Your pulse is still heavy" said Mayor Mayne yesterday to an operator of an auto whom he ordered held for court on a charge of operating his machine while in an intoxicated condition. The young man had been examined by a physician and said he was not drunk. The mayor said: "Leave me feel your pulse." After he had held his watch for a minute and pulled his pulse feeling stunt, remarked: "It's eighty now. That's not quite as fast as 140 last night."

Persons who would panhandle should know their stuff before they start, or at least, know of whom they seek alms. Sunday a chap by the name of McDonald "braced" Sergeant G. C. Syling. It was quite evident he did not know Syling was a policeman. He sought alms and within a few minutes was given a bed for the night. The bed happened to be an iron one which lacked a mattress. After having been convicted he was put in a city auto and given a 20 mile ride and shoved out of the car along a highway.

New Wilmington

Miss Genevieve Warnock of Pittsburgh, was the guest of friends here during the conference session.

The annual picnic of the Methodist Sunday school is being held today at Buhl Farm in Sharon.

Emblazoning forth their welcome to Rotarian tourists, the signs at each entrance of town are being painted.

Mrs. Edward McKean has completed a stay at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. T. C. Davis of East Neshannock.

Rooker, star end of the Pittsburgh University football team, paid a visit to the home of his mother-in-law, Mrs. Lausberg of Waugh avenue on Friday.

The Shenango township Harvest Home picnic will be held Thursday August 16, at the Robert Bell grove. In addition to their usual ball games and sports there will be a quilt and fancy work display.

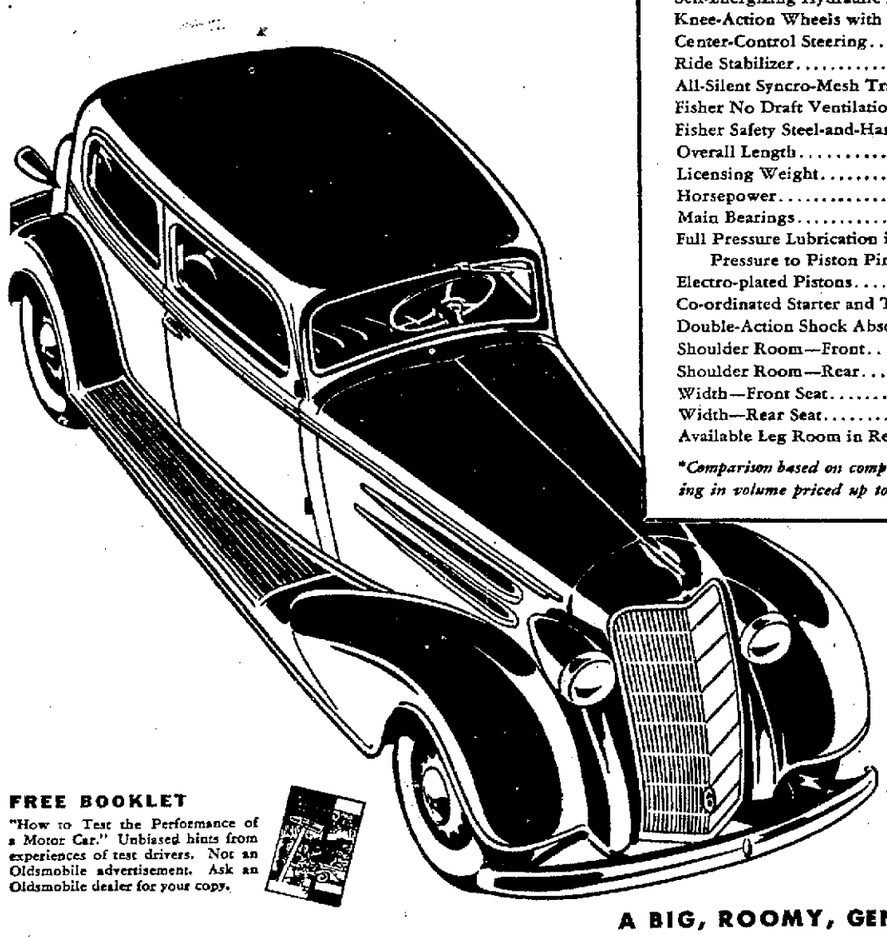

Mr. and Mrs. J. Stewart Price with Mr. and Mrs. Frank McClure left Sunday for a tour through the Western states. They will visit with relatives in Kansas, and will enjoy the Fair on the return trip. They expect to be gone two weeks.

John Eagleson left yesterday for the post session of the summer session of Pittsburgh University where he will complete work for his teaching certificate in Science. Eagleson was appointed instructor in science at a recent meeting of the School Board but subsequent developments proved that he lacked two hours of credit in the science field. He will take a course in astronomy at the summer session.

Find Poisonous Spider Common In Northwest

Black Widow Spiders Are Said To Be Very Dangerous

(International News Service)

OGDEN, Utah — Black widow spiders are common in this part of the country. Serious bites are rare, however, Dr. Irvin D. Rasmussen of the intermountain forest and range experiment station here said in commenting on the case of a Boise, Idaho, physician who suffered serious consequences from a nip from a member of this species.

"It is a medium sized glossy black spider," he said, "with a red mark the shape of an hour glass on the ventor of the female's abdomen. Only the females are considered dangerous. They are fairly common and occur throughout the intermountain region, are most frequently observed at the lower elevations, as the foothills and valleys, are found under stones, logs, masses of vegetation, debris, boards, and occasionally around buildings.

"In common with most spiders it feeds on small living animals including for the most part insects that are ensnared in its web.

"It is exceedingly venomous and a bite from one of them may result in great pain and even death. Whereas, the very ferocious appearing tarantula is unable to inflict more than temporary pain and injury."

Little is known concerning treatment for the bites, Dr. Rassmussen said.

2,000,000 Pupils Likely To Enroll

Number About Same As Last Year Says Supt. Rule

(International News Service)

HARRISBURG, Aug. 14.—Although schools in a few rural sections already are open, the majority of them will begin the 101st year of free public schools on Tuesday, Sept. 4.

Accordiing to estimates made by Dr. James N. Rule, superintendent of public instruction, about 2,000,000 pupils will enroll, the same number as last year.

The cost of the public schools for the coming year was estimated at $180,000,000, maintaining a $23,000,000 saving effected last year.

Reports to the department indicate that school finances are in much better shape than last year, when more than $2,000,000 was outstanding in teacher salaries and about the same total was unpaid for high school tuition.

The department already has distributed all but $2,000,000 of a special $5,000,000 fund designed to aid financially embarrassed districts. About 600 districts got such aid.

School buildings and grounds will be in better shape than usual because of $10,000,000 spent in CWA and PWA projects. Few new buildings will be opened.

Preachers Will Play Laymen At Methodist Picnic

Strong Lineup Of Pastors Has Been Announced For District Event Next Week

In connection with the Grove City district Methodist picnic at Buhl park, Sharon, on Tuesday, August 21, the chairman of the sports committee has received the lineup of the pastor's team, which will battle a picked squad from the Men's Brotherhood of the district. This game will climax the big day and an exciting time is looked forward to.

Inasmuch as many of the pastors have been on their annual vacations, it is expected that they will be in perfect physical condition for the struggle.

The lineup will be as follows: Catcher, Galbraith, Epworth M. E.; pitcher, Bloomquist, Savannah M. E.; first base, White, First M. E. of New Castle; second base, Barr, of Franklin; third base, Homer Davis of Sharon; right field, M. Mook, Sandy Lake; left field, Frampton, Grove City; center field, Lyons, Greenville; right short, Farr, Grove City; left short, Cass, Grove City.

The substitutes will include: Winger, Jamestown; Allgood, Clarksville; Koonce, Polk; Galbreath, Sharon; Stevenson, Farrell; Doverspike, Wheatland; Melzer, East Brook; Joshua of New Castle, will be first aid and water boy; H. L. Johnson of New Castle, will be scorekeeper, and Dr. W. A. Womer of New Castle, umpire.

It will take considerable effort on the part of the brotherhood to put a team in the field, which will be able to cope with this formidable aggregation, it is believed. The preachers are anxiously awaiting the announcement of the laymen's lineup.

ENGLISH FIRM BUILDING LARGEST FLYING BOAT

LONDON—The world's largest flying boat, with the exception of the German DO-X, which was never placed into commercial service, is being built by the Blackburn Aeroplane company here.

Powered with six motors of 650 horsepower each, the new craft is designed to carry fifty passengers in addition to a pilot, two co-pilots, two stewards and two stewardesses.

Incorporating several new departures in design, the plane, a highwing monoplane, is destined for long over-water trips. Its speed and cruising radius as well as several features of its design are being kept a close secret.

AROUND CITY HALL

Police chronology for 24 hours ending at 3:30 p. m., August 13, six arrests on charges as follows: violation of traffic regulation 1, suspicion 3, drunkenness 1 and disorderly conduct 1.

Harry Hoskins, city engineer, has been ordered by council to make a survey of the city sanitary sewer system, its operating cost and through this the city will be able, it believes to determine how much Union township is to be charged for connecting with the city system. In an opinion in which he advised the foregoing City Solicitor White offered several other suggestions.

One suggestion was that the township or property owners will have to provide their own sewer connections to connect with the city system. He pointed out that the most difficult problem from the standpoint of people in the township would be how much the city would be paid for the use of the sewer, because many of them do not have the cost.

He recommended the city inaugurate a plan, whereby after the survey of the property is made and it is registered with the city and a sewer is actually constructed in front of the property, the owner may connect with the sewer under one of four plans, viz:

1—Paying to the city a fixed sum for the land to be served by the sewer.

2—Proyerty owner would enter into a contract to pay the connection charge and interest, over a five year period, all to be secured by a judgment note filed against the property at the cost of the owner and the city to be furnished with waivers of all liens existing on the property.

3—A paymnt similar to the foregoing amortized over a 20 year period so that the property owner could pay a certain amount per foot front each year.

4—A yearly rental charge of a certain amount for each foot front. This would give the tenant or owner no permanent right in the sewer system and if it could be properly arranged so as to collect the payments easily, this would be the best method for the city.

White said that if the suggestions were adopted there is nothing left to be done except for the city engineer to calculate what the present value of our system is, operating cost and decide a reasonable amount to charge the people in the township.

"Your pulse is still heavy" said Mayor Mayne yesterday to an operator of an auto whom he ordered held for court on a charge of operating his machine while in an intoxicated condition. The young man had been examined by a physician and said he was not drunk. The mayor said: "Leave me feel your pulse." After he had held his watch for a minute and pulled his pulse feeling stunt, remarked: "It's eighty now. That's not quite as fast as 140 last night."

Persons who would panhandle should know their stuff before they start, or at least, know of whom they seek alms. Sunday a chap by the name of McDonald "braced" Sergeant G. C. Syling. It was quite evident he did not know Syling was a policeman. He sought alms and within a few minutes was given a bed for the night. The bed happened to be an iron one which lacked a mattress. After having been convicted he was put in a city auto and given a 20 mile ride and shoved out of the car along a highway.

The Shenango township Harvest Home picnic will be held Thursday August 16, at the Robert Bell grove. In addition to their usual ball games and sports there will be a quilt and fancy work display.

Mr. and Mrs. J. Stewart Price with Mr. and Mrs. Frank McClure left Sunday for a tour through the Western states. They will visit with relatives in Kansas, and will enjoy the Fair on the return trip. They expect to be gone two weeks.

John Eagleson left yesterday for the post session of the summer session of Pittsburgh University where he will complete work for his teaching certificate in Science. Eagleson was appointed instructor in science at a recent meeting of the School Board but subsequent developments proved that he lacked two hours of credit in the science field. He will take a course in astronomy at the summer session.

Preachers Will Play Laymen At Methodist Picnic

Strong Lineup Of Pastors Has Been Announced For District Event Next Week

In connection with the Grove City district Methodist picnic at Buhl park, Sharon, on Tuesday, August 21, the chairman of the sports committee has received the lineup of the pastor's team, which will battle a picked squad from the Men's Brotherhood of the district. This game will climax the big day and an exciting time is looked forward to.

Inasmuch as many of the pastors have been on their annual vacations, it is expected that they will be in perfect physical condition for the struggle.

The lineup will be as follows: Catcher, Galbraith, Epworth M. E.; pitcher, Bloomquist, Savannah M. E.; first base, White, First M. E. of New Castle; second base, Barr, of Franklin; third base, Homer Davis of Sharon; right field, M. Mook, Sandy Lake; left field, Frampton, Grove City; center field, Lyons, Greenville; right short, Farr, Grove City; left short, Cass, Grove City.

The substitutes will include: Winger, Jamestown; Allgood, Clarksville; Koonce, Polk; Galbreath, Sharon; Stevenson, Farrell; Doverspike, Wheatland; Melzer, East Brook; Joshua of New Castle, will be first aid and water boy; H. L. Johnson of New Castle, will be scorekeeper, and Dr. W. A. Womer of New Castle, umpire.

It will take considerable effort on the part of the brotherhood to put a team in the field, which will be able to cope with this formidable aggregation, it is believed. The preachers are anxiously awaiting the announcement of the laymen's lineup.

ENGLISH FIRM BUILDING LARGEST FLYING BOAT

LONDON—The world's largest flying boat, with the exception of the German DO-X, which was never placed into commercial service, is being built by the Blackburn Aeroplane company here.

Powered with six motors of 650 horsepower each, the new craft is designed to carry fifty passengers in addition to a pilot, two co-pilots, two stewards and two stewardesses.

Incorporating several new departures in design, the plane, a highwing monoplane, is destined for long over-water trips. Its speed and cruising radius as well as several features of its design are being kept a close secret.

AROUND CITY HALL

Police chronology for 24 hours ending at 3:30 p. m., August 13, six arrests on charges as follows: violation of traffic regulation 1, suspicion 3, drunkenness 1 and disorderly conduct 1.

Harry Hoskins, city engineer, has been ordered by council to make a survey of the city sanitary sewer system, its operating cost and through this the city will be able, it believes to determine how much Union township is to be charged for connecting with the city system. In an opinion in which he advised the foregoing City Solicitor White offered several other suggestions.

One suggestion was that the township or property owners will have to provide their own sewer connections to connect with the city system. He pointed out that the most difficult problem from the standpoint of people in the township would be how much the city would be paid for the use of the sewer, because many of them do not have the cost.

He recommended the city inaugurate a plan, whereby after the survey of the property is made and it is registered with the city and a sewer is actually constructed in front of the property, the owner may connect with the sewer under one of four plans, viz:

1—Paying to the city a fixed sum for the land to be served by the sewer.

2—Proyerty owner would enter into a contract to pay the connection charge and interest, over a five year period, all to be secured by a judgment note filed against the property at the cost of the owner and the city to be furnished with waivers of all liens existing on the property.

3—A paymnt similar to the foregoing amortized over a 20 year perlod so that the property owner could pay a certain amount per foot front each year.

4—A yearly rental charge of a certain amount for each foot front. This would give the tenant or owner no permanent right in the sewer system and if it could be properly arranged so as to collect the payments easily, this would be the best method for the city.

White said that if the suggestions were adopted there is nothing left to be done except for the city engineer to calculate what the present value of our system is, operating cost and decide a reasonable amount to charge the people in the township.

"Your pulse is still heavy" said Mayor Mayne yesterday to an operator of an auto whom he ordered held for court on a charge of operating his machine while in an intoxicated condition. The young man had been examined by a physician and said he was not drunk. The mayor said: "Leave me feel your pulse." After he had held his watch for a minute and pulled his pulse feeling stunt, remarked: "It's eighty now. That's not quite as fast as 140 last night."

Persons who would panhandle should know their stuff before they start, or at least, know of whom they seek alms. Sunday a chap by the name of McDonald "braced" Sergeant G. C. Syling. It was quite evident he did not know Syling was a policeman. He sought alms and within a few minutes was given a bed for the night. The bed happened to be an iron one which lacked a mattress. After having been convicted he was put in a city auto and given a 20 mile ride and shoved out of the car along a highway.

Miss Genevieve Warnock of Pittsburgh, was the guest of friends here during the conference session.

The annual picnic of the Methodist Sunday school is being held today at Buhl Farm in Sharon.

Emblazoning forth their welcome to Rotarian tourists, the signs at each entrance of town are being painted.

Mrs. Edward McKean has completed a stay at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. T. C. Davis of East Neshannock.

Rooker, star end of the Pittsburgh University football team, paid a visit to the home of his mother-in-law, Mrs. Lausberg of Waugh avenue on Friday.

The Shenango township Harvest Home picnic will be held Thursday August 16, at the Robert Bell grove. In addition to their usual ball games and sports there will be a quilt and fancy work display.

Mr. and Mrs. J. Stewart Price with Mr. and Mrs. Frank McClure left Sunday for a tour through the Western states. They will visit with relatives in Kansas, and will enjoy the Fair on the return trip. They expect to be gone two weeks.

John Eagleson left yesterday for the post session of the summer session of Pittsburgh University where he will complete work for his teaching certificate in Science. Eagleson was appointed instructor in science at a recent meeting of the School Board but subsequent developments proved that he lacked two hours of credit in the science field. He will take a course in astronomy at the summer session.

TO ASSUME NEW DUTIES NEXT WEEK

(Special To The News)

NEW WILMINGTON, Pa., Aug. 14.—Alexander C. Burr, a member of the faculty at the Massachusetts Institute of Technology for the last five years, has been elected dean at Westminster College for the coming year, President Robert F. Galbreath announces.

Professor Burr was graduated from Jamestown College, Jamestown, North Dakota, in 1920 with B. A. degree. He then earned the B. Sc. degree in chemistry at Jamestown in 1921. During the 1919-1920 year, he taught first-year physics at Jamestown, and also taught during the 1921 summer session.

During 1920-1921, Professor Burr was principal of the State Agricultural high school at Velva, N. D. Here he was also coach of athletics and debate. He held a research fellowship at the University of Michigan during the 1921-1922 year, earning the degree of master of science in physical chemistry. Following this, he was an instructor in general chemistry for engineering students at Michigan for a year and a half.

In February 1924, Professor Burr joined the chemistry department of the college of the City of Detroit, which position he held for five years. His work at Detroit included, in addition to his chemistry instruction, revision of the curriculum.

He became, in 1929, assistant director in the School of Chemical Engineering at M. I. T., Cambridge, Mass. Two years later he became assistant to the head of the department, devoting most of his time to educational work quite apart from technical duties.

Professor Burr is a member of the American Chemical Society, a Fellow of the American Association for the Advancement of Science, and a member of Phi Lambda Upsilon and of Pi Kappa Delta, honorary fraternities. He is a member of Alpha Kappa Lambda social fraternity, and is an elder in the Presbyterian church.

For two years he was secretary of the Michigan College Chemistry Teachers' Association. He was the youngest Y. M. C. A. secretary during the World War, being stationed with the S. A. T. C. unit at Jamestown College. He has held a commission in the Officers Reserve of the Chemical Warfare Service, being connected with the Edgewood Arsenal. He has contributed articles to the Journal of Chemical Education, Isis, and The Presbyterian. Professor Burr, Mrs. Burr, and two young sons will probably arrive in New Wilmington about August 21.

Name New Dean At Westminster

Alexander C. Burr Of M. I. T. Is Elected To Post At Local College

TO ASSUME NEW DUTIES NEXT WEEK

(Special To The News)

NEW WILMINGTON, Pa., Aug. 14.—Alexander C. Burr, a member of the faculty at the Massachusetts Institute of Technology for the last five years, has been elected dean at Westminster College for the coming year, President Robert F. Galbreath announces.

Professor Burr was graduated from Jamestown College, Jamestown, North Dakota, in 1920 with B. A. degree. He then earned the B. Sc. degree in chemistry at Jamestown in 1921. During the 1919-1920 year, he taught first-year physics at Jamestown, and also taught during the 1921 summer session.

During 1920-1921, Professor Burr was principal of the State Agricultural high school at Velva, N. D. Here he was also coach of athletics and debate. He held a research fellowship at the University of Michigan during the 1921-1922 year, earning the degree of master of science in physical chemistry. Following this, he was an instructor in general chemistry for engineering students at Michigan for a year and a half.

In February 1924, Professor Burr joined the chemistry department of the college of the City of Detroit, which position he held for five years. His work at Detroit included, in addition to his chemistry instruction, revision of the curriculum.

He became, in 1929, assistant director in the School of Chemical Engineering at M. I. T., Cambridge, Mass. Two years later he became assistant to the head of the department, devoting most of his time to educational work quite apart from technical duties.

Professor Burr is a member of the American Chemical Society, a Fellow of the American Association for the Advancement of Science, and a member of Phi Lambda Upsilon and of Pi Kappa Delta, honorary fraternities. He is a member of Alpha Kappa Lambda social fraternity, and is an elder in the Presbyterian church.

For two years he was secretary of the Michigan College Chemistry Teachers' Association. He was the youngest Y. M. C. A. secretary during the World War, being stationed with the S. A. T. C. unit at Jamestown College. He has held a commission in the Officers Reserve of the Chemical Warfare Service, being connected with the Edgewood Arsenal. He has contributed articles to the Journal of Chemical Education, Isis, and The Presbyterian. Professor Burr, Mrs. Burr, and two young sons will probably arrive in New Wilmington about August 21.

On Court House Hill

ON COURT HOUSE HILL—

The City of New Castle has presented a petition in court asking leave to sell certain properties, divested of liens, in the case of the city against Harry Rosenblum, John Keast Estate, and Lawrence Savings and Trust Company, administrator of Edith Pryor Miller.

In the estate of Jennie Miscimarra, a feeble minded person, Felix Chirumbolo, guardian, has presented a petition to court asking leave to amend original papers so as to read that Jennie Miscimarra, is also known as Giovanna Miscimarra. She is now in Dixmont and a petition has also been presented to mortgage property in which she is interested to the Home Owners Loan Corporation.

In the case of Dr. Elmer B. Russell against Margaret R. Cummings, James G. Patterson and Howard P. Cummings, executrix and executors in the estate of the late John W. Cummings, a motion has been presented in court for judgment for want of a sufficient affidavit of defense, and for an amendment to the sheriff's return of the writ. A rule was granted on defendants to show cause, why the prayer should not be granted. Rule is returnable August 23rd.

Petition for an allowance of $350 from his estate has been presented to court by Burt W. Talbitzer, minor son of the late Otto Talbitzer. The Lawrence Savings and Trust Company, guardian, was authorized to pay the money. Burt W. Talbitzer now lives with his uncle, Perry Dannels at Port Allegheny. The money is needed for high school expenses and to reimburse Dannels for room and board.

In the controversy over a health insurance policy between Joel H. Hendrix and the Metropolitan Life Insurance Company Mr. Hendrix has filed an answer to plaintiff's petition for a more specific statement of claim. In his answer Hendrix says it ill becomes the defendant to allege that it does not know the nature of his ailment since plaintiff was paid $800 and a hospital bill of $221.43, between Nov. 14, '31 and March 12, '32, following an examination by company physicians. Hendrix says his trouble is high blood pressure and nerve exhaustion, brought about by too great a concentration on a patent he was trying to perfect prior to Nov. 13, 1931.

Arrangements For Old-Timers' Day Announced

SECURE COACH FOR DRUM CORPS

President Ralph M. Campbell of the Old Timers association stated today that the program for Old Timers Day has been completed and announces the arrangements which will govern the activities of the afternoon and evening.

All those persons who will participate in the old time costume pageant must present themselves at the pavilion at 1:30, where they will be registered and given a number. They will then be formed in line for the parade inside the dance floor, immediately following. Here they will go through the formations suggested by H. D. Morrison of Pittsburgh, member of the executive committee.

After they have paraded before the judges, they will pass outside the pavilion and circle the building for the benefit of those unable to find seats inside.

Only those taking part in the pageant, and bonafide Old Timers or their descendants will be admitted inside the pavilion for the pageant and grand march. Last year a great number of people crowded inside and took the places of the older residents. The committee asks that the public co-operate in showing courtesy to those older ones for whom the day is arranged.

After the grand march, which will be led by President Ralph M. Campbell, following the costume parade, the old round and square dances will be enjoyed by those who know them best.

The grove has been reserved for the Old Timers who will enjoy their picnic dinner and supper there, preceding and following the activities of the afternoon.

It was announced today that a coach has been secured to advertise the reunion and picnic, which will be provided by the traction company. The coach will leave the City building promptly at 9:30, and will visit all sections of the city, with the Sons of Veterans fife and drum corps pealing out martial music, calling attention of the public to the day.

Strikers Will Meet At New Kensington

Aluminum Company Employes Call Meeting This Afternoon

(International News Service)

PITTSBURGH, Aug. 14.—A lull in the labor dispute between the Mellon-controlled Aluminum Company of America and the American Federation of Labor was broken today by a mass meeting of strikers to be held this afternoon at New Kensington, Pa.

While aluminum officials and representatives of the National Council of Aluminum Workers clung tenaciously to their stands and assumed a "watchful waiting" attitude, approximately 4,000 men and women who joined the walkout at New Kensington, Arnold and Logan's Ferry assembled to hear the latest developments. Unless some immediate action is taken they will learn little.

Because of the determination of each side to hold its ground and not surrender to the dictates of the other, little progress towards a settlement has been made since Saturday when about 10,000 workers threw down their tools and closed six major aluminum plants.

ITINERANTS STRIKE AT TRANSIENT CAMP

(International News Service)

COLORADO SPRINGS, Colo.—Service at the Cottonwood Transient camp in the Black Forest, northwest of here, isn't up to the standard demanded by the occupants. When the government recently made a new regulation, of which they disapproved they went on strike and broke up the establishment's supply of crockery.

The objections were aimed at a change in weekly allowance, from 90 cents per week, plus soap and clothing, to $1 and no extras.

Formal Daytime Shoe

One is impressed with the new shoe designs created for formal daytime ensembles, says Lucien Lelong, famed couturier. One shoe designer advocates the golden bronze shoe. A very trim shoe which gives the ankle a slim appearance, has a U-shaped band of gold kid which stands out and away from the shoe. This afternoon ensemble of Lelong's, sketched in Paris, is blue and white print, with stitchery for trimming.

Name Camp Cabin After R. J. Tully

Hut At Camp Rentz Will Bear Name Of Former Y. M. C. A. President

The Young Men's Christian association will name the cabin it erected at Camp Rentz, New Castle Y. camp along the Slippery Rock creek, after Robert J. Tully, for four years president of the association and its camp committee chairman for eight.

Mr. Tully relinquished the presidency when the Carnegie Steel company promoted him to Clairton some time ago.

General Secretary R. L. Meermans, who praised Mr. Tully's service while here, said the Carnegie, through Mr. Tully, gave the Y. camp its imposing gate and was generous with contributions at other times.

Other cabins at the camp bear these names: Fred L. Rentz cabin, Mrs. Kate L. Rentz cabin, Treadwell Ray cabin and the Jack Gerson cabin.

It is hoped that other cabins will be donated for use during the 1935 season.

Roundheads To Meet Wednesday

Not less than two hundred guests are expected Wednesday, August 15 when the 29th annual reunion of the Roundheads will be held in the Central Presbyterian church. While there are still 25 or thirty of the original Roundheads living, not more than six or seven are expected to be present due to age or distance.

Rev. Samuel Moore, once pastor of the Central Presbyterian church is expected to be present as are a number of guests from other cities. Fred L. Rentz will be the toastmaster at the dinner and James P. Sankey president of the association will handle the business meeting.

REESE REPORTED SLIGHTLY BETTER

A slight improvement was reported this morning in the condition of John Reese, aged 55, of 1024½ Pollock avenue, who was seriously hurt in an automobile accident last Friday evening on East Lutton street. He is in the New Castle hospital.

Guide Recalls Job In Canadian Rockies

Mountain-Climbing Thrills Are Heard By Lions; Griffith Speaker

The spine-tingling thrills which a mountain guide experiences in his daily climbs up the towering peaks and over the precipitous ledges of the Canadian Rockies were conveyed to the Lions club by Gates Griffith, this city, former Rocky Mountain guide, in a luncheon talk which he gave today.

When Mr. Griffith stopped speaking the Lions were thankful that they were sitting on solid chairs in a dining room and not climbing to one of the shaky rocks their speaker told about. "God's Paradise" was what Mr. Griffith termed the Rockies.

Mr. Griffith was introduced by Lion Numa Vidal.

Further announcement of plans for the week-end testimonial which the New Castle club will sponsor for District Governor Ezra D. Marvin at Conneaut Lake Park, an affair in which all of the 33 clubs of District 14-B will take part, was made by William Fenton, chairman of the general committee on arrangements. It will be held August 26 and 27.

Fenton is aided on the committee by J. W. Staudinger and George Smith. Other Lions are assisting.

MECHANIZED CAVALRY CAN'T REPLACE HORSES

(International News Service)

ST. LOUIS, Mo.—The mechanized cavalry will never supersede cavalry, Lieut. Col. Adna R. Chaffee commanding officer of the First Cavalry the first mechanized unit in that branch of the United States Army is authority for the statement.

"Both have their good points as was shown in our recent maneuvers at Fort Riley, Kansas," Col. Chaffee said. "On some occasions where the "battles were waged in flat and open spaces we undoubtedly held the edge. But when the opposing horsemen retreated to heavy woodlands, we were at a loss to overcome them."

The new cavalry passed through here on its way to its home base at Fort Knox, near Louisville, Ky.

WORKHOUSE TERM FOR COLORED MAN

City Follows State Laws On Liquor Fines

(International News Service)

NEW LEXINGTON, O.—New Lexington, in the heart of the famous Perry county hills that are reputed to hide some of the largest liquor stills in Ohio, has joined the parade of Ohio cities enacting local ordinances to conform with the new Ohio liquor laws.

The new ordinance provides virtually the same fines for illicit manufacturer of beer and liquor that are incorporated in the state statutes. The heaviest levy, a fine of from $100 to $1,000, was set as the penalty for illicit manufacture. A fine of $25 to $100 was prescribed for persons selling liquor to minors or habitual drunkards.

SECURE COACH FOR DRUM CORPS

President Ralph M. Campbell of the Old Timers association stated today that the program for Old Timers Day has been completed and announces the arrangements which will govern the activities of the afternoon and evening.

All those persons who will participate in the old time costume pageant must present themselves at the pavilion at 1:30, where they will be registered and given a number. They will then be formed in line for the parade inside the dance floor, immediately following. Here they will go through the formations suggested by H. D. Morrison of Pittsburgh, member of the executive committee.

After they have paraded before the judges, they will pass outside the pavilion and circle the building for the benefit of those unable to find seats inside.

Only those taking part in the pageant, and bonafide Old Timers or their descendants will be admitted inside the pavilion for the pageant and grand march. Last year a great number of people crowded inside and took the places of the older residents. The committee asks that the public co-operate in showing courtesy to those older ones for whom the day is arranged.

After the grand march, which will be led by President Ralph M. Campbell, following the costume parade, the old round and square dances will be enjoyed by those who know them best.

The grove has been reserved for the Old Timers who will enjoy their picnic dinner and supper there, preceding and following the activities of the afternoon.

It was announced today that a coach has been secured to advertise the reunion and picnic, which will be provided by the traction company. The coach will leave the City building promptly at 9:30, and will visit all sections of the city, with the Sons of Veterans fife and drum corps pealing out martial music, calling attention of the public to the day.

Strikers Will Meet At New Kensington

Aluminum Company Employes Call Meeting This Afternoon

(International News Service)

PITTSBURGH, Aug. 14.—A lull in the labor dispute between the Mellon-controlled Aluminum Company of America and the American Federation of Labor was broken today by a mass meeting of strikers to be held this afternoon at New Kensington, Pa.

While aluminum officials and representatives of the National Council of Aluninum Workers clung tenaciously to their stands and assumed a "watchful waiting" attitude, approximately 4,000 men and women who joined the walkout at New Kensington, Arnold and Logan's Ferry assembled to hear the latest developments. Unless some immediate action is taken they will learn little.

Because of the determination of each side to hold its ground and not surrender to the dictates of the other, little progress towards a settlement has been made since Saturday when about 10,000 workers threw down their tools and closed six major aluminum plants.

ITINERANTS STRIKE AT TRANSIENT CAMP

(International News Service)

COLORADO SPRINGS, Colo.—Service at the Cottonwood Transient camp in the Black Forest, northwest of here, isn't up to the standard demanded by the occupants. When the government recently made a new regulation, of which they disapproved they went on strike and broke up the establishment's supply of crockery.

The objections were aimed at a change in weekly allowance, from 90 cents per week, plus soap and clothing, to $1 and no extras.

Formal Daytime Shoe

One is impressed with the new shoe designs created for formal daytime ensembles, says Lucien Lelong, famed couturier. One shoe designer advocates the golden bronze shoe. A very trim shoe which gives the ankle a slim appearance, has a U-shaped band of gold kid which stands out and away from the shoe. This afternoon ensemble of Lelong's, sketched in Paris, is blue and white print, with stitchery for trimming.

Name Camp Cabin After R. J. Tully

Hut At Camp Rentz Will Bear Name Of Former Y. M. C. A. President

The Young Men's Christian association will name the cabin it erected at Camp Rentz, New Castle Y. camp along the Slippery Rock creek, after Robert J. Tully, for four years president of the association and its camp committee chairman for eight.

Mr. Tully relinquished the presidency when the Carnegie Steel company promoted him to Clairton some time ago.

General Secretary R. L. Meermans, who praised Mr. Tully's service while here, said the Carnegie, through Mr. Tully, gave the Y. camp its imposing gate and was generous with contributions at other times.

Other cabins at the camp bear these names: Fred L. Rentz cabin, Mrs. Kate L. Rentz cabin, Treadwell Ray cabin and the Jack Gerson cabin.

It is hoped that other cabins will be donated for use during the 1935 season.

Roundheads To Meet Wednesday

Not less than two hundred guests are expected Wednesday, August 15 when the 29th annual reunion of the Roundheads will be held in the Central Presbyterian church. While there are still 25 or thirty of the original Roundheads living, not more than six or seven are expected to be present due to age or distance.

Rev. Samuel Moore, once pastor of the Central Presbyterian church is expected to be present as are a number of guests from other cities. Fred L. Rentz will be the toastmaster at the dinner and James P. Sankey president of the association will handle the business meeting.

City Follows State Laws On Liquor Fines

(International News Service)

NEW LEXINGTON, O.—New Lexington, in the heart of the famous Perry county hills that are reputed to hide some of the largest liquor stills in Ohio, has joined the parade of Ohio cities enacting local ordinances to conform with the new Ohio liquor laws.

The new ordinance provides virtually the same fines for illicit manufacturer of beer and liquor that are incorporated in the state statutes. The heaviest levy, a fine of from $100 to $1,000, was set as the penalty for illicit manufacture. A fine of $25 to $100 was prescribed for persons selling liquor to minors or habitual drunkards.

Guide Recalls Job In Canadian Rockies

Mountain-Climbing Thrills Are Heard By Lions; Griffith Speaker

The spine-tingling thrills which a mountain guide experiences in his daily climbs up the towering peaks and over the precipitous ledges of the Canadian Rockies were conveyed to the Lions club by Gates Griffith, this city, former Rocky Mountain guide, in a luncheon talk which he gave today.

When Mr. Griffith stopped speaking the Lions were thankful that they were sitting on solid chairs in a dining room and not climbing to one of the shaky rocks their speaker told about. "God's Paradise" was what Mr. Griffith termed the Rockies.

Mr. Griffith was introduced by Lion Numa Vidal.

Further announcement of plans for the week-end testimonial which the New Castle club will sponsor for District Governor Ezra D. Marvin at Conneaut Lake Park, an affair in which all of the 33 clubs of District 14-B will take part, was made by William Fenton, chairman of the general committee on arrangements. It will be held August 26 and 27.

Fenton is aided on the committee by J. W. Staudinger and George Smith. Other Lions are assisting.

MECHANIZED CAVALRY CAN'T REPLACE HORSES

(International News Service)

ST. LOUIS, Mo.—The mechanized cavalry will never supersede cavalry.

Lieut. Col. Adna R. Chaffee commanding officer of the First Cavalry the first mechanized unit in that branch of the United States Army is authority for the statement.

"Both have their good points as was shown in our recent maneuvers at Fort Riley, Kansas," Col. Chaffee said. "On some occasions where the "battles were waged in flat and open spaces we undoubtedly held the edge. But when the opposing horsemen retreated to heavy woodlands, we were at a loss to overcome them."

The new cavalry passed through here on its way to its home base at Fort Knox, near Louisville, Ky.

Clerics Divided On Efficacy Of Rain-Prayers

Some Think They May Be Effective—Others Do Not

(International News Service)

KANSAS CITY, Mo.—Rain is badly needed in Missouri, as well as elsewhere, but ministers are divided on the matter of praying for precipitation to end the prolonged drought and heat wave.

God has refused to listen to prayers for rain, according to the Rev. Alvin G. Hause, because the world has banished Him. Prayers for rain had been offered in the Rev. Hause's church.

"Our prayers have been answered with an emphatic NO!" Mr. Hause said. "We have banished God and now that we need Him, He replies, 'They shall cry, and I will not hear.'"

Springfield, Mo., pastors, however, do not agree with the Rev. Hause as to the efficacy of prayers for rain.

"We shall not pray for rain," said the Rev. S. F. Riepma of Springfield. "Last Sunday we offered a prayer for thanksgiving for the Saturday shower. Let the Lord run the universe. He knows how. Perhaps the insects will be killed off."

The Rev. G. Bryant Drake, also of Springfield, is not going to pray for rain. "If rain comes, atmospheric conditions will be responsible," says he.

1935 RAIN FORECAST

(International News Service)

COLORADO SPRINGS, Colo.—There will be more rain next year. That is science's consolation to drouth-sufferers throughout the country. Dr. Frederick E. Clements of Santa Barbara, Cal., said that study of the sun-spot cycle, believed to last 11 years, indicated greater precipitation in 1935. He qualified his forecast with the statement that it was "just a guess."

Railroad Bridge To Be Built Here

Men Start Working Monday On Construction Of Small Bridge On B. & O.

A crew of Baltimore and Ohio railroad men started work Monday on a bridge-building project just east of the B. & O.-P. & L. E. depot here.

The work will include the tearing out of the old bridge at that point and the building of a new structure. The bridge supported both the eastbound and westbound tracks of the Baltimore and Ohio. While work is in progress under the eastbound track much of the traffic will be detoured over other tracks. This means a considerable amount of reverses of trains from Lowellville to the New Castle Junction.

When the job under the eastbound track is completed work will be started on the other half of the bridge.

SUGGESTS BAN ON PATENTS THAT DO AWAY WITH LABOR

(International News Service)

BERLIN—Yoo hoo, Mr. Scott! Taking up the matter of technocracy without labelling it that, Dr. Hans Hamann writing in the magazine of the German Attorneys' Verein discusses the possibility of forbidding patents or patented processes which are likely to harm the working man.

"It is within our province to enact laws protecting the general interest of the people from the individual interest of the investor," the writer wrote.

"When for example, a machine was perfected which could, with little assistance, cover the entire consumption of a certain branch of industry that industry would disappear and the workers would be thrown out of employment.

"This should be stopped by law. We should not become the blind slaves to the progress of technique.

"Of course such action could be taken only in th interests of the general good," he concluded.

Arrangements For Old-Timers' Day Announced

SECURE COACH FOR DRUM CORPS

President Ralph M. Campbell of the Old Timers association stated today that the program for Old Timers Day has been completed and announces the arrangements which will govern the activities of the afternoon and evening.

All those persons who will participate in the old time costume pageant must present themselves at the pavilion at 1:30, where they will be registered and given a number. They will then be formed in line for the parade inside the dance floor, immediately following. Here they will go through the formations suggested by H. D. Morrison of Pittsburgh, member of the executive committee.

After they have paraded before the judges, they will pass outside the pavilion and circle the building for the benefit of those unable to find seats inside.

Only those taking part in the pageant, and bonafide Old Timers or their descendants will be admitted inside the pavilion for the pageant and grand march. Last year a great number of people crowded inside and took the places of the older residents. The committee asks that the public co-operate in showing courtesy to those older ones for whom the day is arranged.

After the grand march, which will be led by President Ralph M. Campbell, following the costume parade, the old round and square dances will be enjoyed by those who know them best.

The grove has been reserved for the Old Timers who will enjoy their picnic dinner and supper there, preceding and following the activities of the afternoon.

It was announced today that a coach has been secured to advertise the reunion and picnic, which will be provided by the traction company. The coach will leave the City building promptly at 9:30, and will visit all sections of the city, with the Sons of Veterans fife and drum corps pealing out martial music, calling attention of the public to the day.

Strikers Will Meet At New Kensington

Aluminum Company Employes Call Meeting This Afternoon

(International News Service)

PITTSBURGH, Aug. 14.—A lull in the labor dispute between the Mellon-controlled Aluminum Company of America and the American Federation of Labor was broken today by a mass meeting of strikers to be held this afternoon at New Kensington, Pa.

While aluminum officials and representatives of the National Council of Aluminum Workers clung tenaciously to their stands and assumed a "watchful waiting" attitude, approximately 4,000 men and women who joined the walkout at New Kensington, Arnold and Logan's Ferry assembled to hear the latest developments. Unless some immediate action is taken they will learn little.

Because of the determination of each side to hold its ground and not surrender to the dictates of the other, little progress towards a settlement has been made since Saturday when about 10,000 workers threw down their tools and closed six major aluminum plants.

ITINERANTS STRIKE AT TRANSIENT CAMP

(International News Service)

COLORADO SPRINGS, Colo.—Service at the Cottonwood Transient camp in the Black Forest, northwest of here, isn't up to the standard demanded by the occupants. When the government recently made a new regulation, of which they disapproved they went on strike and broke up the establishment's supply of crockery.

The objections were aimed at a change in weekly allowance, from 90 cents per week, plus soap and clothing, to $1 and no extras.

Formal Daytime Shoe

One is impressed with the new shoe designs created for formal daytime ensembles, says Lucien Lelong, famed couturier. One shoe designer advocates the golden bronze shoe. A very trim shoe which gives the ankle a slim appearance, has a U-shaped band of gold kid which stands out and away from the shoe. This afternoon ensemble of Lelong's, sketched in Paris, is blue and white print, with stitchery for trimming.

Name Camp Cabin After R. J. Tully

Hut At Camp Rentz Will Bear Name Of Former Y. M. C. A. President

The Young Men's Christian association will name the cabin it erected at Camp Rentz, New Castle Y. camp along the Slippery Rock creek, after Robert J. Tully, for four years president of the association and its camp committee chairman for eight.

Mr. Tully relinquished the presidency when the Carnegie Steel company promoted him to Clairton some time ago.

General Secretary R. L. Meermans, who praised Mr. Tully's service while here, said the Carnegie, through Mr. Tully, gave the Y. camp its imposing gate and was generous with contributions at other times.

Other cabins at the camp bear these names: Fred L. Rentz cabin, Mrs. Kate L. Rentz cabin, Treadwell Ray cabin and the Jack Gerson cabin.

It is hoped that other cabins will be donated for use during the 1935 season.

Roundheads To Meet Wednesday

Not less than two hundred guests are expected Wednesday, August 15 when the 29th annual reunion of the Roundheads will be held in the Central Presbyterian church. While there are still 25 or thirty of the original Roundheads living, not more than six or seven are expected to be present due to age or distance.

Rev. Samuel Moore, once pastor of the Central Presbyterian church is expected to be present as are a number of guests from other cities. Fred L. Rentz will be the toastmaster at the dinner and James P. Sankey president of the association will handle the business meeting.

REESE REPORTED SLIGHTLY BETTER

A slight improvement was reported this morning in the condition of John Reese, aged 55, of 1024½ Pollock avenue, who was seriously hurt in an automobile accident last Friday evening on East Lutton street. He is in the New Castle hospital.

Guide Recalls Job In Canadian Rockies

Mountain-Climbing Thrills Are Heard By Lions; Griffith Speaker

The spine-tingling thrills which a mountain guide experiences in his daily climbs up the towering peaks and over the precipitous ledges of the Canadian Rockies were conveyed to the Lions club by Gates Griffith, this city, former Rocky Mountain guide, in a luncheon talk which he gave today.

When Mr. Griffith stopped speaking the Lions were thankful that they were sitting on solid chairs in a dining room and not climbing to one of the shaky rocks their speaker told about. "God's Paradise" was what Mr. Griffith termed the Rockies.

Mr. Griffith was introduced by Lion Numa Vidal.

Further announcement of plans for the week-end testimonial which the New Castle club will sponsor for District Governor Ezra D. Marvin at Conneaut Lake Park, an affair in which all of the 33 clubs of District 14-B will take part, was made by William Fenton, chairman of the general committee on arrangements. It will be held August 26 and 27.

Fenton is aided on the committee by J. W. Staudinger and George Smith. Other Lions are assisting.

OUT OF BANKRUPTCY

(International News Service)

PITTSBURGH, Aug. 14.—William S. Baird, of North Beaver Township, Lawrence County, was discharged from bankruptcy in federal court today.

Baird's voluntary petition was filed Jan. 29, 1932.

Pymatuning Train Fare To Be $1.25

New Castle residents may travel to the Pymatuning dam dedication aboard a Pennsylvania railroad train for the round trip fare of $1.25, Superintendent E. S. Reed announced at noon today. Elsewhere in this issue the rate of $2.10 is quoted.

Mr. Reed said the railroad today established the special rate to permit the public to take full advantage of this notable Western Pennsylvania event. The regular rate is over $3.

MECHANIZED CAVALRY CAN'T REPLACE HORSES

(International News Service)

ST. LOUIS, Mo.—The mechanized cavalry will never supersede cavalry, Lieut. Col. Adna R. Chaffee commanding officer of the First Cavalry the first mechanized unit in that branch of the United States Army is authority for the statement.

"Both have their good points as was shown in our recent maneuvers at Fort Riley, Kansas," Col. Chaffee said. "On some occasions where the "battles were waged in flat and open spaces we undoubtedly held the edge. But when the opposing horsemen retreated to heavy woodlands, we were at a loss to overcome them."

The new cavalry passed through here on its way to its home base at Fort Knox, near Louisville, Ky.

WORKHOUSE TERM FOR COLORED MAN

Tom Hill, colored, who is alleged to have obtained a Waltham watch by trickery from George Taylor, also colored, Sunday, was sentenced by Mayor Mayne in police court today to serve five months and 29 days in the workhouse.

City Follows State Laws On Liquor Fines

(International News Service)

NEW LEXINGTON, O.—New Lexington, in the heart of the famous Perry county hills that are reputed to hide some of the largest liquor stills in Ohio, has joined the parade of Ohio cities enacting local ordinances to conform with the new Ohio liquor laws.

The new ordinance provides virtually the same fines for illicit manufacturer of beer and liquor that are incorporated in the state statutes. The heaviest levy, a fine of from $100 to $1,000, was set as the penalty for illicit manufacture. A fine of $25 to $100 was prescribed for persons selling liquor to minors or habitual drunkards.

Clerics Divided On Efficacy Of Rain-Prayers

Some Think They May Be Effective—Others Do Not

(International News Service)

KANSAS CITY, Mo.—Rain is badly needed in Missouri, as well as elsewhere, but ministers are divided on the matter of praying for precipitation to end the prolonged drought and heat wave.

God has refused to listen to prayers for rain, according to the Rev. Alvin G. Hause, because the world has banished Him. Prayers for rain had been offered in the Rev. Hause's church.

"Our prayers have been answered with an emphatic NO!" Mr. Hause said. "We have banished God and now that we need Him, He replies, 'They shall cry, and I will not hear.'"

Springfield, Mo., pastors, however, do not agree with the Rev. Hause as to the efficacy of prayers for rain.

"We shall not pray for rain," said the Rev. S. F. Riepma of Springfield. "Last Sunday we offered a prayer for thanksgiving for the Saturday shower. Let the Lord run the universe. He knows how. Perhaps the insects will be killed off."

The Rev. G. Bryant Drake, also of Springfield, is not going to pray for rain. "If rain comes, atmospheric conditions will be responsible," says he.

1935 RAIN FORECAST

(International News Service)

COLORADO SPRINGS, Colo.—There will be more rain next year. That is science's consolation to drouth-sufferers throughout the country. Dr. Frederick E. Clements of Santa Barbara, Cal., said that study of the sun-spot cycle, believed to last 11 years, indicated greater precipitation in 1935. He qualified his forecast with the statement that it was "just a guess."

SEVENTH WARD NEWS

Railroad Bridge To Be Built Here

Men Start Working Monday On Construction Of Small Bridge On B. & O.

A crew of Baltimore and Ohio railroad men started work Monday on a bridge-building project just east of the B. & O.-P. & L. E. depot here.

The work will include the tearing out of the old bridge at that point and the building of a new structure. The bridge supported both the eastbound and westbound tracks of the Baltimore and Ohio. While work is in progress under the eastbound track much of the traffic will be detoured over other tracks. This means a considerable amount of reverses of trains from Lowellville to the New Castle Junction.

When the job under the eastbound track is completed work will be started on the other half of the bridge.

SUGGESTS BAN ON PATENTS THAT DO AWAY WITH LABOR

(International News Service)

BERLIN—Yoo hoo, Mr. Scott! Taking up the matter of technocracy without labelling it that, Dr. Hans Hamann writing in the magazine of the German Attorneys' Verein discusses the possibility of forbidding patents or patented processes which are likely to harm the working man.

"It is within our province to enact laws protecting the general interest of the people from the individual interest of the investor," the writer wrote.

"When for example, a machine was perfected which could, with little assistance, cover the entire consumption of a certain branch of industry that industry would disappear and the workers would be thrown out of employment.

"This should be stopped by law. We should not become the blind slaves to the progress of technique.

"Of course such action could be taken only in th interests of the general good," he concluded.

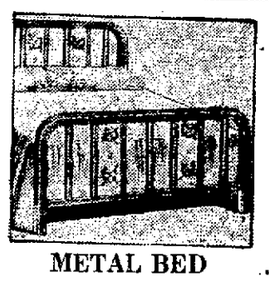

NEW JAP EMPIRE CALLED MANCHUTIKUO

(International News Service)

HSINCHING, Manchukuo.—Correct terminology for the new nation which has arisen in Manchuria through intervention of Japanese arms has been officially laid down in a bulletin issued by the Hsinching Ministry of Foriegn Affairs.

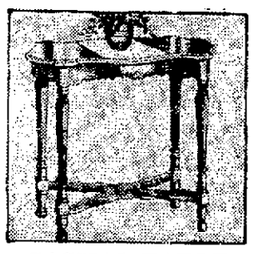

In official despatches Emperor Pu Yi's land must be referred to as Manchutikuo or the Empire of Manchu.

For common and shorter usage the foreign office sanctions the original and better known name of Manchukuo or else the Manchu Empire.

BELIEVE MANOR BANK ROBBERY CASE IS SOLVED

Speedy Arrests After Robbery

Large Part Of Loot Is Recovered As Four Suspects Are Taken

TWO OF PRISONERS MAKE CONFESSIONS

(International News Service)

GREENSBURG, Pa., Aug. 14.—Confessions by two of the four suspects they arrested in connection with the $3,000 robbery of the Manor National Bank Saturday in their hands, state police today pressed forward in their efforts to "clean up" the case.

Officers announced shortly after they obtained the confessions that they were convinced only four men were involved in the robbery. Hunt for a fifth man was said to have been called off. In making their announcement the troopers refused to divulge the names of those making statements.

Recover Much Loot

At the same time it was learned that $2,100 of the loot taken from the bank had been recovered.

The four under arrest as the suspected robbers are:

Raymond Baker, 26, Irwin; Francis Winters, 29, of near Turtle Creek; Harold E. Doriot, 20, of near Wilkinsburg, and George Klaus, 19, East Pittsburgh.

Captain Jacob C. Mauk, who made the arrests known, asserted all the suspects except Klaus have police records.

New significance was attached to the arrests this morning when United States Attorney Horatio S. Dumbauld told authorities that the government would prosecute the suspects in district court in Pittsburgh if the county so desired. Recently enacted federal legislation makes the robbing of a national bank a government offense.

Find Old Cannon Under Stable Of Police Station

Gun Unearthed By PWA Workers Believed Of Historic Origin

(International News Service)

PHILADELPHIA—A cannon believed to be of historic origin was unearthed by PWA workers at the state road and Longshore police station and was so thickly covered with rust that its exact measurements could not be determined, but its finders claimed it to be about six feet long. The diameter of the shell hole could not be ascertained because it was fully clogged.

In the early days policemen attached to that station rode mounts, but when the era of the motorcycles set in, the stable was abandoned for garages. The stable was recently condemned and ordered torn down by CWA employes.

Captain William T. Weiss, in charge of the district, was watching the men level off the ground where the building had stood, heard a shovel strike the relic and had it dug up.

Historians will be consulted to determine whether or not it was used in the Revolutionary war.

CLOSE SHOPS WEDNESDAY

Because of the annual Italian Day at Cascade Park, on Wednesday, announcement is made that shoe repair shops of the city will be closed during the day.

Raise Sheep.
The Friendless Reds.
They Got Ahigiak.
Water Power Labor Power.

By ARTHUR BRISBANE

FLEISCHMANNS, N. Y. Aug. 14—Of many beautiful sections in America, none is more beautiful than this with thousands of green and blue mountains and hills, rolling into the distance, beautiful fertile valleys, smooth pastures on the mountain sides, wide forests.

It makes a modern American feel tired, even a little faint, to look at the endless miles of stone fences built along the hillside by old Dutch settlers and by Huguenots, whose French names survive in many villages.

IF YOU WOULD like to become acquainted with the earth on which you live, and the sky above it come here and start a sheep farm. Mr. Thomas J. McCaulay, formerly of the Genesee Valley now of Allaire, N. J., says this is the ideal region for raising sheep, and he knows more about sheep than the sheep themselves know.

You can find suitable farms, good meadow land to raise winter fodder, upland pastures for grazing, wood and brush land for browsing enough for one hundred and fifty ewes, at low prices. Take good care of the ewes at lambing time, keep down cat briars that tear the wool, select a good grade of sheep, Southdown for the best mutton, a good shearing sheep if wool interests you, or a good combination sheep, Cheviot, perhaps, for wool and mutton, plant a garden, a few fruit trees, keep chickens, ducks, and two cows, get your pocket and store money from the sheep, and really LIVE instead of merely existing.

ON THESE HEIGHTS you could raise caracul sheep that produce the fur-wool, of which ladies' expensive fur coats are made. Only do not imitate the oriental catering to western cruelty and kill the mother to strip off the damask hide of the unborn caracul lambs.

Mr. Wallace, Secretary of Agriculture, will tell you about taking care of sheep, Armour and Company or Swift and Company, of Chicago, or any big packer will tell you how to get the sheep, carload lots at reasonable prices. You might write to Arthur D. White, care Swift and Company, Chicago, for advice. Be sure to raise a few four-year olds for your own use. No mutton is as good as old mutton.

IT IS GENERALLY understood that the "Reds" are wicked, seeking to destroy out practically perfect form of government, and divide up all the money.

Nevertheless, you almost feel sorry for them, reading about the "drive" planned against them.

Michael F. Shannon, "grand exalted ruler" of the Benevolent and Protective Order of Elks, says "the issue is between the Stars and Stripes and the Red flag." Love of country and flag is the Elk's specialty and the grand exalted ruler will let loose 500,000 Elks against the "Reds."

THEN THERE are the war veterans, all against Communism, determined that those Reds shall not tear down what the veterans have preserved. And the Knights of Columbus as well organized, as determined a body as there is on earth, and most intelligently led, are against the Reds.

There are also the Baptists, Methodists, Christian Scientists, Seventh Day Adventists all anti-Communistic, not forgetting the capitalists, that thin, golden line around the corner of Broad and Wall streets, New York, small in numbers, but fierce in their resolve to hang onto what they have left.

How the Reds survive at all, how they can be such a menace to flag and country in the face of such odds is the puzzle. There must be able men among them.

THREE YEARS ago Ahigiak, Eskimo hunter of the Far North, thought his friend Aniurak too attentive to his Ahigiak's wife, and Ahigiak killed Aniurak. Imagine the Eskimo surprise when white men came flying hundred of miles over the dreary wastes, just to get Ahigiak and jail him for five years.

Hundreds of Eskimos gathered, convinced that the whites must be coming to get fox skins. Even poor Anigiak, who had forgotten all about Aniurak had his fox skins ready, and the caribou herders had their herds ready for display.

What those Eskimos thought of white-man intelligence when they learned that all the fuss was to put one lonesome Anigiak in jail, you would not like to hear. What else they would have thought, had they known that those whites had only just finished butchering each other by the millions in the big war it would be hard to guess.

SIX ALUMINUM plants have been closed by strikes. It is expected that 15,000 men will go out. They may, unfortunately, be out a long time. The aluminum business has not been good. The makers own and use gigantic water power, aluminum being chiefly a power product That the power might not go to waste, the manufacturers have been turning out and storing aluminum they could not sell, tens of millions of pounds of it. Ten million pounds of light aluminum is a good deal. Some time ago, more than sixty million surplus pounds had been stored away, for the hoped for better times.

IF THE POWER plants are shut down by the strike, it may be a long time before they reopen. It seems to be an issue of power against power, the working power of men. Pity that both should go to waste in times like these.

It might be well to let prosperity peek a little more distinctly around the corner before calling too many strikes on the assumption that since NRA the country belongs to organized labor.

THE CURRENT strikes are to be accompanied by a powerful drive in favor of the union label, a mark showing that the product is one of union men only. Goods not labeled would be subject to boycott. When such a drive was proposed in a labor gathering some years ago, embarrassment was caused by investigation of the delegates' hats, so many lacked the union label. That doubtless, has been changed, under Mr. Green's management.

Nevertheless, union labor, if wise will assume complete control gradually. That is what capitalism did, and how successful it was, up to 1929.

IT IS A pleasure to hear from the United States Chamber of Commerce that there are "only" seven millions out of work in this country. Mr. Green, union labor head, says ten millions, but the chamber says that is "exaggeration."

On the other hand, statistics show that one family in every ten, in New York City is "getting home relief," which is our substitute expression for the dole. In New York 671,866 persons are on the dole, 7,939 more than the previous highest record. That does not indicate diminished unemployment.

But why isn't there an international league to prevent stupidity? That does the most harm.

If the government is so eager to do something for the poor man, what about seats in box cars?

BELIEVE MANOR BANK ROBBERY CASE IS SOLVED

Speedy Arrests After Robbery

Large Part Of Loot Is Recovered As Four Suspects Are Taken

TWO OF PRISONERS MAKE CONFESSIONS

(International News Service)

GREENSBURG, Pa., Aug. 14.—Confessions by two of the four suspects they arrested in connection with the $3,000 robbery of the Manor National Bank Saturday in their hands, state police today pressed forward in their efforts to "clean up" the case.

Officers announced shortly after they obtained the confessions that they were convinced only four men were involved in the robbery. Hunt for a fifth man was said to have been called off. In making their announcement the troopers refused to divulge the names of those making statements.

Recover Much Loot

At the same time it was learned that $2,100 of the loot taken from the bank had been recovered.

The four under arrest as the suspected robbers are:

Raymond Baker, 26, Irwin; Francis Winters, 29, of near Turtle Creek; Harold E. Doriot, 20, of near Wilkinsburg, and George Klaus, 19, East Pittsburgh.

Captain Jacob C. Mauk, who made the arrests known, asserted all the suspects except Klaus have police records.

New significance was attached to the arrests this morning when United States Attorney Horatio S. Dumbauld told authorities that the government would prosecute the suspects in district court in Pittsburgh if the county so desired. Recently enacted federal legislation makes the robbing of a national bank a government offense.

South New Castle Boro Residents To Gather At Willard

A large crowd saw an able cast of members of the Center U. P. church present their play, "The Deacon Slips" at the church recently.

Much credit should be extended the Parent's class. Included in the cast were Rev. C. G. Johnston, Annabelle Gibson, Bill Harbison, Louis Granato, Mrs. Scott Guy, Norman McHattie, Clarence Black, Mrs. Norman McHattie and Howard Leslie.

Arlington Church Outing Saturday

The Sunday school of the Arlington Avenue Free Methodist church will hold its annual picnic at Gaston Park on Saturday, August 18 commencing at 1:30 p. m., it was announced today.

"Kingfish" Pal

Picturesque Mike Moss, former wealthy insurance company head and "pal" of Senator Huey Long, leaves the Federal Court in New Orleans after testifying in the government's income tax evasion inquiry there. Senator Long's income is said to be under investigation. (Central Press)

Find Old Cannon Under Stable Of Police Station

Gun Unearthed By PWA Workers Believed Of Historic Origin

(International News Service)

PHILADELPHIA—A cannon believed to be of historic origin was unearthed by PWA workers at the state road and Longshore police station and was so thickly covered with rust that its exact measurements could not be determined, but its finders claimed it to be about six feet long. The diameter of the shell hole could not be ascertained because it was fully clogged.

In the early days policemen attached to that station rode mounts, but when the era of the motorcycles set in, the stable was abandoned for garages. The stable was recently condemned and ordered torn down by CWA employes.

Captain William T. Weiss, in charge of the district, was watching the men level off the ground where the building had stood, heard a shovel strike the relic and had it dug up.

Historians will be consulted to determine whether or not it was used in the Revolutionary war.

CLOSE SHOPS WEDNESDAY

Because of the annual Italian Day at Cascade Park, on Wednesday, announcement is made that shoe repair shops of the city will be closed during the day.

Today

Raise Sheep.
The Friendless Reds.
They Got Ahigiak.
Water Power Labor Power.

By ARTHUR BRISBANE

FLEISCHMANNS, N. Y. Aug. 14—Of many beautiful sections in America, none is more beautiful than this with thousands of green and blue mountains and hills, rolling into the distance, beautiful fertile valleys, smooth pastures on the mountain sides, wide forests.

It makes a modern American feel tired, even a little faint, to look at the endless miles of stone fences built along the hillside by old Dutch settlers and by Huguenots, whose French names survive in many villages.

IF YOU WOULD like to become acquainted with the earth on which you live, and the sky above it come here and start a sheep farm. Mr. Thomas J. McCaulay, formerly of the Genesee Valley now of Allaire, N. J., says this is the ideal region for raising sheep, and he knows more about sheep than the sheep themselves know.

You can find suitable farms, good meadow land to raise winter fodder, upland pastures for grazing, wood and brush land for browsing enough for one hundred and fifty ewes, at low prices. Take good care of the ewes at lambing time, keep down cat briars that tear the wool, select a good grade of sheep, Southdown for the best mutton, a good shearing sheep if wool interests you, or a good combination sheep, Cheviot, perhaps, for wool and mutton, plant a garden, a few fruit trees, keep chickens, ducks, and two cows, get your pocket and store money from the sheep, and really LIVE instead of merely existing.

ON THESE HEIGHTS you could raise caracul sheep that produce the fur-wool, of which ladies' expensive fur coats are made. Only do not imitate the oriental catering to western cruelty and kill the mother to strip off the damask hide of the unborn caracul lambs.

Mr. Wallace, Secretary of Agriculture, will tell you about taking care of sheep, Armour and Company or Swift and Company, of Chicago, or any big packer will tell you how to get the sheep, carload lots at reasonable prices. You might write to Arthur D. White, care Swift and Company, Chicago, for advice. Be sure to raise a few four-year olds for your own use. No mutton is as good as old mutton.

IT IS GENERALLY understood that the "Reds" are wicked, seeking to destroy out practically perfect form of government, and divide up all the money.

Nevertheless, you almost feel sorry for them, reading about the "drive" planned against them.

Michael F. Shannon, "grand exalted ruler" of the Benevolent and Protective Order of Elks, says "the issue is between the Stars and Stripes and the Red flag." Love of country and flag is the Elk's specialty and the grand exalted ruler will let loose 500,000 Elks against the "Reds."

THEN THERE are the war veterans, all against Communism, determined that those Reds shall not tear down what the veterans have preserved. And the Knights of Columbus as well organized, as determined a body as there is on earth, and most intelligently led, are against the Reds.

There are also the Baptists, Methodists, Christian Scientists, Seventh Day Adventists all anti-Communistic, not forgetting the capitalists, that thin, golden line around the corner of Broad and Wall streets, New York, small in numbers, but fierce in their resolve to hang onto what they have left.

How the Reds survive at all, how they can be such a menace to flag and country in the face of such odds is the puzzle. There must be able men among them.

THREE YEARS ago Ahigiak, Eskimo hunter of the Far North, thought his friend Aniurak too attentive to his Ahigiak's wife, and Ahigiak killed Aniurak. Imagine the Eskimo surprise when white men came flying hundred of miles over the dreary wastes, just to get Ahigiak and jail him for five years.

Hundreds of Eskimos gathered, convinced that the whites must be coming to get fox skins. Even poor Anigiak, who had forgotten all about Aniurak had his fox skins ready, and the caribou herders had their herds ready for display.

What those Eskimos thought of white-man intelligence when they learned that all the fuss was to put one lonesome Anigiak in jail, you would not like to hear. What else they would have thought, had they known that those whites had only just finished butchering each other by the millions in the big war it would be hard to guess.

AAA Plans To Retain Present System In Control Of Crops

(International News Service)

CHICAGO, Aug. 14.—Strong indication that the agricultural administration plans retention of the processing tax in its crop control, coupled with a sharp upward lift of acreage production as a result of drought losses was given by Chester Davis, AAA administrator here.

Describing the processing tax "as a kind of pump to force circulation of purchasing power through our economic system," Davis said:

"Suppose the tax is cut off and no substitute provided, as some disciples of the old deal advocate, and suppose markets, domestic or foreign, are incapable of absorbing all the farm products we can produce, what would happen?

Prices Would Collapse.

"Why, the same thing that happened before. Farm prices would collapse, farm buying would cease, city workers would lose their jobs and the whole vicious cycle of depression would once more get under way."

Revealing department plans for combating drought shortages, Davis said:

"The drought, with its appalling damage, is a circumstance which must be given due weight in mapping continued adjustment operations. But we have no reason to believe that the land of the United States has prematurely lost its productivity."

Production control programs are now in effect for wheat, cotton, corn, hogs, rice and tobacco.

"Domestic sugar producers will feel the benefits of the sugar program this fall," he stated.

Surpluses Distributed.

Purchasing power of producers of the seven basic commodities first named, he said, has been increased 70 per cent after allowing for the higher prices of things they buy. He estimated the purchasing power of all farmers has been increased 26 per cent by the various recovery forces.

Declaring that surpluses of farm products have been distributed by the federal government to unemployed needy "for the first time during a depression," Davis said the 3,000,000 farmers taking part in the adjustment program want "to produce generously and without restraint; it goes against their grain not to, but each of them have at last served notice that he and his family must have their share."

TRAINS TO STOP AT PYMATUNING

Residents Here May Travel To Dedication Friday On Pennsylvania

The Pennsylvania railroad, as an accommodation for the general public, will stop two of its regular passenger trains at a point near the Pymatuning dam on Friday, August 17, the day on which Governor Gifford Pinchot of Pennsylvania and Governor George White of Ohio will dedicate it, Superintendent E. S. Reed of the Erie & Ashtabula division announced today.

"The railroad right-of-way runs near the place where the program will be held, and we want to cooperate with officials as best we can," said the superintendent as he announced that special stops have been authorized.

Train No. 415 leaves New Castle for the dam at 9:51 a. m., Standard Time, and when it arrives at a point about a mile and a half above Jamestown the train will stop. Those who make the trip by train may return in the afternoon aboard a Pittsburgh-bound train, No. 474, due to reach the special "Pymatuning station" at about 4:30 p. m.

A fare of $2.10 will be charged New Castle residents for the round trip to and from the dam.

The dedication itself will occur at 3 p. m.

Speedy Arrests After Robbery

Large Part Of Loot Is Recovered As Four Suspects Are Taken

TWO OF PRISONERS MAKE CONFESSIONS

(International News Service)

GREENSBURG, Pa., Aug. 14.—Confessions by two of the four suspects they arrested in connection with the $3,000 robbery of the Manor National Bank Saturday in their hands, state police today pressed forward in their efforts to "clean up" the case.

Officers announced shortly after they obtained the confessions that they were convinced only four men were involved in the robbery. Hunt for a fifth man was said to have been called off. In making their announcement the troopers refused to divulge the names of those making statements.

Recover Much Loot

At the same time it was learned that $2,100 of the loot taken from the bank had been recovered.

The four under arrest as the suspected robbers are:

Raymond Baker, 26, Irwin; Francis Winters, 29, of near Turtle Creek; Harold E. Doriot, 20, of near Wilkinsburg, and George Klaus, 19, East Pittsburgh.

Captain Jacob C. Mauk, who made the arrests known, asserted all the suspects except Klaus have police records.

New significance was attached to the arrests this morning when United States Attorney Horatio S. Dumbauld told authorities that the government would prosecute the suspects in district court in Pittsburgh if the county so desired. Recently enacted federal legislation makes the robbing of a national bank a government offense.

Find Old Cannon Under Stable Of Police Station

Gun Unearthed By PWA Workers Believed Of Historic Origin

(International News Service)

PHILADELPHIA—A cannon believed to be of historic origin was unearthed by PWA workers at the state road and Longshore police station and was so thickly covered with rust that its exact measurements could not be determined, but its finders claimed it to be about six feet long. The diameter of the shell hole could not be ascertained because it was fully clogged.

In the early days policemen attached to that station rode mounts, but when the era of the motorcycles set in, the stable was abandoned for garages. The stable was recently condemned and ordered torn down by CWA employes.

Captain William T. Weiss, in charge of the district, was watching the men level off the ground where the building had stood, heard a shovel strike the relic and had it dug up.

Historians will be consulted to determine whether or not it was used in the Revolutionary war.

Raise Sheep.
The Friendless Reds.
They Got Ahigiak.
Water Power Labor Power.
By ARTHUR BRISBANE

FLEISCHMANNS, N. Y. Aug. 14—Of many beautiful sections in America, none is more beautiful than this with thousands of green and blue mountains and hills, rolling into the distance, beautiful fertile valleys, smooth pastures on the mountain sides, wide forests.

It makes a modern American feel tired, even a little faint, to look at the endless miles of stone fences built along the hillside by old Dutch settlers and by Huguenots, whose French names survive in many villages.

IF YOU WOULD like to become acquainted with the earth on which you live, and the sky above it come here and start a sheep farm. Mr. Thomas J. McCaulay, formerly of the Genesee Valley now of Allaire, N. J., says this is the ideal region for raising sheep, and he knows more about sheep than the sheep themselves know.

You can find suitable farms, good meadow land to raise winter fodder, upland pastures for grazing, wood and brush land for browsing enough for one hundred and fifty ewes, at low prices. Take good care of the ewes at lambing time, keep down cat briars that tear the wool, select a good grade of sheep, Southdown for the best mutton, a good shearing sheep if wool interests you, or a good combination sheep, Cheviot, perhaps, for wool and mutton, plant a garden, a few fruit trees, keep chickens, ducks, and two cows, get your pocket and store money from the sheep, and really LIVE instead of merely existing.

ON THESE HEIGHTS you could raise caracul sheep that produce the fur-wool, of which ladies' expensive fur coats are made. Only do not imitate the oriental catering to western cruelty and kill the mother to strip off the damask hide of the unborn caracul lambs.

Mr. Wallace, Secretary of Agriculture, will tell you about taking care of sheep, Armour and Company or Swift and Company, of Chicago, or any big packer will tell you how to get the sheep, carload lots at reasonable prices. You might write to Arthur D. White, care Swift and Company, Chicago, for advice. Be sure to raise a few four-year olds for your own use. No mutton is as good as old mutton.

IT IS GENERALLY understood that the "Reds" are wicked, seeking to destroy out practically perfect form of government, and divide up all the money.

Nevertheless, you almost feel sorry for them, reading about the "drive" planned against them.

Michael F. Shannon, "grand exalted ruler" of the Benevolent and Protective Order of Elks, says "the issue is between the Stars and Stripes and the Red flag." Love of country and flag is the Elk's specialty and the grand exalted ruler will let loose 500,000 Elks against the "Reds."

THEN THERE are the war veterans, all against Communism, determined that those Reds shall not tear down what the veterans have preserved. And the Knights of Columbus as well organized, as determined a body as there is on earth, and most intelligently led, are against the Reds.

There are also the Baptists, Methodists, Christian Scientists, Seventh Day Adventists all anti-Communistic, not forgetting the capitalists, that thin, golden line around the corner of Broad and Wall streets, New York, small in numbers, but fierce in their resolve to hang onto what they have left.

How the Reds survive at all, how they can be such a menace to flag and country in the face of such odds is the puzzle. There must be able men among them.

THREE YEARS ago Ahigiak, Eskimo hunter of the Far North, thought his friend Aniurak too attentive to his Ahigiak's wife, and Ahigiak killed Aniurak. Imagine the Eskimo surprise when white men came flying hundred of miles over the dreary wastes, just to get Ahigiak and jail him for five years.

Hundreds of Eskimos gathered, convinced that the whites must be coming to get fox skins. Even poor Anigiak, who had forgotten all about Aniurak had his fox skins ready, and the caribou herders had their herds ready for display.

What those Eskimos thought of white-man intelligence when they learned that all the fuss was to put one lonesome Anigiak in jail, you would not like to hear. What else they would have thought, had they known that those whites had only just finished butchering each other by the millions in the big war it would be hard to guess.

SIX ALUMINUM plants have been closed by strikes. It is expected that 15,000 men will go out. They may, unfortunately, be out a long time. The aluminum business has not been good. The makers own and use gigantic water power, aluminum being chiefly a power product That the power might not go to waste, the manufacturers have been turning out and storing aluminum they could not sell, tens of millions of pounds of it. Ten million pounds of light aluminum is a good deal. Some time ago, more than sixty million surplus pounds had been stored away, for the hoped for better times.

IF THE POWER plants are shut down by the strike, it may be a long time before they reopen. It seems to be an issue of power against power, the working power of men. Pity that both should go to waste in times like these.

It might be well to let prosperity peek a little more distinctly around the corner before calling too many strikes on the assumption that since NRA the country belongs to organized labor.

THE CURRENT strikes are to be accompanied by a powerful drive in favor of the union label, a mark showing that the product is one of union men only. Goods not labeled would be subject to boycott. When such a drive was proposed in a labor gathering some years ago, embarrassment was caused by investigation of the delegates' hats, so many lacked the union label. That doubtless, has been changed, under Mr. Green's management.

Nevertheless, union labor, if wise will assume complete control gradually. That is what capitalism did, and how successful it was, up to 1929.

IT IS A pleasure to hear from the United States Chamber of Commerce that there are "only" seven millions out of work in this country. Mr. Green, union labor head, says ten millions, but the chamber says that is "exaggeration."

On the other hand, statistics show that one family in every ten, in New York City is "getting home relief," which is our substitute expression for the dole. In New York 671,866 persons are on the dole, 7,939 more than the previous highest record. That does not indicate diminished unemployment.

But why isn't there an international league to prevent stupidity? That does the most harm.

If the government is so eager to do something for the poor man, what about seats in box cars?

VICHY, France—Bernard M. Baruch, who is going to be 65 on August 17, says that's not why he has begun to write his memoirs.

Ten Sheep Are Killed By Dogs On Reno Farm

Wylie Brewster Of Animal Bureau Called To Appraise Them Today

Ten sheep were killed by dogs on the farm of Norman Reno in Shenango township, according to a report made to Wylie Brewster, agent of the Bureau of Animal Industry. Mr. Brewster went to the Reno farm this morning to appraise the damage and look for the dogs.

Under the law Brewster sets the value of the sheep killed and the owner is re-imbursed by the state, provided the owner of the dog is not found, in which case the damages are assessed on him.

Lawrence county has been comparatively free from ravages of sheep killing dogs, this summer, according to Brewster. The Reno killings are the largest reported. The next largest was on a farm near Enon, where eight were killed. There have been several instances of from one to three sheep killed.

Dogs seldom eat the sheep they kill, according to Brewster. Sometimes they will take a few bites, but usually a sheep killing dog seems to do it for the pleasure he finds in chasing the flock.

When a sheep is caught the dog usually catches it by the throat and chokes the life out of it. Sometimes the sheep are simply run and worried until they die from sheer exhaustion.

Not nearly so many sheep are being killed in Lawrence county as in former years. Mr. Brewster attributes this to the greater care exercised by farmers in looking after their dogs. The dogs are usually shut up or tied up at night.

Depredations on flock in both Mercer and Beaver counties have been greater than in Lawrence county.

Despite a number of arrests Brewster says that there are still some dogs without licenses running at large. He is trying to round them up, and will bring prosecutions against those who have neglected to take out licenses for their dogs.

Young Boys Help Save Man's Life

Spread Alarm And Apply Resuscitation Methods On Creek Bank

Edward Kopacz, 1509 Morris street and Henry Krosowatz, 1606½ Hanna street probably saved the life of Ralph Jordan, who resides in East Washington street near Grandview avenue, when they found him fully submerged in the Neshannock creek at the foot of South Mercer street, Monday afternoon. After spreading the alarm he was pulled out by Floyd Overly, 803 Market street. The two boys then applied resuscitatory exercises and Jordan came too.

It is believed he attempted to walk across the creek or fell of the embankment.

When the boys saw him he was fully immersed, his head was bobbing beneath water.

To them, he appeared to be trying to arise.

They did not become alarmed. Instead they yelled for help then jumped into the creek and pulled on him.

The lads were not strong enough and Overly pulled him to safety after which they started to resuscitate him.

Confesses Robbery Tale Was Ficticious

Police Investigate Supposed Robbery Case On Hanna Street

Michael Christopher tied himself up and while in that condition rolled into the bedroom of his uncle, Assad and when discovered told a weird story of "robbery" at 1102 Hanna street.

This was Saturday night.

He did not report the "robbery" until Sunday because he thought the police station was not open for business.

Yesterday he appeared at the police station and the officer on the desk, Police Matron Minnie McKibben did not believe his story had the ring of truth.

She referred him to the detectives bureau.

Lieutenant McMullen and City Detective Moore gave him the opportunity to tell his story after which they accused him of faking the "robbery."

And by the time this pair and Lieutenant Criswell and Detective Lynch had finished the investigation he "fessed up."

He was held in jail over night and discharged with a warning when he faced Mayor Mayne today.

All he obtained during the fake robbery was about $3.50.

NUDE WEDDING REPORTED IN 1752

(International News Service)

BALTIMORE, Md.—Nude weddings are old stuff, according to residents of Frederick county.

Reading the wide-spread accounts of a recent nude wedding at the Century of Progress, they dug up a copy of Benjamin Franklin's "Pennsylvania Gazette".

In the Jan. 4, 1752 issue was published an account of a nude wedding in Frederick county. The bridal couple were from New Jersey. And, according to the Gazette, a sheet was held in front of the nude participants while the minister performed the service.

WORLD WAR PAVED WAY FOR RISE OF THIS TRIO

Benito Mussolini — Adolf Hitler — Josef V. Stalin

Twenty years ago this August when war and rumors of war were just beginning to set the world afire, these three men were rather obscure figures in their respective countries. Today they are the dictators upon whom the attention of the world is fastened. Mussolini was then the editor of a radical newspaper, Hitler an undistinguished corporal in the Austrian army, and Stalin of Russia was in exile in Siberia. Photos show them as they looked in 1914 and today.

When Hitler Was One of Crowd

Twenty years makes a vast difference as this picture proves. Made August 2nd, 1914, it shows Adolph Hitler (as in enlargement) in the crowd that jammed the square in Munich, cheering news that Germany had declared war on Russia. Twenty years later, to the day, Adolph Hitler became undisputed dictator of Germany.

Vast Mineral Wealth Rests In Dust Pile

(International News Service)

ATOLIA Cal.—A million and a half, dollars piled outside the door, and no way of releasing it—That is the problem which confronts the Atolia Mining Company here, operators of one of the world's two tungsten mines.

In 1914 when the war proved tungsten, a very rare mineral used for hardening steel, to be a necessity, it jumped from six dollars a unit of 20 pounds to $84 overnight. Previously processing tungsten was almost unknown and the methods very primitive. In the scramble, ore valued at more than a million dollars was rushed to a grinder and ground so fine that it was impossible to separate the mineral from the waste. There it has lain to date, looking like any sand heap, a huge pile of potential wealth, but unavailable.

Ten Sheep Are Killed By Dogs On Reno Farm

Wylie Brewster Of Animal Bureau Called To Appraise Them Today

Ten sheep were killed by dogs on the farm of Norman Reno in Shenango township, according to a report made to Wylie Brewster, agent of the Bureau of Animal Industry. Mr. Brewster went to the Reno farm this morning to appraise the damage and look for the dogs.

Under the law Brewster sets the value of the sheep killed and the owner is re-imbursed by the state, provided the owner of the dog is not found, in which case the damages are assessed on him.

Lawrence county has been comparatively free from ravages of sheep killing dogs, this summer, according to Brewster. The Reno killings are the largest reported. The next largest was on a farm near Enon, where eight were killed. There have been several instances of from one to three sheep killed.

Dogs seldom eat the sheep they kill, according to Brewster. Sometimes they will take a few bites, but usually a sheep killing dog seems to do it for the pleasure he finds in chasing the flock.

When a sheep is caught the dog usually catches it by the throat and chokes the life out of it. Sometimes the sheep are simply run and worried until they die from sheer exhaustion.

Not nearly so many sheep are being killed in Lawrence county as in former years. Mr. Brewster attributes this to the greater care exercised by farmers in looking after their dogs. The dogs are usually shut up or tied up at night.

Depredations on flock in both Mercer and Beaver counties have been greater than in Lawrence county.

Despite a number of arrests Brewster says that there are still some dogs without licenses running at large. He is trying to round them up, and will bring prosecutions against those who have neglected to take out licenses for their dogs.

Four other persons escaped injuries in the accident, in which two cars came together, Sunday morning at 2:30 o'clock.

Young Boys Help Save Man's Life

Spread Alarm And Apply Resuscitation Methods On Creek Bank

Edward Kopacz, 1509 Morris street and Henry Krosowatz, 1606½ Hanna street probably saved the life of Ralph Jordan, who resides in East Washington street near Grandview avenue, when they found him fully submerged in the Neshannock creek at the foot of South Mercer street, Monday afternoon. After spreading the alarm he was pulled out by Floyd Overly, 803 Market street. The two boys then applied resuscitatory exercises and Jordan came too.

It is believed he attempted to walk across the creek or fell of the embankment.

When the boys saw him he was fully immersed, his head was bobbing beneath water.

To them, he appeared to be trying to arise.

They did not become alarmed. Instead they yelled for help then jumped into the creek and pulled on him.

The lads were not strong enough and Overly pulled him to safety after which they started to resuscitate him.

Confesses Robbery Tale Was Ficticious

Police Investigate Supposed Robbery Case On Hanna Street

Michael Christopher tied himself up and while in that condition rolled into the bedroom of his uncle, Assad and when discovered told a weird story of "robbery" at 1102 Hanna street.

This was Saturday night.

He did not report the "robbery" until Sunday because he thought the police station was not open for business.

Yesterday he appeared at the police station and the officer on the desk, Police Matron Minnie McKibben did not believe his story had the ring of truth.

She referred him to the detectives bureau.

Lieutenant McMullen and City Detective Moore gave him the opportunity to tell his story after which they accused him of faking the "robbery."

And by the time this pair and Lieutenant Criswell and Detective Lynch had finished the investigation he "fessed up."

He was held in jail over night and discharged with a warning when he faced Mayor Mayne today.

All he obtained during the fake robbery was about $3.50.

NUDE WEDDING REPORTED IN 1752

(International News Service)

BALTIMORE, Md.—Nude weddings are old stuff, according to residents of Frederick county.

Reading the wide-spread accounts of a recent nude wedding at the Century of Progress, they dug up a copy of Benjamin Franklin's "Pennsylvania Gazette".

In the Jan. 4, 1752 issue was published an account of a nude wedding in Frederick county. The bridal couple were from New Jersey. And, according to the Gazette, a sheet was held in front of the nude participants while the minister performed the service.

WORLD WAR PAVED WAY FOR RISE OF THIS TRIO

Benito Mussolini — Adolf Hitler — Josef V. Stalin

Twenty years ago this August when war and rumors of war were just beginning to set the world afire, these three men were rather obscure figures in their respective countries. Today they are the dictators upon whom the attention of the world is fastened. Mussolini was then the editor of a radical newspaper. Hitler an undistinguished corporal in the Austrian army, and Stalin of Russia was in exile in Siberia. Photos show them as they looked in 1914 and today.

(International News Service)

MT. PLEASANT, Pa., Aug. 14.—Struck by lightning as they were erecting a ladder used in a high-diving act, four carnival men were expected to recover here today.

The accident occurred as approximately 3,000 firemen gathered here for the western Pennsylvania Firemen association's annual convention.

Spectators were panic-stricken as the bolt struck.

Those injured were George Herman, 26; William Smith, 20; Jack Hughes, 25, and Joe Johnson, 24. Herman's condition was reported as serious. The others were permitted to leave the hospital.

Two other injuries marred the opening day session of the convention. Two Tarentum firemen were hurt, one driving a spike through his hand while helping to erect a tent and the other receiving a heavy blow on his leg from a mallet.

When Hitler Was One of Crowd

Twenty years makes a vast difference as this picture proves. Made August 2nd, 1914, it shows Adolph Hitler (as in enlargement) in the crowd that jammed the square in Munich, cheering news that Germany had declared war on Russia. Vast Mineral Wealth Rests In Dust Pile

(International News Service)

ATOLIA Cal.—A million and a half, dollars piled outside the door, and no way of releasing it—That is the problem which confronts the Atolia Mining Company here, operators of one of the world's two tungsten mines.

In 1914 when the war proved tungsten, a very rare mineral used for hardening steel, to be a necessity, it jumped from six dollars a unit of 20 pounds to $84 overnight. Previously processing tungsten was almost unknown and the methods very primitive. In the scramble, ore valued at more than a million dollars was rushed to a grinder and ground so fine that it was impossible to separate the mineral from the waste. There it has lain to date, looking like any sand heap, a huge pile of potential wealth, but unavailable.

Processing Tax Will Be Retained

AAA Plans To Retain Present System In Control Of Crops

(International News Service)

CHICAGO, Aug. 14.—Strong indication that the agricultural administration plans retention of the processing tax in its crop control, coupled with a sharp upward lift of acreage production as a result of drought losses was given by Chester Davis, AAA administrator here.

Describing the processing tax "as a kind of pump to force circulation of purchasing power through our economic system," Davis said:

"Suppose the tax is cut off and no substitute provided, as some disciples of the old deal advocate, and suppose markets, domestic or foreign, are incapable of absorbing all the farm products we can produce, what would happen?

Prices Would Collapse.

"Why, the same thing that happened before. Farm prices would collapse, farm buying would cease, city workers would lose their jobs and the whole vicious cycle of depression would once more get under way."

Revealing department plans for combating drought shortages, Davis said:

"The drought, with its appalling damage, is a circumstance which must be given due weight in mapping continued adjustment operations. But we have no reason to believe that the land of the United States has prematurely lost its productivity."

Production control programs are now in effect for wheat, cotton, corn, hogs, rice and tobacco.

"Domestic sugar producers will feel the benefits of the sugar program this fall," he stated.

Surpluses Distributed.

Purchasing power of producers of the seven basic commodities first named, he said, has been increased 70 per cent after allowing for the higher prices of things they buy. He estimated the purchasing power of all farmers has been increased 26 per cent by the various recovery forces.

Declaring that surpluses of farm products have been distributed by the federal government to unemployed needy "for the first time during a depression," Davis said the 3,000,000 farmers taking part in the adjustment program want "to produce generously and without restraint; it goes against their grain not to, but each of them have at last served notice that he and his family must have their share."

TRAINS TO STOP AT PYMATUNING

Residents Here May Travel To Dedication Friday On Pennsylvania

The Pennsylvania railroad, as an accommodation for the general public, will stop two of its regular passenger trains at a point near the Pymatuning dam on Friday, August 17, the day on which Governor Gifford Pinchot of Pennsylvania and Governor George White of Ohio will dedicate it, Superintendent E. S. Reed of the Erie & Ashtabula division announced today.

"The railroad right-of-way runs near the place where the program will be held, and we want to cooperate with officials as best we can," said the superintendent as he announced that special stops have been authorized.

Train No. 415 leaves New Castle for the dam at 9:51 a. m., Standard Time, and when it arrives at a point about a mile and a half above Jamestown the train will stop. Those who make the trip by train may return in the afternoon aboard a Pittsburgh-bound train, No. 474, due to reach the special "Pymatuning station" at about 4:30 p. m.

A fare of $2.10 will be charged New Castle residents for the round trip to and from the dam.

The dedication itself will occur at 3 p. m.

Place Vitamin In Dairy Milk By New Process

Powerful Arc Light Is Used In New Invention

(International News Service)

DENVER—The famous "sunshine" vitamin, identified by scientists under the letter "D" is being placed in ordinary dairy milk by the process of "irradiation," Dr. Henry T. Scott, director of biological research for the Wisconsin Alumni Research foundation at Madison, Wis., told Denver doctors.

The method, developed in the research laboratories of the University of Wisconsin, has the approval of the American Medical association, he said.

"The method," Dr. Scott explained, "can be rigidly controlled and supervised, has a comparatively low cost and is suitable for activating milk in large quantities in a city milk plant.

"The apparatus used in the direct irradiation of milk is a large metal cylinder or open cooler. In the exact center of this cylinder hangs a 60-ampere carbon arc light of constant intensity. The milk flows down the inside of this metal form in a thin film and is exposed to the rays of the powerful arc for just two and one-half seconds."

Flavor, food value, appearance and cream content of the milk are not affected. Dr. Scott said. One quart of irradiated milk has the equivalent of 200 Steenbock vitamin D units of cod liver oil, he declared.

Those scientists who say perpetual motion is impossible should watch the Treasury shell out.

Drug Smuggling Into U. S. Still Serious Problem

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON — Many nations continue to contribute deadly narcotics to the addicts of the United States despite the efforts of the government for international control of the traffic.

While federal narcotic officials believe that great progress has been made in curbing the importation of drugs, they concede that it is a serious problem and perhaps will be for years.

Illicit imports of raw opium on the eastern coast have been mostly from Turkey, Commissioner of Narcotics H. J. Anslinger told a congressional committee.

Judge Advises Married How To Avoid Divorce

Has Not Yet Lost Faith In Institution Of Marriage

(International News Service)

CHICAGO, Ill.—Judge Jos. Sabath who probably knows more about domestic difficulties than any other person in the country, has not lost faith in the institution of marriage.

During the twenty-five years Judge Sabath has been on the bench he has presided at approximately 40,000 divorce cases and several thousand more probably will be added to the list before he retires as he recently was sworn in for another six year term.

"I hold that marriage can be successful if each party recognizes the rights of the other and respects them," he said as he was sworn in at the beginning of his twenty-sixth year on the bench.

He presented a list of suggestions for married persons which, he said, would eliminate his job if religiously followed by everyone. They are:

To the husband—Be faithful and kind, make your wife a real partner and pal: discuss all your problems, good or bad, with her: show her that you love her: avoid interference of relatives: respect your wife's parents, but don't live with them.

To the wife—Do not allow yourself to be treated as a weak, dependent little thing: do not be afraid to soil your hands: don't fear motherhood: don't tease your husband by idle flirtations: don't treat him as though he were a tresspasser in his own home.

OLD LIQUOR STILL MAKESHIFT RAFT

(International News Service)

SEWARD, Alaska.—Marooned on a small island in Tustamen lake where his dory broke doose, Nels Skolberg while exploring his Robinson Caruso retreat, discovered an abandoned still. Without an axe to make a raft, he plugged the bunghole of some barrels, made the still airtight, bound the barrels together with roots and reached the mainland on his makeshift raft.

Here he was encountered by a liquor enforcement officer, who placed him under arrest for being in possession of a still. Skolberg was released only after the officer made him row back to the island to inspect the abandoned premises.

MAYBE you've seen it—the smashing whirlwind of daredevil feats — the highspeed curves — the clouds of dirt — the plunging, bounding dash over chuckholes — the grind of brakes—as Barney Oldfield puts on his show in Chicago.

If you have — you don't need to be told that America's most famous racing driver can't afford to take chances on tires. Read his letter. It tells the story! It tells you why the famous Goodyear "G-3" is chosen to stand up under this punishment—just as it stood up and kept on standing up on the day and night grind of the Goodyear test fleet—to prove that it gives 43% longer non-skid mileage! No wonder it is the biggest tire sensation in years—and the world's largest-selling tire today. With all its extra miles of safety — it costs no more to buy!

Mr. P. W. Litchfield, President
The Goodyear Tire & Rubber Co.
Akron, Ohio

Dear Mr. Litchfield:

You know that I know tires...I have to know tires...my life depends upon them.

At no time during my 32 years of professional driving have I made such extreme demands upon tires as I now make, continuously, at the Chrysler sand pits and test track on the Century of Progress grounds in Chicago.

The track is one-fourth mile long. Its surface is highly abrasive and its turns are unusually severe.

Unless my tires grip doggedly...unless they are so rugged of carcass as to withstand terrific friction heat and pile driver blows ...my daily exhibitions would be impossible.

And that's why I am exclusively using the famous Goodyear G3 All-Weathers.

Since the very beginning of automobile racing, no tires have been called upon to withstand such extreme punishment. But those G3's can take it...not a tire failure so far this season!

And they're strictly stock tires...exactly the same tires the general public buys from Goodyear dealers...whereas tires used in races such as the Memorial Day 500 mile classic and similar events are especially constructed and not sold to or suitable for the general motoring public.

I sincerely congratulate Goodyear upon having developed this really sensational new tire.

You know me,
Barney Oldfield

P.S. Naturally I have equipped the cars driven by Mrs. Oldfield and Betty, my daughter, with G3's.

Place Vitamin In Dairy Milk By New Process

Powerful Arc Light Is Used In New Invention

(International News Service)

DENVER—The famous "sunshine" vitamin, identified by scientists under the letter "D" is being placed in ordinary dairy milk by the process of "irradiation," Dr. Henry T. Scott, director of biological research for the Wisconsin Alumni Research foundation at Madison, Wis., told Denver doctors.

The method, developed in the research laboratories of the University of Wisconsin, has the approval of the American Medical association, he said.

"The method," Dr. Scott explained, "can be rigidly controlled and supervised, has a comparatively low cost and is suitable for activating milk in large quantities in a city milk plant.

"The apparatus used in the direct irradiation of milk is a large metal cylinder or open cooler. In the exact center of this cylinder hangs a 60-ampere carbon arc light of constant intensity. The milk flows down the inside of this metal form in a thin film and is exposed to the rays of the powerful arc for just two and one-half seconds."

Flavor, food value, appearance and cream content of the milk are not affected, Dr. Scott said. One quart of irradiated milk has the equivalent of 200 Steenbock vitamin D units of cod liver oil, he declared.

Those scientists who say perpetual motion is impossible should watch the Treasury shell out.

Evicted Barber Opens Shop On Sidewalk

(International News Service)

SAN FRANCISCO, Cal.—Sam McGirk, tonsorialist, has real personality. And his co-workers are loyal. When McGirk was forced to move out of his shop through a mortgage transaction after 30 years of barbering here, he decided to set up an al fresco shop on the sidewalk. His barbers followed and satisfied patrons of the past climbed into the chairs for service.

Drug Smuggling Into U. S. Still Serious Problem

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON — Many nations continue to contribute deadly narcotics to the addicts of the United States despite the efforts of the government for international control of the traffic.

While federal narcotic officials believe that great progress has been made in curbing the importation of drugs, they concede that it is a serious problem and perhaps will be for years.

Illicit imports of raw opium on the eastern coast have been mostly from Turkey, Commissioner of Narcotics H. J. Anslinger told a congressional committee.

Judge Advises Married How To Avoid Divorce

Has Not Yet Lost Faith In Institution Of Marriage

(International News Service)

CHICAGO, Ill.—Judge Jos. Sabath who probably knows more about domestic difficulties than any other person in the country, has not lost faith in the institution of marriage.

During the twenty-five years Judge Sabath has been on the bench he has presided at approximately 40,000 divorce cases and several thousand more probably will be added to the list before he retires as he recently was sworn in for another six year term.

"I hold that marriage can be successful if each party recognizes the rights of the other and respects them," he said as he was sworn in at the beginning of his twenty-sixth year on the bench.

He presented a list of suggestions for married persons which, he said, would eliminate his job if religiously followed by everyone. They are:

To the husband—Be faithful and kind, make your wife a real partner and pal: discuss all your problems, good or bad, with her: show her that you love her: avoid interference of relatives: respect your wife's parents, but don't live with them.

To the wife—Do not allow yourself to be treated as a weak, dependent little thing: do not be afraid to soil your hands: don't fear motherhood: don't tease your husband by idle flirtations: don't treat him as though he were a tresspasser in his own home.

OLD LIQUOR STILL MAKESHIFT RAFT

(International News Service)

SEWARD, Alaska.—Marooned on a small island in Tustamen lake where his dory broke doose, Nels Skolberg while exploring his Robinson Caruso retreat, discovered an abandoned still. Without an axe to make a raft, he plugged the bunghole of some barrels, made the still airtight, bound the barrels together with roots and reached the mainland on his makeshift raft.

Here he was encountered by a liquor enforcement officer, who placed him under arrest for being in possession of a still. Skolberg was released only after the officer made him row back to the island to inspect the abandoned premises.

Ten Sheep Are Killed By Dogs On Reno Farm

Wylie Brewster Of Animal Bureau Called To Appraise Them Today

Ten sheep were killed by dogs on the farm of Norman Reno in Shenango township, according to a report made to Wylie Brewster, agent of the Bureau of Animal Industry. Mr. Brewster went to the Reno farm this morning to appraise the damage and look for the dogs.

Under the law Brewster sets the value of the sheep killed and the owner is re-imbursed by the state, provided the owner of the dog is not found, in which case the damages are assessed on him.

Lawrence county has been comparatively free from ravages of sheep killing dogs, this summer, according to Brewster. The Reno killings are the largest reported. The next largest was on a farm near Enon, where eight were killed. There have been several instances of from one to three sheep killed.

Dogs seldom eat the sheep they kill, according to Brewster. Sometimes they will take a few bites, but usually a sheep killing dog seems to do it for the pleasure he finds in chasing the flock.

When a sheep is caught the dog usually catches it by the throat and chokes the life out of it. Sometimes the sheep are simply run and worried until they die from sheer exhaustion.

Not nearly so many sheep are being killed in Lawrence county as in former years. Mr. Brewster attributes this to the greater care exercised by farmers in looking after their dogs. The dogs are usually shut up or tied up at night.

Depredations on flock in both Mercer and Beaver counties have been greater than in Lawrence county.

Despite a number of arrests Brewster says that there are still some dogs without licenses running at large. He is trying to round them up, and will bring prosecutions against those who have neglected to take out licenses for their dogs.

Young Boys Help Save Man's Life

Spread Alarm And Apply Resuscitation Methods On Creek Bank

Edward Kopacz, 1509 Morris street and Henry Krosowatz, 1606½ Hanna street probably saved the life of Ralph Jordan, who resides in East Washington street near Grandview avenue, when they found him fully submerged in the Neshannock creek at the foot of South Mercer street, Monday afternoon. After spreading the alarm he was pulled out by Floyd Overly, 803 Market street. The two boys then applied resuscitatory exercises and Jordan came too.

It is believed he attempted to walk across the creek or fell of the embankment.

When the boys saw him he was fully immersed, his head was bobbing beneath water.

To them, he appeared to be trying to arise.

They did not become alarmed. Instead they yelled for help then jumped into the creek and pulled on him.

The lads were not strong enough and Overly pulled him to safety after which they started to resuscitate him.

Confesses Robbery Tale Was Ficticious

Police Investigate Supposed Robbery Case On Hanna Street

Michael Christopher tied himself up and while in that condition rolled into the bedroom of his uncle, Assad and when discovered told a weird story of "robbery" at 1102 Hanna street.

This was Saturday night.

He did not report the "robbery" until Sunday because he thought the police station was not open for business.

Yesterday he appeared at the police station and the officer on the desk, Police Matron Minnie McKibben did not believe his story had the ring of truth.

She referred him to the detectives bureau.

Lieutenant McMullen and City Detective Moore gave him the opportunity to tell his story after which they accused him of faking the "robbery."

And by the time this pair and Lieutenant Criswell and Detective Lynch had finished the investigation he "fessed up."

He was held in jail over night and discharged with a warning when he faced Mayor Mayne today.

All he obtained during the fake robbery was about $3.50.

MT. PLEASANT, Pa., Aug. 14.—Struck by lightning as they were erecting a ladder used in a high-diving act, four carnival men were expected to recover here today.

The accident occurred as approximately 3,000 firemen gathered here for the western Pennsylvania Firemen association's annual convention.

When Hitler Was One of Crowd

Twenty years makes a vast difference as this picture proves. Made August 2nd, 1914, it shows Adolph Hitler (as in enlargement) in the crowd that jammed the square in Munich, cheering news that Germany had declared war on Russia. Twenty years later, to the day, Adolph Hitler became undisputed dictator of Germany.

Vast Mineral Wealth Rests In Dust Pile

(International News Service)

ATOLIA Cal.—A million and a half, dollars piled outside the door, and no way of releasing it—That is the problem which confronts the Atolia Mining Company here, operators of one of the world's two tungsten mines.

In 1914 when the war proved tungsten, a very rare mineral used for hardening steel, to be a necessity, it jumped from six dollars a unit of 20 pounds to $84 overnight. Previously processing tungsten was almost unknown and the methods very primitive. In the scramble, ore valued at more than a million dollars was rushed to a grinder and ground so fine that it was impossible to separate the mineral from the waste. There it has lain to date, looking like any sand heap, a huge pile of potential wealth, but unavailable.

New Mexico Had First U. S. Schools

Twenty-Five Mission Schools Had Been Established By 1665

(International News Service)

SANTA FE, N. M.—New England, proud center of learning in the United States, does not hold that distinction because of its seniority as the educational center of the country.

The first schools in what now is the United States were founded by Franciscan Fathers who accompanied Spanish exploration parties into the Southwest, then part of the Spanish domain, and most of them were in the present state of New Mexico.

This information is contained in a book issued here in honor of the diamond jubilee of St. Michael's College, founded in 1859.

By 1665 twenty-five mission schools had been established by the Franciscan Fathers, who taught the children of the Spanish explorers and soldiers reading, writing, music and some of the trades. However, Indians of the Southwest, many of whom were being taught to embrace Christianity, comprised the largest groups of students.

An uprising of the Indians against the Spanish in 1680, resulting in overthrow of Spanish domination, brought an end to the educational system until the time of the reconquest in 1692, when the Fathers began to restablish their mission schools.

Education of the Indians was a tedious task which taxed the ingenuity of the Franciscans, according to the book. Each group of Indians spoke its own tongue and the missionaries could learn the language with time and practice alone. It was necessary to give instruction by means of signs and pictures.

Officially, the Southwest was without schools until 1771, when a royal Spanish decree ordered establishment of several for the education of the children of Spain's citizens living in America. However, the growth of education was slow and arduous and in 1832 there were only six public schools and two colleges conducted by priests in New Mexico. They later were closed owing to lack of funds. It was several years before schools again were established that have grown into the present educational system.

FIVE-YEAR-OLD BOY IS MATHEMATICAL WIZARD

(International News Service)

PHILADELPHIA — Although his mathematical calculations astound psychologists of the University of Pennsylvania, 5-year-old Louis Miller's one ambition is to emulate Max Baer.

Louis' mother took her youthful prodigy to the University of Pennsylvania recently where psychologists declared that the boy is "one in 100,000 when it comes to calculation."

The boy's mother afterward admitted, however, that to persuade Louis to go to the university for the test, she was forced to tell him that "Max Baer would be there" and give him a pair of boxing gloves.

Transcontinental Bicycle Racing Days Revived

New record two or three days less than mark of 13½ days set in 1896, when cycle racing was a nationally popular sport, is predicted by F. S. Beedleson, famous one-legged racing rider of Herkimer, N. Y., as outcome of forthcoming transcontinental bicycle championship contest. Mr. Beedleson (pictured in the good old days and today) laid out most of the course (shown at top) used in original races. Some of difficulties of cross country racing are illustrated at left. (Central Press)

Boundary Line Auto Accident Phases Court

(International News Service)

DENVER—The conflicting right-of-way rules of Colorado and the City of Denver caused Municipal Judge Alvin H. Pickens to sidestep a decision on a recent automobile accident case brought before him.

Under the state law, the car first reaching an intersection has the right-of-way. Under city ordinance the automobile at the right has the preference.

Miss Martha McLean collided with Londi Ross, a city fireman, on Sheridan boulevard which forms the boundary between the city and Jefferson county. The court was unable to determine on which side of the street the accident occurred.

On one side of the road, the state law would prevail: on the opposite side, the city ordinance.

"I'm going to let both of you fight out the matter somewhere else if you care to" Judge Pickens said, after hearing the evidence.

STRUCK BY AUTO

SCRANTON, Pa., Aug. 14.—Taylor Dorsey, 45, of Cleveland, Ohio, suffered a possible fracture of the skull today when struck by an automobile here. He was admitted to the State hospital in a critical condition.

Having the kids at home doesn't require much change except another breakfast at 11 a. m.

Corporal Brooks Leads Capture

Corporal Jimmie Brooks of Troop D, state police, who was formerly stationed in this city, but now at Mercer, headed a detail that captured two alleged bank robbers at Sharon yesterday. The men arrested by Brooks were Raymond Bakers and Francis Winters, of Irwin and Turtle Creek, respectively. They were asleep in a relative's home and were armed, but did not offer any resistance. Two other men have been arrested also in connection with the robbery of the Manor, Pa., National bank, Saturday. The robbers got $3,000.

New Mexico Had First U. S. Schools

Twenty-Five Mission Schools Had Been Established By 1665

(International News Service)

SANTA FE, N. M.—New England, proud center of learning in the United States, does not hold that distinction because of its seniority as the educational center of the country.

The first schools in what now is the United States were founded by Franciscan Fathers who accompanied Spanish exploration parties into the Southwest, then part of the Spanish domain, and most of them were in the present state of New Mexico.

This information is contained in a book issued here in honor of the diamond jubilee of St. Michael's College, founded in 1859.

By 1665 twenty-five mission schools had been established by the Franciscan Fathers, who taught the children of the Spanish explorers and soldiers reading, writing, music and some of the trades. However, Indians of the Southwest, many of whom were being taught to embrace Christianity, comprised the largest groups of students.

An uprising of the Indians against the Spanish in 1680, resulting in overthrow of Spanish domination, brought an end to the educational system until the time of the reconquest in 1692, when the Fathers began to restablish their mission schools.

Education of the Indians was a tedious task which taxed the ingenuity of the Franciscans, according to the book. Each group of Indians spoke its own tongue and the missionaries could learn the language with time and practice alone. It was necessary to give instruction by means of signs and pictures.

Officially, the Southwest was without schools until 1771, when a royal Spanish decree ordered establishment of several for the education of the children of Spain's citizens living in America. However, the growth of education was slow and arduous and in 1832 there were only six public schools and two colleges conducted by priests in New Mexico. They later were closed owing to lack of funds. It was several years before schools again were established that have grown into the present educational system.

FIVE-YEAR-OLD BOY IS MATHEMATICAL WIZARD

(International News Service)

PHILADELPHIA — Although his mathematical calculations astound psychologists of the University of Pennsylvania, 5-year-old Louis Miller's one ambition is to emulate Max Baer.

Louis' mother took her youthful prodigy to the University of Pennsylvania recently where psychologists declared that the boy is "one in 100,000 when it comes to calculation."

The boy's mother afterward admitted, however, that to persuade Louis to go to the university for the test, she was forced to tell him that "Max Baer would be there" and give him a pair of boxing gloves.

PLAN FOR PICNIC

MERCER, Aug. 14.—The annual picnic of the All Saints Catholic church will be held August 22nd in the grove opposite the church located on the Mercer-Greenville road.

This picnic which has been an annual event for over 60 years was originally planned for the church members as a day's outing after harvest.

Place Vitamin In Dairy Milk By New Process

Powerful Arc Light Is Used In New Invention

(International News Service)

DENVER—The famous "sunshine" vitamin, identified by scientists under the letter "D" is being placed in ordinary dairy milk by the process of "irradiation," Dr. Henry T. Scott, director of biological research for the Wisconsin Alumni Research foundation at Madison, Wis., told Denver doctors.

The method, developed in the research laboratories of the University of Wisconsin, has the approval of the American Medical association, he said.

"The method," Dr. Scott explained, "can be rigidly controlled and supervised, has a comparatively low cost and is suitable for activating milk in large quantities in a city milk plant.

"The apparatus used in the direct irradiation of milk is a large metal cylinder or open cooler. In the exact center of this cylinder hangs a 60-ampere carbon arc light of constant intensity. The milk flows down the inside of this metal form in a thin film and is exposed to the rays of the powerful arc for just two and one-half seconds."

Flavor, food value, appearance and cream content of the milk are not affected, Dr. Scott said. One quart of irradiated milk has the equivalent of 200 Steenbock vitamin D units of cod liver oil, he declared.

Those scientists who say perpetual motion is impossible should watch the Treasury shell out.

Drug Smuggling Into U. S. Still Serious Problem

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON — Many nations continue to contribute deadly narcotics to the addicts of the United States despite the efforts of the government for international control of the traffic.

While federal narcotic officials believe that great progress has been made in curbing the importation of drugs, they concede that it is a serious problem and perhaps will be for years.

Illicit imports of raw opium on the eastern coast have been mostly from Turkey, Commissioner of Narcotics H. J. Anslinger told a congressional committee.

Judge Advises Married How To Avoid Divorce

Has Not Yet Lost Faith In Institution Of Marriage

(International News Service)

CHICAGO, Ill.—Judge Jos. Sabath who probably knows more about domestic difficulties than any other person in the country, has not lost faith in the institution of marriage.

During the twenty-five years Judge Sabath has been on the bench he has presided at approximately 40,000 divorce cases and several thousand more probably will be added to the list before he retires as he recently was sworn in for another six year term.

"I hold that marriage can be successful if each party recognizes the rights of the other and respects them," he said as he was sworn in at the beginning of his twenty-sixth year on the bench.

He presented a list of suggestions for married persons which, he said, would eliminate his job if religiously followed by everyone. They are:

To the husband—Be faithful and kind, make your wife a real partner and pal: discuss all your problems, good or bad, with her: show her that you love her: avoid interference of relatives: respect your wife's parents, but don't live with them.

To the wife—Do not allow yourself to be treated as a weak, dependent little thing: do not be afraid to soil your hands: don't fear motherhood: don't tease your husband by idle flirtations: don't treat him as though he were a tresspasser in his own home.

OLD LIQUOR STILL MAKESHIFT RAFT

(International News Service)

SEWARD, Alaska.—Marooned on a small island in Tustamen lake where his dory broke doose, Nels Skolberg while exploring his Robinson Caruso retreat, discovered an abandoned still. Without an axe to make a raft, he plugged the bungholes of some barrels, made the still airtight, bound the barrels together with roots and reached the mainland on his makeshift raft.

Here he was encountered by a liquor enforcement officer, who placed him under arrest for being in possession of a still. Skolberg was released only after the officer made him row back to the island to inspect the abandoned premises.

"G-3" gives Century of Progress its Tire Sensation!

Over the ramp—three wheels in air! Day after day—many times a day—Goodyear "G-3" tires have to stand such punishment. But with patented Goodyear Supertwist Cord in every ply, they come up smiling.

You can't take chances on side slips at a time like this. Barney Oldfield taking a curve at a 45° angle.

CRASH! Down in the "death valley" sandpit and out again!

Barney Oldfield Puts New Goodyears Through Terrific tests — in Spectacular Exhibitions at Chicago

MAYBE you've seen it—the smashing whirlwind of daredevil feats — the highspeed curves — the clouds of dirt — the plunging, bounding dash over chuckholes — the grind of brakes—as Barney Oldfield puts on his show in Chicago.

If you have — you don't need to be told that America's most famous racing driver can't afford to take chances on tires. Read his letter. It tells the story! It tells you why the famous Goodyear "G-3" is chosen to stand up under this punishment—just as it stood up and kept on standing up on the day and night grind of the Goodyear test fleet—to prove that it gives 43% longer non-skid mileage! No wonder it is the biggest tire sensation in years—and the world's largest-selling tire today. With all its extra miles of safety — it costs no more to buy!

BARNEY OLDFIELD
BEVERLY HILLS, CALIFORNIA

Mr. P. W. Litchfield, President
The Goodyear Tire & Rubber Co.
Akron, Ohio

August 1, 1934

Dear Mr. Litchfield:

You know that I know tires...I have to know tires...my life depends upon them.

At no time during my 32 years of professional driving have I made such extreme demands upon tires as I now make, continuously, at the Chrysler sand pits and test track on the Century of Progress grounds in Chicago.

The track is one-fourth mile long. Its surface is highly abrasive and its turns are unusually severe.

Unless my tires grip doggedly ... unless they are so rugged of carcass as to withstand terrific friction heat and pile driver blows ... my daily exhibitions would be impossible.

And that's why I am exclusively using the famous Goodyear G3 All-Weathers.

Since the very beginning of automobile racing, no tires have been called upon to withstand such extreme punishment. But those G3's can take it ... not a tire failure so far this season!

And they're strictly stock tires...exactly the same tires the general public buys from Goodyear dealers...whereas tires used in races such as the Memorial Day 500 mile classic and similar events are especially constructed and not sold to or suitable for the general motoring public.

I sincerely congratulate Goodyear upon having developed this really sensational new tire.

You know me,
Barney Oldfield
Barney Oldfield

P.S. Naturally I have equipped the cars driven by Mrs. Oldfield and Betty, my daughter, with G3's.

Safety Record Of E. & A. Tops All Of Central Region

Division Employes Win High Place In President's Own Contest

Employes of the Erie and Ashtabula division of the Pennsylvania railroad lead the entire Central region in President W. W. Atterbury's safety contest for accident prevention, Supt. E. S. Reed announced today.

Results in the safety contest which cover the first six months of 1934 are based on the number of injuries per million man hours worked reported to the Interstate Commerce Commission.

Erie and Ashtabula employes had 2.43 casualties for the first half of 1934.

Maintenance- of-equipment employes on this division worked through the period with not a single reportable accident. Likewise, station employes also had a clean accident record.

To develop a spirit of competition among its employes, with accident prevention at its aim, the Pennsylvania railroad has conducted for the last seven years annual safety contests covering every division and department of the system. President Atterbury who sponsors the safety contests, annually awards trophies to divisions and departments setting the highest safety records. Since those contests started, so intensive has been the drive for observance of safety rules and practices that casualties have shown a steady decline in the number of reportable accidents to employes.

Trapped In Mine For 27 Hours

Miner Tells How It Feels To Be Entombed Far Under Ground

(International News Service)

POTTSVILLE, Pa., Aug. 14.—How does it feel to be entombed in a black coal hole with death almost a certainty?

William Jones, 40, believes he is well qualified to answer that question. Jones was trapped for 27 hours in his bootleg mine by a slide and was hauled to safety by rescue workers at the peril of their own lives. To quote Jones:

"For the most part I visioned my own funeral because I never thought I would be rescued. I was sure I would die down there.

"Everything that has happened in my life passed before me. I lost all sense of time."

Jones said he visioned a crepe on the door at his home, the black hearse and his friends gathered around his bier. He even speculated on which of his friends would act as pallbearers.

SCHOOL OF WHALES ROUTED FISHERMEN

(International News Service)

CHATHAM, Mass.—A fishing party in charge of Captain Charles V. Chase of East Harwich, were given a thrill that they won't forget for some time.

The party was busy baiting hooks about 14 miles northeast of Pollock Rip Lightship when a school of 50 to 60 dolphin whales, racing along at terrific speed, and diving and blowing, came into sight.

Members of the fishing party prevailed upon Captain Chase to leave the scene with the minimum of delay.

Tells Of Sinking First Oil Gusher

Man Who Helped To Drill The Drake Well Now 91 Years Old

(International News Service)

OIL CITY, Pa., Aug. 14.—Those colorful pages of Pennsylvania history when men, elevated to riches by their achievement, tapped mother earth's vast storehouse of "black gold" or petroleum ,were recalled here by Samuel B. Smith, who helped sink the Drake well, as he observed his 91st birthday.

Smith's 91st milestone of life marked the 75th anniversary of the discovery of oil. First to witness the oil spouting from the pipe, Smith, then a boy, ran to his father, "Uncle" Billy Smith, shouting, "we have struck oil!"

That cry touched off the spark which brought thousands of persons to the new-found sources of wealth and marked the uprising of towns, practically overnight, only to become "ghost" villages later when the gushers lessened and the vast stores of oil gradually drained to only a few barrels a day.

Son of a blacksmith, Smith and his brother, James, accompanied their father to Titusville when Drake asked him to make the drilling experiment in the latter half of the nineteenth century. They helped in the operations during the summer of 1859 which culminated in discovery of petroleum through drilling into the oil rock.

EXTRACTED 200 TEETH FROM PATIENT'S MOUTH

KANAS CITY, Mo.—One of the rarest occurrences in dental history was recorded here when a dentist extracted more than 200 teeth from a patient's mouth.

Only one or two other such cases have ever been recorded. The teeth, were all very small, some about the size of a grain of rice. The dentist explained they were the remainder of an embryological formation which did not disappear at birth.

Another unusual angle in the case was the growth of a normal sized tooth about midway in the roof of the patient's mouth. This, too, was extracted, leaving the patient with a normal set of teeth, all of normal size.

Safety Record Of E. & A. Tops All Of Central Region

Division Employes Win High Place In President's Own Contest

Employes of the Erie and Ashtabula division of the Pennsylvania railroad lead the entire Central region in President W. W. Atterbury's safety contest for accident prevention, Supt. E. S. Reed announced today.

Results in the safety contest which cover the first six months of 1934 are based on the number of injuries per million man hours worked reported to the Interstate Commerce Commission.

Erie and Ashtabula employes had 2.43 casualties for the first half of 1934.

Maintenance- of-equipment employes on this division worked through the period with not a single reportable accident. Likewise, station employes also had a clean accident record.

To develop a spirit of competition among its employes, with accident prevention at its aim, the Pennsylvania railroad has conducted for the last seven years annual safety contests covering every division and department of the system. President Atterbury who sponsors the safety contests, annually awards trophies to divisions and departments setting the highest safety records. Since those contests started, so intensive has been the drive for observance of safety rules and practices that casualties have shown a steady decline in the number of reportable accidents to employes.

New Mexico Had First U. S. Schools

Twenty-Five Mission Schools Had Been Established By 1665

(International News Service)

SANTA FE, N. M.—New England, proud center of learning in the United States, does not hold that distinction because of its seniority as the educational center of the country.

The first schools in what now is the United States were founded by Franciscan Fathers who accompanied Spanish exploration parties into the Southwest, then part of the Spanish domain, and most of them were in the present state of New Mexico.

This information is contained in a book issued here in honor of the diamond jubilee of St. Michael's College, founded in 1859.

By 1665 twenty-five mission schools had been established by the Franciscan Fathers, who taught the children of the Spanish explorers and soldiers reading, writing, music and some of the trades. However, Indians of the Southwest, many of whom were being taught to embrace Christianity, comprised the largest groups of students.

An uprising of the Indians against the Spanish in 1680, resulting in overthrow of Spanish domination, brought an end to the educational system until the time of the reconquest in 1692, when the Fathers began to restablish their mission schools.

Education of the Indians was a tedious task which taxed the ingenuity of the Franciscans, according to the book. Each group of Indians spoke its own tongue and the missionaries could learn the language with time and practice alone. It was necessary to give instruction by means of signs and pictures.

Officially, the Southwest was without schools until 1771, when a royal Spanish decree ordered establishment of several for the education of the children of Spain's citizens living in America. However, the growth of education was slow and arduous and in 1832 there were only six public schools and two colleges conducted by priests in New Mexico. They later were closed owing to lack of funds. It was several years before schools again were established that have grown into the present educational system.

FIVE-YEAR-OLD BOY IS MATHEMATICAL WIZARD

(International News Service)

PHILADELPHIA — Although his mathematical calculations astound psychologists of the University of Pennsylvania, 5-year-old Louis Miller's one ambition is to emulate Max Baer.

Louis' mother took her youthful prodigy to the University of Pennsylvania recently where psychologists declared that the boy is "one in 100,000 when it comes to calculation."

The boy's mother afterward admitted, however, that to persuade Louis to go to the university for the test, she was forced to tell him that "Max Baer would be there" and give him a pair of boxing gloves.

Transcontinental Bicycle Racing Days Revived

New record two or three days less than mark of 13½ days set in 1896, when cycle racing was a nationally popular sport, is predicted by F. S. Beedleson, famous one-legged racing rider of Herkimer, N. Y., as outcome of forthcoming transcontinental bicycle championship contest. Mr. Beedleson (pictured in the good old days and today) laid out most of the course (shown at top) used in original races. Some of difficulties of cross country racing are illustrated at left. (Central Press)

Boundary Line Auto Accident Phases Court

(International News Service)

DENVER—The conflicting right-of-way rules of Colorado and the City of Denver caused Municipal Judge Alvin H. Pickens to sidestep a decision on a recent automobile accident case brought before him.

Under the state law, the car first reaching an intersection has the right-of-way. Under city ordinance the automobile at the right has the preference.

Miss Martha McLean collided with Londi Ross, a city fireman, on Sheridan boulevard which forms the boundary between the city and Jefferson county. The court was unable to determine on which side of the street the accident occurred.

On one side of the road, the state law would prevail: on the opposite side, the city ordinance.

"I'm going to let both of you fight out the matter somewhere else if you care to" Judge Pickens said, after hearing the evidence.

STRUCK BY AUTO

SCRANTON, Pa., Aug. 14.—Taylor Dorsey, 45, of Cleveland, Ohio, suffered a possible fracture of the skull today when struck by an automobile here. He was admitted to the State hospital in a critical condition.

Having the kids at home doesn't require much change except another breakfast at 11 a. m.

Corporal Brooks Leads Capture

Corporal Jimmie Brooks of Troop D, state police, who was formerly stationed in this city, but now at Mercer, headed a detail that captured two alleged bank robbers at Sharon yesterday. The men arrested by Brooks were Raymond Bakers and Francis Winters, of Irwin and Turtle Creek, respectively. They were asleep in a relative's home and were armed, but did not offer any resistance. Two other men have been arrested also in connection with the robbery of the Manor, Pa., National bank, Saturday. The robbers got $3,000.

Detroit Tigers Hope To Clinch Flag In Series

Tigers And Yanks Open Important Series Of Games At Yankee Stadium

ROWE AND GOMEZ STARTING HURLERS

By DAVIS J. WALSH
International News Service Sports Editor

NEW YORK, Aug. 14.—For those who like their rhetoric with a sob in every syllable, this could be one of those moving moments that deal with tragedy under the painted smile. But it might be simpler if we thought of it along the general lines of something that had grown a little blousy like a tired, old soubrette or a contralto with maybe too much bosom or even a ball team that was making a last, defiant stand today before age and the inevitable have their way.

The inevitable could be and probably is the Detroit Tigers who, leading the American league race by 4½ games, have come into town for a five-game series with the New York Yankees. There will be upward of 50,000 people there and that must mean something.

Crucial Series

It means, among other things, that fifty thousand people feel that this is the Yankees' great chance and that they'll rise to it like the gallant, old troupers they're supposed to be. However, supposition is something that baseball uses when certainty no longer is possible.

It is supposed, for example, that this series will decide the pennant race. But that's wrong. It probably was decided weeks ago. It's doubtless all due to cigarettes and late hours, but I'm still trying to figure out just how a team is going to lose the pennant to a team that cannot win. This remark will continue in force on Friday night even if the Yankees, by some miracle, win five in a row and take the lead. The fact is they won't.

For one thing, so called crucial series seldom are decided on that basis. For another, the Tigers are too good.

Rowe And Bridges

In one of the games, it will send Mr. "Schoolboy" Rowe after his thirteenth straight. In the other, it will be Tommy Bridges. A pair like that doesn't figure to lose a double header, even with Mr. Lefty Gomez, winner of 19 games, offering a rebuttal for the Yankees. Liberal scoring in advance would probably give the Yankees one game and the Tigers the other. To a club that's backing into second place by 4½ games, there's no great nourishment in that.

As a matter of fundamental fact, local nutriment might be said to be at a comparative standstill, barring the oft-repeated delusion that the Tigers are lucky is a transient guest. I'm visibly impressed by this contention and am therefore quoting the following figures for the purpose of showing that the Tigers are lucky like Henry Ford and the Bank of England.

Are Heavy Hitters

They're the only club in the Major leagues hitting over .300 as a team. They lead both leagues in total hits, runs batted in, runs scored, two base hits and stolen bases. They can send a nine-man batting average into action with a mark of .331, with the following line up: Greenberg, .329; Gehringer, .371; Owen, .339; Cochrane, .327; Goslin, .329; White, .322; Rogell, .313; Walker, .304, and Rowe, .348.

As pitchers, they have Rowe, who has won 16 games; Bridges, who has won 15; Auker who has won 10, and Marberry Sorrell, Hogsett and a few others. Outside of that, everything is all right.

Wilson Loses Decision To Book In Great Mound Battle Monday Night

One of the best played games of the year was staged at the Clifton Flats field last night when Ryantown came through with a 1 to 0 victory in a crucial battle. Book had the better of the mound duel with Wilson of the Flats. Both pitchers allowed but two hits.

Book helped to win his own game in the fifth with a slashing single that drove J. Maher across with the winning run. Jones and Widson had the only two hits allowed by Book. Davies had a single for Ryantown. Book fanned four men and Wilson whiffed five.

Ryantown will play the Rose Point team tonight at the Ryantown field at 5:30 o'clock. The Rose Poinst are battling hard for second place in the National league and hope to take the measure of the Ryantowns.

Croton Merchants Extend Win Streak

With Snow in the box, the Croton Merchants extended their winning streak last evening by downing the Second U. P. team at Smith Field by a score of 13-11. In addition to pitching a good game, Snow came up with four hits, including a triple to lead the slugging for both teams.

After amassing a total of ten runs in the first three innings, the Croton boys eased up and the United Presbyterians took a new lease on life, tying the score in the ninth. Croton scored two runs to win out in their half of the inning, however.

Perry, Quigley, and Crisci also hit well for the Merchants, while Hanna, Micco, and Eckles were best for the United Presbyterians.

News Golfers Stage Tourney

Annual Championship Match Played At Field Club Monday Evening

SECOND ROUND TO BE PLAYED LATER

No one ever heard of a Pulitzer prize for newspapermen golfers, but the news sleuths and employes of The News had just as good a time playing for the championship title and the annual award sponsored by Manager Jacob F. Rentz at the Field Club Monday evening.

It was a battle for blood, and while some of the boys didn't shoot just as good golf as they might have, there was as much determination and effort put forth as if the national title was at stake.

When the final additions had been made it was found that Charles E. Allen, the defending champion, was low with a 46, while Leonard Kisthart, ad. chaser, was second with 48. Fred Scheppele, also of the advertising department, took third honors with 51.

In order not to embarass some of the other good golfers, their scores will not be mentioned.

There are several nice tricky holes at the Field Club, and some of the boys who, it was figured, would be among the low scorers, found where they were during their tour of the first nine. The result was that they were out of the running in no time.

Several newcomers were initiated into the mysteries of the ancient and royal game last evening, including Ed. Fritz, who knows far more about boxing and other sports than golf, but is proving an apt pupil; and Clarence "Red" Davis, the genial foreman of the composing room. Fred Robuck, the Ellwood City columnist, failed to appear, or the result might have been different.

Bart Richards, who was sadly out of practice, having not played since the tournament last year, was a little sour in spots, but managed to make a splendid finish by holing a 30-foot putt.

Manager Rentz has promised the boys another evening of the same kind of fun in about another week, and a battle of similar proportions is looked for.

Cunninghams Top Merchants 6 To 3

Cunningham A. C. softball team handed the East Side Merchants a 6 to 3 upset last night at Gaston Park field in a National League battle. The Cunninghams, by winning the game, crept closer to the Rads in first place.

Dickson held the Merchants to five hits. He fanned three men. Gresham held the Cunninghams to seven hits and fanned two batters. Heavy hitting was done by Summers, S. Teplica, Harris, Henderson and Thomas.

Score by innings: R. H. E.
E. S. Mer. ... 010 000 110— 3 5 4
Cunninghams 200 010 30x— 6 7 2

Batteries: Cunninghams, Dickson and Small. Merchants, Gresham and Shaftic.

E. S. Merchants Play Cascades

East Side Merchants will battle the Cascades at the E. & O. field in a National softball league game on Wednesday evening at 6 o'clock. The game will be a part of the big St. Vitus bazaar celebration. Both teams have played some interesting games this year. The umpires will be Conti, P. Ross and D. Augostine.

SANDLOT JIBJABS

RICHFIELD MIDGETS WIN

Richfield Midgets softball team won their 31st victory of the season at the Carnegie Field by taking the measure of the Polish N. A. Midgets 19 to 10, with Isaac and Pascarella featuring.

JAMES A. C. TO PLAY

James A. C. will play the fast Colonial A. C. tonight at the George Washington Junior High Field at 6 o'clock. The James A. C. has won 14 straight games and hope to make it 15 tonight.

CROTON-SHENANGO TIE

Croton All-Stars and the Shenango Pottery played a tie softball game at 9-9 last night, at the Croton Field. The game was halted in the tenth by darkness. Bartlett and Vincent were the opposing pitchers and allowed 12 hits apiece. "Irv" Rubeis and Pascarella had three hits apiece, while Fiorelli had two triples.

RUSSOS TOP RENNERS

Russos softball team handed the Renners a 9 to 3 defeat last night at Dean Park Field with J. Bosco hurling a fine five-hit game. He fanned five men. Pezzone was found for 10 hits and he whiffed three batters. Zona, Audino, Cherby, Gescue and Cozza had the hitting honors sewed up.

WANT GAMES

Y. M. C. C. mushball team of the Seventh Ward which was recently organized, would like to schedule games with teams in the National and American league. For games call 9277 and ask for Willie Domenic.

Detroit Tigers Hope To Clinch Flag In Series

Tigers And Yanks Open Important Series Of Games At Yankee Stadium

By DAVIS J. WALSH
International News Service Sports Editor

NEW YORK, Aug. 14.—For those who like their rhetoric with a sob in every syllable, this could be one of those moving moments that deal with tragedy under the painted smile. But it might be simpler if we thought of it along the general lines of something that had grown a little blousy like a tired, old soubrette or a contralto with maybe too much bosom or even a ball team that was making a last, defiant stand today before age and the inevitable have their way.

The inevitable could be and probably is the Detroit Tigers who, leading the American league race by 4½ games, have come into town for a five-game series with the New York Yankees. There will be upward of 50,000 people there and that must mean something.

Crucial Series

It means, among other things, that fifty thousand people feel that this is the Yankees' great chance and that they'll rise to it like the gallant, old troupers they're supposed to be. However, supposition is something that baseball uses when certainty no longer is possible.

It is supposed, for example, that this series will decide the pennant race. But that's wrong. It probably was decided weeks ago. It's doubtless all due to cigaretes and late hours, but I'm still trying to figure out just how a team is going to lose the pennant to a team that cannot win. This remark will continue in force on Friday night even if the Yankees, by some miracle, win five in a row and take the lead. The fact is they won't.

For one thing, so called crucial series seldom are decided on that basis. For another, the Tigers are too good.

Rowe And Bridges

In one of the games, it will send Mr. "Schoolboy" Rowe after his thirteenth straight. In the other, it will be Tommy Bridges. A pair like that doesn't figure to lose a double header, even with Mr. Lefty Gomez, winner of 19 games, offering a rebuttal for the Yankees. Liberal scoring in advance would probably give the Yankees one game and the Tigers the other. To a club that's backing into second place by 4½ games, there's no great nourishment in that.

As a matter of fundamental fact, local nutriment might be said to be at a comparative standstill, barring the oft-repeated delusion that the Tigers are lucky is a transient guest. I'm visibly impressed by this contention and am therefore quoting the following figures for the purpose of showing that the Tigers are lucky like Henry Ford and the Bank of England.

Are Heavy Hitters

They're the only club in the Major leagues hitting over .300 as a team. They lead both leagues in total hits, runs batted in, runs scored, two base hits and stolen bases. They can send a nine-man batting average into action with a mark of .331, with the following line up: Greenberg, .329; Gehringer, .371; Owen, .339.. Cochrane, .327; Goslin, .329; White, .322; Rogell, .313; Walker, .304, and Rowe, .348.

As pitchers, they have Rowe, who has won 16 games; Bridges, who has won 15; Auker who has won 10, and Marberry Sorrell, Hogsett and a few others. Outside of that, everything is all right.

Ryantown Tops Clifton Flats

Wilson Loses Decision To Book In Great Mound Battle Monday Night

One of the best played games of the year was staged at the Clifton Flats field last night when Ryantown came through with a 1 to 0 victory in a crucial battle. Book had the better of the mound duel with Wilson of the Flats. Both pitchers allowed but two hits.

Book helped to win his own game in the fifth with a slashing single that drove J. Maher across with the winning run. Jones and Widson had the only two hits allowed by Book. Davies had a single for Ryantown. Book fanned four men and Wilson whiffed five.

Ryantown will play the Rose Point team tonight at the Ryantown field at 5:30 o'clock. The Rose Poinst are battling hard for second place in the National league and hope to take the measure of the Ryantowns.

Croton Merchants Extend Win Streak

With Snow in the box, the Croton Merchants extended their winning streak last evening by downing the Second U. P. team at Smith Field by a score of 13-11. In addition to pitching a good game, Snow came up with four hits, including a triple to lead the slugging for both teams.

After amassing a total of ten runs in the first three innings, the Croton boys eased up and the United Presbyterians took a new lease on life, tying the score in the ninth. Croton scored two runs to win out in their half of the inning, however.

Perry, Quigley, and Crisci also hit well for the Merchants, while Hanna, Micco, and Eckles were best for the United Presbyterians.

News Golfers Stage Tourney

Annual Championship Match Played At Field Club Monday Evening

SECOND ROUND TO BE PLAYED LATER

No one ever heard of a Pulitzer prize for newspapermen golfers, but the news sleuths and employes of The News had just as good a time playing for the championship title and the annual award sponsored by Manager Jacob F. Rentz at the Field Club Monday evening.

It was a battle for blood, and while some of the boys didn't shoot just as good golf as they might have, there was as much determination and effort put forth as if the national title was at stake.

When the final additions had been made it was found that Charles E. Allen, the defending champion, was low with a 46, while Leonard Kisthart, ad. chaser, was second with 48. Fred Scheppele, also of the advertising department, took third honors with 51.

In order not to embarass some of the other good golfers, their scores will not be mentioned.

There are several nice tricky holes at the Field Club, and some of the boys who, it was figured, would be among the low scorers, found where they were during their tour of the first nine. The result was that they were out of the running in no time.

Several newcomers were initiated into the mysteries of the ancient and royal game last evening, including Ed. Fritz, who knows far more about boxing and other sports than golf, but is proving an apt pupil; and Clarence "Red" Davis, the genial foreman of the composing room. Fred Robuck, the Ellwood City columnist, failed to appear, or the result might have been different.

Bart Richards, who was sadly out of practice, having not played since the tournament last year, was a little sour in spots, but managed to make a splendid finish by holing a 30-foot putt.

Manager Rentz has promised the boys another evening of the same kind of fun in about another week, and a battle of similar proportions is looked for.

Cunninghams Top Merchants 6 To 3

Cunningham A. C. softball team handed the East Side Merchants a 6 to 3 upset last night at Gaston Park field in a National League battle. The Cunninghams, by winning the game, crept closer to the Rads in first place.

Dickson held the Merchants to five hits. He fanned three men. Gresham held the Cunninghams to seven hits and fanned two batters. Heavy hitting was done by Summers, S. Teplica, Harris, Henderson and Thomas.

Score by innings: R. H. E.
E. S. Mer. ... 010 000 110— 3 5 4
Cunninghams 200 010 30x— 6 7 2

Batteries: Cunninghams, Dickson and Small. Merchants, Gresham and Shaftic.

E. S. Merchants Play Cascades

East Side Merchants will battle the Cascades at the B. & O. field in a National softball league game on Wednesday evening at 6 o'clock. The game will be a part of the big St. Vitus bazaar celebration. Both teams have played some interesting games this year. The umpires will be Conti, P. Ross and D. Augostine.

CROTON-SHENANGO TIE

Croton All-Stars and the Shenango Pottery played a tie softball game at 9-9 last night, at the Croton Field. The game was halted in the tenth by darkness. Bartlett and Vincent were the opposing pitchers and allowed 12 hits apiece. "Irv" Rubeis and Pascarella had three hits apiece, while Fiorelli had two triples.

RUSSOS TOP RENNERS

Russos softball team handed the Renners a 9 to 3 defeat last night at Dean Park Field with J. Bosco hurling a fine five-hit game. He fanned five men. Pezzone was found for 10 hits and he whiffed three batters. Zona, Audino, Cherby, Gescue and Cozza had the hitting honors sewed up.

THE SPORT PATROL

By JOHN J. MAHER, JR.

MADE-OVER STARS

Not all the baseball stars began their careers at the positions where they later became famous. Some of them failed at their original post, others were forced by injuries to seek a new position, while a third group, which includes such players as Babe Ruth and Bill Terry, changed their jobs because they proved to be more proficient in their new places.

The most remarkable change in baseball was the one which altered Babe Ruth from a great southpaw pitcher into the greatest diamond idol in history as an outfilder and home-run king. Babe pitched a half dozen years at Boston before devoting full time to the outfield.

Lefty O'Doul tried for eight years to be a southpaw pitcher. He spent four years in the majors as such with the Yanks and Redsox. When arm trouble developed, instead of retiring as many would have done, the "O'Doodle" started all over again as an outfielder. So in 1924 at 27 years of age Lefty began his outfield career which reached the climax in 1932 when he led the National league in batting as a member of the Brooklyn Dodgers.

Cleveland tried for four years to make an infielder out of Riggs Stephenson but finally gave up hopes. Too many thumbs, said the experts. However, in 1925 Riggs became an outfielder and has since been very valuable as a left fielder for the Cubs.

Bob Smith and Red Lucas are examples of unsuccessful infielders who made the grade as pitchers. Smith spent four years as an infielder before giving it up as a bad job. Lucas tried the outfield as well as the infield before deciding that his profession was pitching.

Can you imagine little Oscar Melillo or massive Shanty Hogan in the outfield? Yet that is the way both started their careers. It only took Hogan one season to learn that it was easier to crouch his 225 pounds behind the plate, but Oscar played four seasons in the outfield.

Bill Terry, Giant manager, wasn't always a first baseman. Back in 1915 Terry was a pitcher of more than ordinary promise. In 1917 he tried the outfield but did not give up pitching entirely until 1923.

Babe Herman used to amuse the fans by trying to play first base. But Babe couldn't play a position where there were impediments to trip over so after six years he became a right fielder. There are no bags out there to stumble over and Babe has more time to decide where the ball is going to light.

Dale Alexander started his career as an outfielder as did Pepper Martin. Dick Porter spent most of his eight summers at Baltimore as an infielder but was made an outfielder exclusively when Cleveland bought him. Old Sam Rice started out to be a pitcher and as such he reported to Washington in 1915.

Some players have had successful careers while roaming from one position to another. Lew Fonseca, George Grantham and Harvey Hendrick have played all spots in both the infield and outfield. Fonseca and Grantham played a dozen years in the majors while Hendrick is in his eleventh season and still going.

Mark Koenig didn't have much success as a pitcher but has played every infield position satisfactorily. His career could hardly be called unsuccessful. Jimmy Dykes has batted .281 over 16 years as an infield handy-andy. Frisch and Lazzeri are names familiar to every baseball fan. Neither of these stars have been able to call second, short or third their permanent home.

LOCAL TALENT IN FOREIGN FIELDS

HAROLD "HAD" HAID—Pitcher, Oakland, Pacific Coast league.

July 27, lost to Portland, 4-3. Allowed 11 hits in 7 and 1-3 innings.

August 1, lost to Seattle, 6-1. Allowed 7 hits in 4 innings.

MIKE DIFFLEY—Catcher, Beckley, Middle Atlantic league.

July 28 to August 3, played in 4 games, at bat 12 times, 3 hits, batted in 3 runs.

Backward Tourney For League Golfers

Unusual Event Will Take Place At Muny Course Thursday Evening

Thursday evening the New Castle Golf league players will stage an unusual event when they will play a backward tournament.

In this contest all holes will be played backwards, and some interesting hazards will be presented that the boys have never noticed on the course before, Manager Fleming states.

There will be various other contests during the evening and the committee in charge is planning to make it one of the most interesting events yet staged.

There will be a lunch in the club house at the conclusion of play.

HERE AND THERE IN SPORTS' LAND

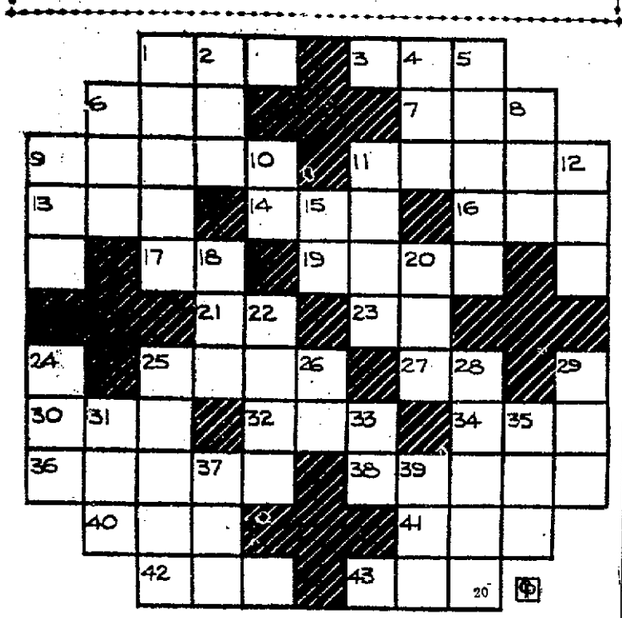

Eddie Zivic scored his consecutive victory via a technical knockout when he made Frankie Marchese, a New Yorker, quit in the seventh round at Millvale last night. Marchese failed to come up for the seventh as the result of jabs and right crosses.

Farrell Boosters club will stage a number of bouts tonight at Farrell, and among them will be a scrap between Custy Morini and Billy Suce. This ought to be one of the nicest bouts that has been staged among amateurs in this section in years. Fans who like amateurs should take it in. In the next show to be staged in this section the police of Beaver Falls will hold a benefit bout August 23 for Providence hospital. Tony Adamo of this city, and several other amateur boxers of this vicinity will appear. The Farrell show will be held in the high school stadium, likewise the Beaver Falls events.

Bud Saltis of Chicago dropped a 10-round decision to Teddy Yarosz middleweight title contender, last night at East Liverpool. In the semi-final, Charley Burns of Johnstown and Len Sheppard, Cleveland, fought an eight-round draw.

In some ways the world seems to be growing worse, but think how long since you have seen a bustle.

Cleveland tried for four years to make an infielder out of Riggs Stephenson but finally gave up hopes. Too many thumbs, said the experts. However, in 1925 Riggs became an outfielder and has since been very valuable as a left fielder for the Cubs.

Bob Smith and Red Lucas are examples of unsuccessful infielders who made the grade as pitchers. Smith spent four years as an infielder before giving it up as a bad job. Lucas tried the outfield as well as the infield before deciding that his profession was pitching.

Can you imagine little Oscar Melillo or massive Shanty Hogan in the outfield? Yet that is the way both started their careers. It only took Hogan one season to learn that it was easier to crouch his 225 pounds behind the plate, but Oscar played four seasons in the outfield.

Bill Terry, Giant manager, wasn't always a first baseman. Back in 1915 Terry was a pitcher of more than ordinary promise. In 1917 he tried the outfield but did not give up pitching entirely until 1923.

Babe Herman used to amuse the fans by trying to play first base. But Babe couldn't play a position where there were impediments to trip over so after six years he became a right fielder. There are no bags out there to stumble over and Babe has more time to decide where the ball is going to light.

Dale Alexander started his career as an outfielder as did Pepper Martin. Dick Porter spent most of his eight summers at Baltimore as an infielder but was made an outfielder exclusively when Cleveland bought him. Old Sam Rice started out to be a pitcher and as such he reported to Washington in 1915.

Some players have had successful careers while roaming from one position to another. Lew Fonseca, George Grantham and Harvey Hendrick have played all spots in both the infield and outfield. Fonseca and Grantham played a dozen years in the majors while Hendrick is in his eleventh season and still going.

Mark Koenig didn't have much success as a pitcher but has played every infield position satisfactorily. His career could hardly be called unsuccessful. Jimmy Dykes has batted .281 over 16 years as an infield handy-andy. Frisch and Lazzeri are names familiar to every baseball fan. Neither of these stars have been able to call second, short or third their permanent home.

Backward Tourney For League Golfers

Unusual Event Will Take Place At Muny Course Thursday Evening

Thursday evening the New Castle Golf league players will stage an unusual event when they will play a backward tournament.

In this contest all holes will be played backwards, and some interesting hazards will be presented that the boys have never noticed on the course before, Manager Fleming states.

There will be various other contests during the evening and the committee in charge is planning to make it one of the most interesting events yet staged.

There will be a lunch in the club house at the conclusion of play.

HERE AND THERE IN SPORTS' LAND

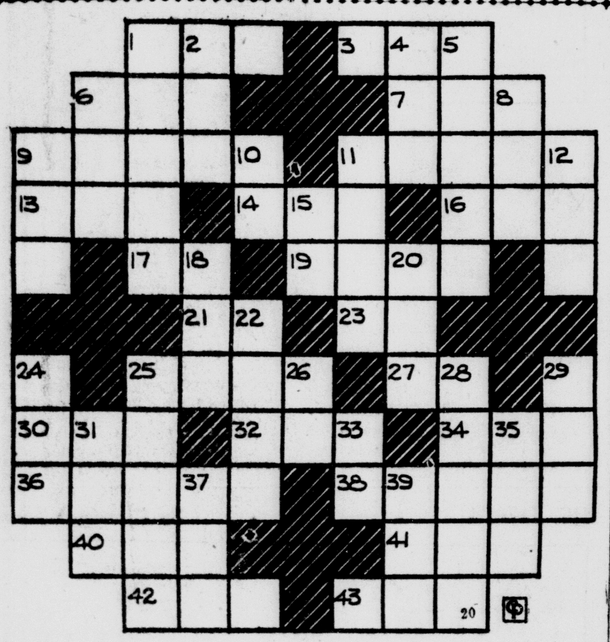

Eddie Zivic scored his consecutive victory via a technical knockout when he made Frankie Marchese, a New Yorker, quit in the seventh round at Millvale last night. Marchese failed to come up for the seventh as the result of jabs and right crosses.

Farrell Boosters club will stage a number of bouts tonight at Farrell, and among them will be a scrap between Custy Morini and Billy Suce. This ought to be one of the nicest bouts that has been staged among amateurs in this section in years. Fans who like amateurs should take it in. In the next show to be staged in this section the police of Beaver Falls will hold a benefit bout August 23 for Providence hospital. Tony Adamo of this city, and several other amateur boxers of this vicinity will appear. The Farrell show will be held in the high school stadium, likewise the Beaver Falls events.

Bud Saltis of Chicago dropped a 10-round decision to Teddy Yarosz middleweight title contender, last night at East Liverpool. In the semi-final, Charley Burns of Johnstown and Len Sheppard, Cleveland, fought an eight-round draw.

In some ways the world seems to be growing worse, but think how long since you have seen a bustle.

Safety Record Of E. & A. Tops All Of Central Region

Division Employes Win High Place In President's Own Contest

Employes of the Erie and Ashtabula division of the Pennsylvania railroad lead the entire Central region in President W. W. Atterbury's safety contest for accident prevention, Supt. E. S. Reed announced today.

Results in the safety contest which cover the first six months of 1934 are based on the number of injuries per million man hours worked reported to the Interstate Commerce Commission.

Erie and Ashtabula employes had 2.43 casualties for the first half of 1934.

Maintenance of equipment employes on this division worked through the period with not a single reportable accident. Likewise, station employes also had a clean accident record.

To develop a spirit of competition among its employes, with accident prevention at its aim, the Pennsylvania railroad has conducted for the last seven years annual safety contests covering every division and department of the system. President Atterbury who sponsors the safety contests, annually awards trophies to divisions and departments setting the highest safety records. Since those contests started, so intensive has been the drive for observance of safety rules and practices that casualties have shown a steady decline in the number of reportable accidents to employes.

Trapped In Mine For 27 Hours

Miner Tells How It Feels To Be Entombed Far Under Ground

(International News Service)

POTTSVILLE, Pa., Aug. 14.—How does it feel to be entombed in a black coal hole with death almost a certainty?

William Jones, 40, believes he is well qualified to answer that question. Jones was trapped for 27 hours in his bootleg mine by a slide and was hauled to safety by rescue workers at the peril of their own lives. To quote Jones:

"For the most part I visioned my own funeral because I never thought I would be rescued. I was sure I would die down there.

"Everything that has happened in my life passed before me. I lost all sense of time."

Jones said he visioned a crepe on the door at his home, the black hearse and his friends gathered around his bier. He even speculated on which of his friends would act as pallbearers.

SCHOOL OF WHALES ROUTED FISHERMEN

(International News Service)

CHATHAM, Mass.—A fishing party in charge of Captain Charles V. Chase of East Harwich, were given a thrill that they won't forget for some time.

The party was busy baiting hooks about 14 miles northeast of Pollock Rip Lightship when a school of 50 to 60 dolphin whales, racing along at terrific speed, and diving and blowing, came into sight.

Members of the fishing party prevailed upon Captain Chase to leave the scene with the minimum of delay.

Man Who Helped To Drill The Drake Well Now 91 Years Old

(International News Service)

OIL CITY, Pa., Aug. 14.—Those colorful pages of Pennsylvania history when men, elevated to riches by their achievement, tapped mother earth's vast storehouse of "black gold" or petroleum ,were recalled here by Samuel B. Smith, who helped sink the Drake well, as he observed his 91st birthday.

Smith's 91st milestone of life marked the 75th anniversary of the discovery of oil. First to witness the oil spouting from the pipe, Smith, then a boy, ran to his father, "Uncle" Billy Smith, shouting, "we have struck oil!"

That cry touched off the spark which brought thousands of persons to the new-found sources of wealth and marked the uprising of towns, practically overnight, only to become "ghost" villages later when the gushers lessened and the vast stores of oil gradually drained to only a few barrels a day.

Son of a blacksmith, Smith and his brother, James, accompanied their father to Titusville when Drake asked him to make the drilling experiment in the latter half of the nineteenth century. They helped in the operations during the summer of 1859 which culminated in discovery of petroleum through drilling into the oil rock.

EXTRACTED 200 TEETH FROM PATIENT'S MOUTH

KANAS CITY, Mo.—One of the rarest occurrences in dental history was recorded here when a dentist extracted more than 200 teeth from a patient's mouth.

Only one or two other such cases have ever been recorded. The teeth, were all very small, some about the size of a grain of rice. The dentist explained they were the remainder of an embryological formation which did not disappear at birth.

Another unusual angle in the case was the growth of a normal sized tooth about midway in the roof of the patient's mouth. This, too, was extracted, leaving the patient with a normal set of teeth, all of normal size.

Moral courage: The feeling of security when you haven't done anything that anybody could tell on you.

HERE'S A NEW KIND OF WOMAN CHAMPION

(International News Service)

YOUNGSVILLE, Pa., Aug. 14—"Keeping up with the Jonses" husbands may be all right in some cases, but don't let wife try to keep up with this Jones family.

Mrs. J. F. Jones here has just been declared champion hurler of rolling pins in this section in a contest on skill in hammering the head of a "dummy" husband.

Merchants-Slovaks Will Play Tonight

New Castle Merchants will play the Slovaks tonight at the Clifton Flats field in an American league Independent battle. The Merchants are in first place and need a victory tonight to cinch the second half of the league season. The game will start at 5:30 o'clock.

The Merchants handed the Slovaks a defeat the last time the two teams met. Kirol or Badurik will throw them up for the Slovaks with Gibson or Lasky ready to pitch for the Merchants.

Audia All-Stars To Play Farrell

Audia All-Stars will play the Farrell Colored All-Stars at the B. & O. Saturday afternoon. Tippy Richards will manage the Audias and Tex Richards will captain the team on the field.

The Audias lost to the Sharon Jacks, but hope to take the measure of the Farrells. The Farrells have a pitcher reputed to be the best softball pitcher in western Pennsylvania. He throws a real cannonball. A large crowd will be present at the game, is the indication.

Indies Managers Meet Wednesday

An important meeting of the managers of the various teams in the Independent Baseball league will be held at the "Y" at 8 o'clock Wednesday evening. This meeting is for all managers, even those who had teams in the league at the start of the season.

Plans for a league banquet at the end of the year will be talked over. Arrangements will be made for the championship playoffs. It is imperative that all managers attend this meeting.

Merchants-Slovaks Will Play Tonight

New Castle Merchants will play the Slovaks tonight at the Clifton Flats field in an American league Independent battle. The Merchants are in first place and need a victory tonight to cinch the second half of the league season. The game will start at 5:30 o'clock.

The Merchants handed the Slovaks a defeat the last time the two teams met. Kirol or Badurik will throw them up for the Slovaks with Gibson or Lasky ready to pitch for the Merchants.

Audia All-Stars will play the Farrell Colored All-Stars at the B. & O. Saturday afternoon. Tippy Richards will manage the Audias and Tex Richards will captain the team on the field.

Detroit Tigers Hope To Clinch Flag In Series

Tigers And Yanks Open Important Series Of Games At Yankee Stadium

By DAVIS J. WALSH
International News Service Sports Editor

NEW YORK, Aug. 14.—For those who like their rhetoric with a sob in every syllable, this could be one of those moving moments that deal with tragedy under the painted smile. But it might be simpler if we thought of it along the general lines of something that had grown a little blousy like a tired, old soubrette or a contralto with maybe too much bosom or even a ball team that was making a last, defiant stand today before age and the inevitable have their way.

The inevitable could be and probably is the Detroit Tigers who, leading the American league race by 4½ games, have come into town for a five-game series with the New York Yankees. There will be upward of 50,000 people there and that must mean something.

Crucial Series

It means, among other things, that fifty thousand people feel that this is the Yankees' great chance and that they'll rise to it like the gallant, old troupers they're supposed to be. However, supposition is something that baseball uses when certainty no longer is possible.

It is supposed, for example, that this series will decide the pennant race. But that's wrong. It probably was decided weeks ago. It's doubtless all due to cigarettes and late hours, but I'm still trying to figure out just how a team is going to lose the pennant to a team that cannot win. This remark will continue in force on Friday night even if the Yankees, by some miracle, win five in a row and take the lead. The fact is they won't.

For one thing, so called crucial series seldom are decided on that basis. For another, the Tigers are too good.

Rowe And Bridges

In one of the games, it will send Mr. "Schoolboy" Rowe after his thirteenth straight. In the other, it will be Tommy Bridges. A pair like that doesn't figure to lose a double header, even with Mr. Lefty Gomez, winner of 19 games, offering a rebuttal for the Yankees. Liberal scoring in advance would probably give the Yankees one game and the Tigers the other. To a club that's backing into second place by 4½ games, there's no great nourishment in that.

As a matter of fundamental fact, local nutriment might be said to be at a comparative standstill, barring the oft-repeated delusion that the Tigers are lucky is a transient guest. I'm visibly impressed by this contention and am therefore quoting the following figures for the purpose of showing that the Tigers are lucky like Henry Ford and the Bank of England.

Are Heavy Hitters

They're the only club in the Major leagues hitting over .300 as a team. They lead both leagues in total hits, runs batted in, runs scored, two base hits and stolen bases. They can send a nine-man batting average into action with a mark of .331, with the following line up: Greenberg, .329; Gehringer, .371; Owen, .339.. Cochrane, .327; Goslin, .329; White, .322; Rogell, .313; Walker, .304, and Rowe, .348.

As pitchers, they have Rowe, who has won 16 games; Bridges, who has won 15; Auker who has won 10, and Marberry Sorrell, Hogsett and a few others. Outside of that, everything is all right.

Wilson Loses Decision To Book In Great Mound Battle Monday Night

One of the best played games of the year was staged at the Clifton Flats field last night when Ryantown came through with a 1 to 0 victory in a crucial battle. Book had the better of the mound duel with Wilson of the Flats. Both pitchers allowed but two hits.

Book helped to win his own game in the fifth with a slashing single that drove J. Maher across with the winning run. Jones and Widson had the only two hits allowed by Book. Davies had a single for Ryantown. Book fanned four men and Wilson whiffed five.

Ryantown will play the Rose Point team tonight at the Ryantown field at 5:30 o'clock. The Rose Poinst are battling hard for second place in the National league and hope to take the measure of the Ryantowns.

Croton Merchants Extend Win Streak

With Snow in the box, the Croton Merchants extended their winning streak last evening by downing the Second U. P. team at Smith Field by a score of 13-11. In addition to pitching a good game, Snow came up with four hits, including a triple to lead the slugging for both teams.

After amassing a total of ten runs in the first three innings, the Croton boys eased up and the United Presbyterians took a new lease on life, tying the score in the ninth. Croton scored two runs to win out in their half of the inning, however.

Perry, Quigley, and Crisci also hit well for the Merchants, while Hanna, Micco, and Eckles were best for the United Presbyterians.

News Golfers Stage Tourney

Annual Championship Match Played At Field Club Monday Evening

SECOND ROUND TO BE PLAYED LATER

No one ever heard of a Pulitzer prize for newspapermen golfers, but the news sleuths and employes of The News had just as good a time playing for the championship title and the annual award sponsored by Manager Jacob F. Rentz at the Field Club Monday evening.

It was a battle for blood, and while some of the boys didn't shoot just as good golf as they might have, there was as much determination and effort put forth as if the national title was at stake.

When the final additions had been made it was found that Charles E. Allen, the defending champion, was low with a 46, while Leonard Kisthart, ad. chaser, was second with 48. Fred Scheppele, also of the advertising department, took third honors with 51.

In order not to embarass some of the other good golfers, their scores will not be mentioned.

There are several nice tricky holes at the Field Club, and some of the boys who, it was figured, would be among the low scorers, found where they were during their tour of the first nine. The result was that they were out of the running in no time.

Several newcomers were initiated into the mysteries of the ancient and royal game last evening, including Ed. Fritz, who knows far more about boxing and other sports than golf, but is proving an apt pupil; and Clarence "Red" Davis, the genial foreman of the composing room. Fred Robuck, the Ellwood City columnist, failed to appear, or the result might have been different.

Bart Richards, who was sadly out of practice, having not played since the tournament last year, was a little sour in spots, but managed to make a splendid finish by holing a 30-foot putt.

Manager Rentz has promised the boys another evening of the same kind of fun in about another week, and a battle of similar proportions is looked for.

Cunninghams Top Merchants 6 To 3

Cunningham A. C. softball team handed the East Side Merchants a 6 to 3 upset last night at Gaston Park field in a National League battle. The Cunninghams, by winning the game, crept closer to the Rads in first place.

Dickson held the Merchants to five hits. He fanned three men. Gresham held the Cunninghams to seven hits and fanned two batters. Heavy hitting was done by Summers, S. Teplica, Harris, Henderson and Thomas.

Score by innings:

				R.	H.	E.
E. S. Mer.	010	000	110	3	5	4
Cunninghams	200	010	30x	6	7	2

MOTOR SHARES RETAIN LEVEL

(International News Service)

NEW YORK, Aug. 14.—Stocks moved irregularly lower in light trading today.

United States Steel was under some pressure again today reflecting the poor operations report made by the American Iron & Steel Institute yesterday. Bethlehem and other steel shares were easier.

Silver shares met with some profit taking as United States Smelting dipped about 2 points. Howe Sound, American Smelting and the other mining shares eased in sympathy.

Commodity markets were mixed. Wheat and the other grains continued their uptrend with gains running to a cent a bushel. Cotton however, was sold in moderate volume for a loss of about 50 cents a bushel.

The bond market was generally firm and the dollar was comparatively steady in dull dealings on the local foreign exchange market.

American Telephone after giving a good demonstration of strength yesterday ran into some selling today losing nearly a point. Other utility shares were quiet and firm.

Motor stocks including General Motors and Chrysler did little holding around their previous closing levels. Chemicals, aviations, liquors and specialties moved in unison with the rest of the list.

MADE-OVER STARS

Not all the baseball stars began their careers at the positions where they later became famous. Some of them failed at their original post, others were forced by injuries to seek a new position, while a third group, which includes such players as Babe Ruth and Bill Terry, changed their jobs because they proved to be more proficient in their new places.

The most remarkable change in baseball was the one which altered Babe Ruth from a great southpaw pitcher into the greatest diamond idol in history as an outfilder and home-run king. Babe pitched a half dozen years at Boston before devoting full time to the outfield.

Lefty O'Doul tried for eight years to be a southpaw pitcher. He spent four years in the majors as such with the Yanks and Redsox. When arm trouble developed, instead of retiring as many would have done, the "O'Doodle" started all over again as an outfielder. So in 1924 at 27 years of age Lefty began his outfield career which reached the climax in 1932 when he led the National league in batting as a member of the Brooklyn Dodgers.

Cleveland tried for four years to make an infielder out of Riggs Stephenson but finally gave up hopes. Too many thumbs, said the experts. However, in 1925 Riggs became an outfielder and has since been very valuable as a left fielder for the Cubs.

Bob Smith and Red Lucas are examples of unsuccessful infielders who made the grade as pitchers. Smith spent four years as an infielder before giving it up as a bad job. Lucas tried the outfield as well as the infield before deciding that his profession was pitching.

Can you imagine little Oscar Melillo or massive Shanty Hogan in the outfield? Yet that is the way both started their careers. It only took Hogan one season to learn that it was easier to crouch his 225 pounds behind the plate, but Oscar played four seasons in the outfield.

Bill Terry, Giant manager, wasn't always a first baseman. Back in 1915 Terry was a pitcher of more than ordinary promise. In 1917 he tried the outfield but did not give up pitching entirely until 1923.

Babe Herman used to amuse the fans by trying to play first base. But Babe couldn't play a position where there were impediments to trip over so after six years he became a right fielder. There are no bags out there to stumble over and Babe has more time to decide where the ball is going to light.

Dale Alexander started his career as an outfielder as did Pepper Martin. Dick Porter spent most of his eight summers at Baltimore as an infielder but was made an outfielder exclusively when Cleveland bought him. Old Sam Rice started out to be a pitcher and as such he reported to Washington in 1915.

Some players have had successful careers while roaming from one position to another. Lew Fonseca, George Grantham and Harvey Hendrick have played all spots in both the infield and outfield. Fonseca and Grantham played a dozen years in the majors while Hendrick is in his eleventh season and still going.

Mark Koenig didn't have much success as a pitcher but has played every infield position satisfactorily. His career could hardly be called unsuccessful. Jimmy Dykes has batted .281 over 16 years as an infield handy-andy. Frisch and Lazzeri are names familiar to every baseball fan. Neither of these stars have been able to call second, short or third their permanent home.

LOCAL TALENT IN FOREIGN FIELDS

August 1, lost to Seattle, 6-1. Allowed 7 hits in 4 innings.

Backward Tourney For League Golfers

Unusual Event Will Take Place At Muny Course Thursday Evening

Thursday evening the New Castle Golf league players will stage an unusual event when they will play a backward tournament.

In this contest all holes will be played backwards, and some interesting hazards will be presented that the boys have never noticed on the course before, Manager Fleming states.

There will be various other contests during the evening and the committee in charge is planning to make it one of the most interesting events yet staged.

There will be a lunch in the club house at the conclusion of play.

HERE AND THERE IN SPORTS' LAND

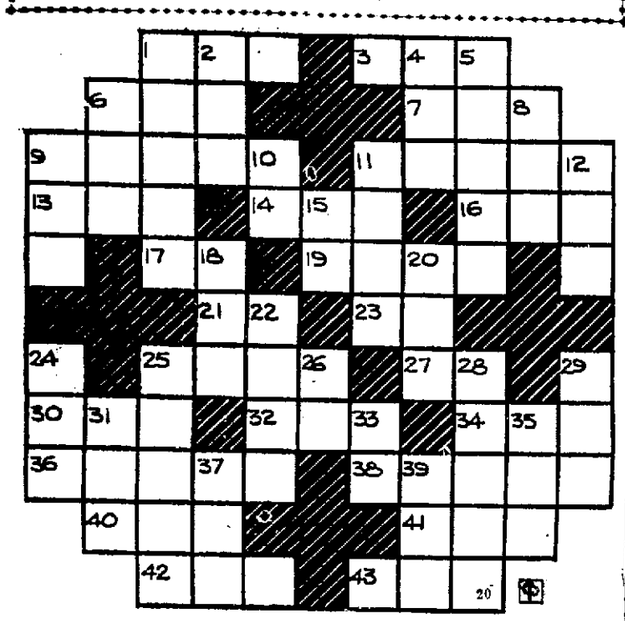

Eddie Zivic scored his consecutive victory via a technical knockout when he made Frankie Marchese, a New Yorker, quit in the seventh round at Millvale last night. Marchese failed to come up for the seventh as the result of jabs and right crosses.

Farrell Boosters club will stage a number of bouts tonight at Farrell, and among them will be a scrap between Custy Morini and Billy Suce. This ought to be one of the nicest bouts that has been staged among amateurs in this section in years. Fans who like amateurs should take it in. In the next show to be staged in this section the police of Beaver Falls will hold a benefit bout August 23 for Providence hospital. Tony Adamo of this city, and several other amateur boxers of this vicinity will appear. The Farrell show will be held in the high school stadium, likewise the Beaver Falls events.

Bud Saltis of Chicago dropped a 10-round decision to Teddy Yarosz middleweight title contender, last night at East Liverpool. In the semi-final, Charley Burns of Johnstown and Len Sheppard, Cleveland, fought an eight-round draw.

In some ways the world seems to be growing worse, but think how long since you have seen a bustle.

Tree Choppers Whet Axes For Annual Contest

Will Fell Red Maples Ten Inches In Diameter

(International News Service)

SPRINGFIELD, Mass. — Ringing blows of woodsmen's axes wielded in a woodchopping contest to determine the champion wood chopper of New England will resound at the Eastern States Exposition on September 20.

Already dates for state contests have been set by Conecticut, New Hampshire and Massachusetts. Winners in these states and in Rhode Island, Vermont and Maine will match their chopping skill at the exposition.

Contestants will be called upon to fell a red maple, 10 inches in diameter and to complete two upper cuts. Each man will be allowed to use his own axe, with no restrictions as to its weight. Elapsed time in making the three cuts will determine all winners, but if a tie results, cleanliness of the cuts will be a contributing factor.

The New England championship was won last year by William Dubay of Beacon Falls, Conn., in two minutes and 14 seconds.

Gold, silver and bronze medals for the champion, runner-up and third place winner will be awarded along with cash awards and other prizes.

BUSINESS BOOMS IN BIRMINGHAM AS STRIFE ENDS

(International News Service)

BIRMINGHAM, Ala.—The Birmingham industrial area, whose steel and iron activities were disturbed by bitter labor disputes in past weeks, has begun to take on a more normal appearance as the result of recent railroad orders

The Pullman Car and Manufacturing company, closed for two years, will resume operations for at least several months as the result of an order for 900 cars. Seven hundred double-sheathed box cars will go to the Seaboard Air Line railroad, while 200-70-ton steel hoppers will go to the Central of Georgia road.

The activity will be reflected in the giant Tennessee Coal Iron and Railroad company, which will furnish the steel. Additional men will go to work in both plants, with preference being given to former employes.

Downtown business has felt the industrial stimulus. Department stores report a smart upturn in retail sales, and one of the larger movie theatres declares that it is making a profit for the first time since its construction several years ago.

Fossil Remains Of Unknown Mammoths

(International News Service)

GREYBULL, Wyo.—Fossil remains of two gigantic sauropods of a heretofore unknown species are soon to be shipped to New York city by the exploring party sent out by the American Museum of Natural History to excavate the Wyoming paleontological discoveries near here.

Dr. Barnum Brown, head of the expedition, said that about 30,000 pounds of sandstone would be sent with the bones, as they are very fragile and the work of removing them cannot be completed in the field.

NO PICNIC PARTIES ALLOWED IN CHURCH

(International News Service)

LONDON—Persons wishing to go on picnics will, in the future, have to look for camping spots other than the pews of St. Paul's Cathedral, according to an edict issued by church authorities.

"We have in the past been turning a 'blind eye' to many abuses," a cathedral verger declared. "The other day I found a man in a pew reading a newspaper and smoking a pipe, and when I remonstrated at such action in a house of worship he replied that he had only come in to get out of the rain."

By action of the chapter, however, use of the cathedral for anything but devotions will be prohibited in the future.

Drives Intoxicated; Car Crashes Another

Rigby Man Pleads Today To Intoxicated Charge Before Alderman

Pleading guilty to a charge of driving his car while intoxicated, Raymond W. Rohr, Prospect street, Rigby, today was held for court by Alderman Wallace J. Ewing. He gave bail of $500 and was released pending disposition of his case in court.

Chief of Detective Willis G. McMullen placed the charge against him after his coupe crashed into another car driven by Edward Budzowski, 1618 Moravia street, at the intersection of North Liberty street and Swansea avenue at 9:15 last night. Occupants of the cars escaped injury.

When the contest got underway, 50 young men and women competed. Eight have survived the process of elimination. Some one will leave the park tonight, with a beautiful $25 silver loving cup, which is being presented by B. J. Biondi, manager of the pavilion.

Because of the interest which was displayed last year, by the contestants as well as the residents of the city, Mr. Biondi decided to repeat the contest.

EVEN JUDGE FAILED IN BARBER TEST

(International News Service)

WORCESTER, Mass.—Salvatore Fiorello's defense on a charge of barbering without a license was that he had failed to get one because he did not know why hair turns gray how many layers of skin a man has and how much blood the skin will hold.

Judge Frank L. Riley admitted ignorance of the answers except that a man's hair turns gray because of hard work, but Salvatore was ready for that. He pointed out a young man and said 'there's a young man in court who doesn't work at all and his hair is white."

So Judge Riley continued the case until after the next barber examinations.

Four Persons Get Castor Oil

Three new customers and one other man who has been in police court several times recently on charges of intoxication received their castor oil today from Mayor Mayne. The mayor promised another man a dose should he return to the city jail on a charge of drunkenness. Practically all the "regulars" of a year ago are either missing from the city, have quit drinking or have obtained jobs.

J. M. Judge, 515 North Cedar street, reported to police today that he was driving his automobile toward the Seventh ward on Montgomery avenue extension and that a Pitzer Bros. truck, operating in the direction of Pittsburgh, collided with his car. No one was hurt.

In another report, Paulino Czerkas, East Chicago, was driving west on Mahoning avenue and claims he stopped for the stop sign. He claims he started across the street and his auto was struck by another machine with damage to his car.

Merchants-Slovaks Will Play Tonight

New Castle Merchants will play the Slovaks tonight at the Clifton Flats field in an American league Independent battle. The Merchants are in first place and need a victory tonight to clinch the second half of the league season. The game will start at 5:30 o'clock.

The Merchants handed the Slovaks a defeat the last time the two teams met. Kirel or Badurik will throw them up for the Slovaks with Gibson or Lasky ready to pitch for the Merchants.

Audia All-Stars To Play Farrell

Audia All-Stars will play the Farrell Colored All-Stars at the B. & O. Saturday afternoon. Tippy Richards will manage the Audias and Tex Richards will captain the team on the field.

The Audias lost to the Sharon Jacks, but hope to take the measure of the Farrells. The Farrells have a pitcher reputed to be the best softball pitcher in western Pennsylvania. He throws a real cannonball. A large crowd will be present at the game, is the indication.

Indies Managers Meet Wednesday

An important meeting of the managers of the various teams in the Independent Baseball league will be held at the "Y" at 8 o'clock Wednesday evening. This meeting is for all managers, even those who had teams in the league at the start of the season.

Plans for a league banquet at the end of the year will be talked over. Arrangements will be made for the championship playoffs. It is imperative that all managers attend this meeting.

Stock Market Is Irregular

Market Moves Lower In Light Trading Today; Silver Shares Dip

MOTOR SHARES RETAIN LEVEL

(International News Service)

NEW YORK, Aug. 14.—Stocks moved irregularly lower in light trading today.

United States Steel was under some pressure again today reflecting the poor operations report made by the American Iron & Steel Institute yesterday. Bethlehem and other steel shares were easier.

Silver shares met with some profit taking as United States Smelting dipped about 2 points. Howe Sound, American Smelting and the other mining shares eased in sympathy.

Commodity markets were mixed. Wheat and the other grains continued their uptrend with gains running to a cent a bushel. Cotton however, was sold in moderate volume for a loss of about 50 cents a bushel.

The bond market was generally firm and the dollar was comparatively steady in dull dealings on the local foreign exchange market.

American Telephone after giving a good demonstration of strength yesterday ran into some selling today losing nearly a point. Other utility shares were quiet and firm.

Motor stocks including General Motors and Chrysler did little holding around their previous closing levels. Chemicals, aviations, liquors and specialties moved in unison with the rest of the list.

Tree Choppers Whet Axes For Annual Contest

Will Fell Red Maples Ten Inches In Diameter

(International News Service)

SPRINGFIELD, Mass. — Ringing blows of woodsmen's axes wielded in a woodchopping contest to determine the champion wood chopper of New England will resound at the Eastern States Exposition on September 20.

Already dates for state contests have been set by Conecticut, New Hampshire and Massachusetts. Winners in these states and in Rhode Island, Vermont and Maine will match their chopping skill at the exposition.

Contestants will be called upon to fell a red maple, 10 inches in diameter and to complete two upper cuts. Each man will be allowed to use his own axe, with no restrictions as to its weight. Elapsed time in making the three cuts will determine all winners, but if a tie results, cleanliness of the cuts will be a contributing factor.

The New England championship was won last year by William Dubay of Beacon Falls, Conn., in two minutes and 14 seconds.

Gold, silver and bronze medals for the champion, runner-up and third place winner will be awarded along with cash awards and other prizes.

BUSINESS BOOMS IN BIRMINGHAM AS STRIFE ENDS

(International News Service)

BIRMINGHAM, Ala.—The Birmingham industrial area, whose steel and iron activities were disturbed by bitter labor disputes in past weeks, has begun to take on a more normal appearance as the result of recent railroad orders

The Pullman Car and Manufacturing company, closed for two years, will resume operations for at least several months as the result of an order for 900 cars. Seven hundred double-sheathed box cars will go to the Seaboard Air Line railroad, while 200-70-ton steel hoppers will go to the Central of Georgia road.

The activity will be reflected in the giant Tennessee Coal Iron and Railroad company, which will furnish the steel. Additional men will go to work in both plants, with preference being given to former employes.

Downtown business has felt the industrial stimulus. Department stores report a smart upturn in retail sales, and one of the larger movie theatres declares that it is making a profit for the first time since its construction several years ago.

NO PICNIC PARTIES ALLOWED IN CHURCH

(International News Service)

LONDON—Persons wishing to go on picnics will, in the future, have to look for camping spots other than the pews of St. Paul's Cathedral, according to an edict issued by church authorities.

"We have in the past been turning a 'blind eye' to many abuses," a cathedral verger declared. "The other day I found a man in a pew reading a newspaper and smoking a pipe, and when I remonstrated at such action in a house of worship he replied that he had only come in to get out of the rain."

By action of the chapter, however, use of the cathedral for anything but devotions will be prohibited in the future.

EVEN JUDGE FAILED IN BARBER TEST

(International News Service)

WORCESTER, Mass.—Salvatore Fiorello's defense on a charge of barbering without a license was that he had failed to get one because he did not know why hair turns gray how many layers of skin a man has and how much blood the skin will hold.

Judge Frank L. Riley admitted ignorance of the answers except that a man's hair turns gray because of hard work, but Salvatore was ready for that. He pointed out a young man and said "there's a young man in court who doesn't work at all and his hair is white."

So Judge Riley continued the case until after the next barber examinations.
